HIS FRIENDS ARE ANXIOUS

Fletcher Massey, of Sunnyside, Has Been Missing For Ten Days.

By His Wife, But Failed to Reveal Any Trace of Him Since He Left.

ABSENCE UNEXPLAINABLE

It has been ten days since the family and friends have seen or heard from Fletcher Massey, and his wife has became very anxious and greatly alarmed at his continued absence.

Mr. Massey left his home on Sunnyside one week ago last Monday, and has as completely disappeared as though the earth had swallowed him up.

Massey was of a quiet disposition, and not given to talking; therefore it was not thought strange that he would leave his home without explaining where he intended to go.

The family, however, believed he was on his way to work, and gave the matter no further consideration until evening. He did not return to supper; still the wife was not alarmed, as he had often been detained before. Mr. Massey did not return that night, nor the next, and his whereabouts at present is a mystery.

Mrs. Massey is a very level headed woman, and without mentioning the occurence, began making inquiry at the shop where her husband is employed as a dishmaker, and among his more intimate friends. Not a single clue could be found that would throw light upon the sudden and mysterious disappearance. The lady grew alarmed at last and caused a thorough investigation to be made, but nothing has came of it. Mr. Massey is one of the best known potters in this section, having worked at the dishmaking trade since he was a small boy. He is a man of exemplary habits, and was a steady and efficient workman.

The friends of Mr. Massey are at a loss to account for his strange actions. They are loath to believe that he has met with foul play, and still they can find no other way to account for his continued absence. His family relations were of the most pleasant nature and his wife is almost heartbroken. They have one child. The police have been asked to aid in the search.

UNHAPPILY WEDDED

Deserted Leetonia Wife Seeks Divorce and Salem Woman Wants Alimony.

Lisbon, Aug. 20.—(Special)—Mrs. Annie H. McCloskey, of Leetonia, has applied for a divorce from James McCloskey, and custody of her two minor children. She also asks alimony. The couple were married in Pittsburg seven years ago, and the wife charges neglect and non-support ever since. For three years she has been dependant upon the care of friends, although her husband is able to support her.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bilger asks for alimony from Ephraim Bilger. They were married at Salem seven years ago and resided there till last month when she says her husband deserted her and has since sent word that he will neither live with her nor support her. Bilger went to Youngstown and is now in the employ of the Union Ice company, receiving $15 a week. She represented to Judge Hole that the company was indebted to her husband, and a restraining order was issued yesterday to prevent the company paying him money until the suit is disposed of.

Winters will pitch for East Liverpool on Friday and Maley on Saturday.

HIS SHARE OF TROUBLE

A Young Man Who Was Kicked By a Horse Gets Badly Scalded By Water.

James McFadden, residing with his parents on lower Walnut street, is having considerably more than his share of hard luck. Last week he was kicked by a horse belonging to John Rinehart. The animal struck over the dash board, and inflicted a bad wound upon McFadden's right leg below the knee. This morning, while preparing boiling water to bathe the leg, he accidentaly spilled a quantity upon his left hand scalding it badly. The wound was hastily dressed, and though the skin was burned off the hand, the young man is not expected to suffer any lasting injury.

NEW OFFICERS

The Lisbon Railroad Is to Have Officials Like Other Railroads.

Lisbon, O., Aug. 20.—(Special)— A change in the management of the Pittsburg, Lisbon and Western railroad office was announced today to take effect September 1st.

Officers of traffic manager and superintendent are created, K. E. Barringer, the former auditor, has been elected to the former office and R. W. Billingsly, son of Judge N. B. Billingsly, to the latter. W. B. Johnson was made auditor in charge of the accounting department. Mr. Johnson has been station agent.

LOCAL OPTION FIGHT

Anti-Saloon League Proposes to Wage a Strenuous Campaign.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—The Anti-Saloon league will soon begin a systematic local campaign. It is proposed to hold elections under the Beal law in 45 municipalities, with populations ranging from 5,000 to 15,000. The usual Sunday services will be held in the churches and outdoor meetings will be held on week days.

The best speakers of the league will be sent out to prosecute the campaign. The league is planning to carry its present crusade into the smaller towns first, after which the larger cities will be taken up.

Assignee Gives Bond.

Lisbon, Aug. 20—(Special)—F. E. Mackall, assignee of Ford & Son, of East Liverpool, filed bond as assignee for $1800. M. L. Otterman, A. H. Bulger and Chas. Morgan are appraisers.

YOUNG LAWYER AND OLD JUDGE

ACTED FOR THE MINERS

And Finds Excuse for the Actions of the Venerable Jurist — Marquet Mines at New Cumberland Sold to a Syndicate.

Attorney Robert L. Ramsey was here from New Cumberland yesterday, where he came on business connected with the settlement of the estate of Margaret Fox, of this city.

Attorney Ramsey was associated with a Wheeling lawyer in defending the employes of the Marquet mines at New Cumberland and other mines in West Virginia against the alleged unjust injunction granted by Judge Jackson, of the United States circuit court of West Virginia. Mr. Ramsey has been actively engaged in behalf of the miners ever since the strike at Marquet collieries was instituted, and his good work in their behalf has been appreciated throughout the entire West Virginia coal district.

The attorney is a young man, having graduated from the law department of the West Virginia university at Morgantown two years ago. He was admitted to the West Virginia bar a short time later, and though young in experience has conducted successful suits not only in other county courts in the state, but before the higher tribunal in West Virginia.

Attorney Ramsey felt an interest in the cause of the laboring people, and was a willing champion of their side of the case from the time he was first permitted to practice within the state. This feeling was but natural, since he had arisen from a humble station himself, and felt, as he says, that their interests were his own. Respecting the celebrated Jackson injunction Mr. Ramsey says:

"At the time the notice was served we were not aware that a petition had been made, and though there was not sufficient time to prepare an answer before the order became effective, we took steps to make a formal request that we be allowed to do so.

"You have never seen Judge Jackson, I take it. Well, you have no idea what my feelings were, then, when I appeared before his majesty with my humble request. He frowned upon me, wandering perhaps what boy was attempting to practice in his court. He informed us there would be no change in the proceedings, as they had been outlined in the injunction. Mind you, we had not at that time, been furnished with a copy of the bill, and knew nothing whatever of its contents. The judge said we would have until September 30 to prepare an answer, and at that time, unless we showed clearly there was no cause for the complaint, the injunction would be made permanent. We have the documents prepared, but I doubt if it will be necessary to present them, since things have transpired recently which will have the effect of making the court's order imperative."

During the past few days the Marquet interests have been disposed of to a Cleveland coal company, which is to take charge of the mines today. Stewart Bros., of Pittsburg, held an option on them, but it was allowed to lapse. Mr. Ramsey said further:

"There are several reasons why Judge Jackson's actions are excusable. In the first place, his sphere has been small, and few if any questions have been brought before him for settlement that involved interests outside the state. When you take this into consideration and couple with it the knowledge that he has been on the bench for over 40 years, some excuse can be found for his peculiar attitude. Judge Jackson was elevated to his present position by Abraham Lincoln, and has grown old in the service. He is now past 70."

AN INCORRIGIBLE

From East Liverpool Who is Booked For the Delaware Girls' Home.

Lisbon, Aug. 20—(Special)—Ethel McMillen, aged 12, an incorrigible, from East Liverpool, was brought into probate court today by her grandfather. An effort will be made to send her to the girls' industrial school at Delaware.

FUSION IDEA IS NOT POPULAR

THE BURNING QUESTION

Is Whether There Shall Be a Labor Candidate for Congress Placed in the Field—Lively Discussion of the Proposition Expected.

Trades Council will meet in regular session this evening, and it is likely the attendance will be large, as several matters of extraordinary importance will be up for consideration.

The one question which is just now agitating the minds of the local working people is the move started in Stark county to place a labor candidate in the field for congress in the Eighteenth district.

The proposition from Stark county asking for representatives to be selected to represent the workers of this section in a convention to be held at Alliance Saturday, has received a great deal of consideration here. Several of the local unions have already discussed the question and when it is brought up in the council tonight, there will be many who have posted themselves sufficiertly to talk intelligently upon the subject.

There are a large number who are opposed to any fusion idea, and say if there is to be a labor candidate let him be from that element, selected by them and no trimmings. It is understood that the Democrats propose to place a labor man on their ticket, and while there is nothing the working people can do to prevent this, they cannot but feel that it is a scheme to induce the workers to support that ticket.

The membership of the local labor organizations is made up of men of all political beliefs, and while many might not have any hesitancy in supporting an out-and-out labor candidate, the majority of them are strictly opposed to fusing with any of the old parties.

The question, if it is brought up at the meeting tonight, is bound to call forth great discussion, and there will doubtless be many differences of opinion as to the proper course to pursue.

WITH A MILLMAN

The Daughter of a Wealthy Merchant Eloped From Niles And Married.

Niles, August 20.—A startling elopement case was reported in this city yesterday, the principals being Miss Annette Bowden, the daughter of a wealthy shoe merchant, and Charlie White, a mill worker. Saturday evening, when Miss Bowden's folks were away from home, she hastily collected some of her clothes and jumped in a buggy which White had waiting. The couple drove to Youngstown, where they were made man and wife.

The parents of both parties objected to the match, and recently the girl's parents sent her to college, hoping the match would be broken off.

A GIFT FOR CAREY

East Liverpool Admirers Have a Handsome Present for the Ball Player.

George Carey, who has been playing first base for the Washington American league team, and who during a recent game accidentally broke one of the small bones of his right wrist, will be with the team in Cleveland next week. A number of the friends of Carey will go to Cleveland to visit him. He will be presented an imported pitcher, representing the face of an old German, and handsomely decorated. The handle is finished in gold, and is one of the best clay novelties that has been seen in this city for many months.

COMING STATE FAIR

Will Open First Week in September And Last Five Days.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—The state board of agriculture has completed most of the arrangements for the state fair which will be held in this city the first week in September. The attraction will last five days and will probably be largely attended if reports received from over the state are any criterion. On Woman's day women and girls will be admitted free of charge. The railroads grant low rates while the fair lasts. The fair lasted two weeks last year, and was a success in every way save financially. No more such experiments will be repeated.

The superintendents of the several departments will report for duty on August 28. Exhibits will be received on and after that time, but everything must be in place for public inspection on the opening day, September 1. The buildings will be decorated elaborately.

STREET CAR FENDERS

EAST LIVERPOOL LINE REPORTED ABOUT TO ADOPT THEM.

A Device Made By Home Talent Pronounced a Successful Life-Saver.

It is probable that the management of the East Liverpool Railway company will order fenders placed on all cars. The matter is now being given a trial and has proved a success in every particular. The idea of placing fenders on the cars has been considered for many months, and instead of ordering several sample fenders, plans were drawn by Supt. Thompson, of the United Power company, and the first fender was made by Engineer Paxter, of the power house.

The fender was completed a day or two ago, and was placed on summer car No. 39. The fender is pronounced a life saver in every particular, and this is all that is required. The fender is an automatic arrangement, so constructed that by even the least touch of the hand it drops from its suspended position to the track, and nothing can get under it. It is reported very tedious to make, but when the fact that it is a successful life saver is taken into consideration, it is surely worth the while to make.

PRAYED FOR DANCERS

UNUSUAL SCENE AT ROCK SPRINGS PAVILION.

Mrs. Logan Asked for the Salvation of the Merry-Makers.

Those who attended the dance at Rock Springs park last night were treated to something out of the ordinary program, for during the evening a Mrs. Logan walked out on the dance floor and there offered a prayer to the Lord for the salvation of the dancers. While this was being done extreme quiet prevailed, but after the woman completed her self-imposed task the dance continued.

Mrs. Logan is said to reside near the Grant street school, and to be a member of the Free Methodist church.

NOT A CANDIDATE

General Dick Reported Not to Be in the Race for the Governorship.

Columbus, August 20.—"General Charles Dick will not be a candidate for governor next year," said Representative Seese, "and what is more I believe that Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, of Columbus, will be the nominee of the party."

Representative Cain, of Noble county, not only agrees with his colelague, Mr. Seese, in both statements made, but goes further and says positively that negotiations are now on looking to Mr. Daugerty's nomination. What is more Mr. Cain believes that these negotiations will be successful.

In a recent conversation Eli M. West, who is one of the prominent Foraker leaders at the state capital, also made the predictions that Mr. Daugherty would be a candidate of the party for governor next year.

ABUSED HIS MOTHER

An Unfaithful Son at Lisbon Fell Into the Hands of the Sheriff.

Fireproofing Factories Busy.

Lisbon, August 20.—The United State Fireproofing Corporation is putting many men to work in Columbiana county, where it has three large factories. The fireproofing and conduit works at Coleman, near Lisbon, were put in operation a few days ago and are running full handed. Officials state that another large factory will soon be constructed in this vicinity.

THE RAILROAD MAY BE SUED

Alleged Breach of Contract With the P. H. C. For the Excursion Today.

The Company at the Last Moment Reported Itself Unable to Supply More Than 12 of the 24 Coaches Promised.

About 900 excursionists left the city this morning for Cascade Park and perhaps 250 were unable to make the trip because there were no tickets nor accommodations for them.

When the arrangements were being made by the local officials of the Protected Home Circle, 18 cars were ordered. Pennsylvania railway men asserted at the time they would not require so many, but took the order. A few days later it was found that even 18 would not accommodate the crowds who had applied for tickets, and J. K. Dillon, passenger agent, was summoned to the city. Arrangements were made for 24 coaches, and not until yesterday afternoon were the local men informed they could not have the desired number of coaches. This was a sore disappointment to the officers of the organization, since everything pointed to an excellent patronage for the outing.

The word received from the railroad authorities was to the effect that only 12 coaches could be provided, and that meant only about half the number who desired to go could be accommodated.

It is said this is not the first time the same trouble has been experienced with the railroad company, and it is attributed to the fact that the owners of Cascade Park have a fight on with the Pennsylvania, and they do not work in harmony.

It is argued by the officers of the local lodge, however, that this has nothing to do with their excursion, and they propose to enter suit and make an effort to recover damages. They think since they put up a substantial guarantee to make the railroad people safe, they should have had the benefit of all fares that could be secured. It may be that the railroad people will make good the difference between what they were able to handle and those who desired to go.

TROLLEY LINE INSPECTOR

Legislature May Be Asked to Take Up Question of Such an Officer.

Columbus, August 20.—The special session of the legislature may be asked to take up the question of the creation of the office of "state inspector of electric railways."

The building of many electric traction lines throughout the state, has raised the question whether it will not be wise for the state of Ohio to regulate these traction lines, their operation, etc., in a manner similar to the regulation of the steam roads in Ohio.

Behind the movement to have such an office created are the officials of the interurban roads which enter Columbus, and, almost to a unit, they are in favor of placing proper restrictions upon their various roads for the benefit of the public. Not that the roads are being operated in a manner which is not satisfactory to the patrons, but to prevent employes from becoming careless and endangering the lives and health of their passengers.

The state of Massachusetts has such an officer, and it is said the interurban and electric roads in Massachusetts cities are first-class in every respect, and the safety of passengers is closely looked after.

Goes to the Infirmary.

Lisbon, Aug. 20—(Special)—Miss Jessie Wallace, who was taken ill while in the county jail Sunday, has grown steadily worse. Her condition is serious. She has pneumonia. She was taken to the infirmary today. Her arrest resulted in a sentence to the Cleveland workhouse.

Nothing Doing Today.

Business in Mayor Davidson's court this morning was nothing but a blank. No arrests were made last night, and none were put in jail this morning. It has been some days since matters have been so quiet as at City Hall this morning.

YOUNG LAWYER AND OLD JUDGE

Attorney R. S. Ramsey Tells of His First Experience With Justice Jackson.

ACTED FOR THE MINERS

And Finds Excuse for the Actions of the Venerable Jurist — Marquet Mines at New Cumberland Sold to a Syndicate.

Attorney Robert L. Ramsey was here from New Cumberland yesterday, where he came on business connected with the settlement of the estate of Margaret Fox, of this city.

During the past few days the Marquet interests have been disposed of to a Cleveland coal company, which is to take charge of the mines today. Stewart Bros., of Pittsburg, held an option on them, but it was allowed to lapse. Mr. Ramsey said further:

"There are several reasons why Judge Jackson's actions are excusable. In the first place, his sphere has been small, and few if any questions have been brought before him for settlement that involved interests outside the state. When you take this into consideration and couple with it the knowledge that he has been on the bench for over 40 years, some excuse can be found for his peculiar attitude. Judge Jackson was elevated to his present position by Abraham Lincoln, and has grown old in the service. He is now past 80."

FUSION IDEA IS NOT POPULAR

THE BURNING QUESTION

Is Whether There Shall Be a Labor Candidate for Congress Placed in the Field—Lively Discussion of the Proposition Expected.

Trades Council will meet in regular session this evening, and it is likely the attendance will be large, as several matters of extraordinary import ance will be up for consideration.

The one question which is just now agitating the minds of the local working people is the move started in Stark county to place a labor candidate in the field for congress in the Eighteenth district.

The proposition from Stark county asking for representatives to be selected to represent the workers of this section in a convention to be held at Alliance Saturday, has received a great deal of consideration here. Several of the local unions have already discussed the question and when it is brought up in the council tonight, there will be many who have posted themselves sufficiently to talk intelligently upon the subject.

There are a large number who are opposed to any fusion idea, and say if there is to be a labor candidate let him be from that element, selected by them and no trimmings. It is understood that the Democrats propose to place a labor man on their ticket, and while there is nothing the working people can do to prevent this, they cannot but feel that it is a scheme to induce the workers to support that ticket.

The membership of the local labor organizations is made up of men of all political beliefs, and while many might not have any hesitancy in supporting an out-and-out labor candidate, the majority of them are strictly opposed to fusing with any of the old parties.

The question, if it is brought up at the meeting tonight, is bound to call forth great discussion, and there will doubtless be many differences of opinion as to the proper course to pursue.

WITH A MILLMAN

The Daughter of a Wealthy Merchant Eloped From Niles And Married.

Niles, August 20.—A startling elopement case was reported in this city yesterday, the principals being Miss Annette Bowden, the daughter of a wealthy shoe merchant, and Charlie White, a mill worker. Saturday evening, when Miss Bowden's folks were away from home, she hastily collected some of her clothes and jumped in a buggy which White had waiting. The couple drove to Youngstown, where they were made man and wife.

A GIFT FOR CAREY

East Liverpool Admirers Have a Handsome Present for the Ball Player.

George Carey, who has been playing first base for the Washington American league team, and who during a recent game accidentally broke one of the small bones of his right wrist, will be with the team in Cleveland next week. A number of the friends of Carey will go to Cleveland to visit him. He will be presented an imported pitcher, representing the face of an old German, and handsomely decorated. The handle is finished in gold, and is one of the best clay novelties that has been seen in this city for many months.

COMING STATE FAIR

Will Open First Week in September And Last Five Days.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—The state board of agriculture has completed most of the arrangements for the state fair which will be held in this city the first week in September. The attraction will last five days and will probably be largely attended if reports received from over the state are any criterion. On Woman's day women and girls will be admitted free of charge. The railroads grant low rates while the fair lasts. The fair lasted two weeks last year, and was a success in every way save financially. No more such experiments will be repeated.

The superintendents of the several departments will report for duty on August 28. Exhibits will be received on and after that time, but everything must be in place for public inspection on the opening day, September 1. The buildings will be decorated elaborately.

STREET CAR FENDERS

A Device Made By Home Talent Pronounced a Successful Life-Saver.

It is probable that the management of the East Liverpool railway company will order fenders placed on all cars. The matter is now being given a trial and has proved a success in every particular. The idea of placing fenders on the cars has been considered for many months, and instead of ordering several sample fenders, plans were drawn by Supt. Thompson, of the United Power company, and the first fender was made by Engineer Paxter, of the power house.

The fender was completed a day or two ago, and was placed on summer car No. 39. The fender is pronounced a life saver in every particular, and this is all that is required. The fender is an automatic arrangement, so constructed that by even the least touch of the hand it drops from its suspended position to the track, and nothing can get under it. It is reported very tedious to make, but when the fact that it is a successful life saver is taken into consideration, it is surely worth the while to make.

PRAYED FOR DANCERS

UNUSUAL SCENE AT ROCK SPRINGS PAVILION.

Mrs. Logan Asked for the Salvation of the Merry-Makers.

Those who attended the dance at Rock Springs park last night were treated to something out of the ordinary program, for during the evening a Mrs. Logan walked out on the dance floor and there offered a prayer to the Lord for the salvation of the dancers. While this was being done extreme quiet prevailed, but after the woman completed her self-imposed task the dance continued.

Mrs. Logan is said to reside near the Grant street school, and to be a member of the Free Methodist church.

NOT A CANDIDATE

General Dick Reported Not to Be in the Race for the Governorship.

Columbus, August 20.—"General Charles Dick will not be a candidate for governor next year," said Representative Seese, "and what is more I believe that Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, of Columbus, will be the nominee of the party."

Representative Cain, of Noble county, not only agrees with his colelague, Mr. Seese, in both statements made, but goes further and says positively that negotiations are now on looking to Mr. Daugerty's nomination. What is more Mr. Cain believes that these negotiations will be successful.

ABUSED HIS MOTHER

An Unfaithful Son at Lisbon Fell Into the Hands of the Sheriff.

Fireproofing Factories Busy.

Lisbon, August 20.—The United State Fireproofing Corporation is putting many men to work in Columbiana county, where it has three large factories. The fireproofing and conduit works at Coleman, near Lisbon, were put in operation a few days ago and are running full handed. Officials state that another large factory will soon be constructed in this vicinity.

THE RAILROAD MAY BE SUED

Alleged Breach of Contract With the P. H. C. For the Excursion Today.

The Company at the Last Moment Reported Itself Unable to Supply More Than 12 of the 24 Coaches Promised.

About 900 excursionists left the city this morning for Cascade Park and perhaps 250 were unable to make the trip because there were no tickets nor accommodations for them.

When the arrangements were being made by the local officials of the Protected Home Circle, 18 cars were ordered. Pennsylvania railway men asserted at the time they would not require so many, but took the order. A few days later it was found that even 18 would not accommodate the crowds who had applied for tickets, and J. K. Dillon, passenger agent, was summoned to the city. Arrangements were made for 24 coaches, and not until yesterday afternoon were the local men informed they could not have the desired number of coaches. This was a sore disappointment to the officers of the organization, since everything pointed to an excellent patronage for the outing.

The word received from the railroad authorities was to the effect that only 12 coaches could be provided, and that meant only about half the number who desired to go could be accommodated.

It is said this is not the first time the same trouble has been experienced with the railroad company, and it is attributed to the fact that the owners of Cascade Park have a fight on with the Pennsylvania, and they do not work in harmony.

It is argued by the officers of the local lodge, however, that this has nothing to do with their excursion, and they propose to enter suit and make an effort to recover damages. They think since they put up a substantial guarantee to make the railroad people safe, they should have had the benefit of all fares that could be secured. It may be that the railroad people will make good the difference between what they were able to handle and those who desired to go.

TROLLEY LINE INSPECTOR

Legislature May Be Asked to Take Up Question of Such an Officer.

Columbus, August 20.—The special session of the legislature may be asked to take up the question of the creation of the office of "state inspector of electric railways."

The building of many electric traction lines throughout the state, has raised the question whether it will not be wise for the state of Ohio to regulate these traction lines, their operation, etc., in a manner similar to the regulation of the steam roads in Ohio.

Behind the movement to have such an office created are the officials of the interurban roads which enter Columbus, and, almost to a unit, they are in favor of placing proper restrictions upon their various roads for the benefit of the public. Not that the roads are being operated in a manner which is not satisfactory to the patrons, but to prevent employes from becoming careless and endangering the lives and health of their passengers.

The state of Massachusetts has such an officer, and it is said the interurban and electric roads in Massachusetts cities are first-class in every respect, and the safety of passengers is closely looked after.

Goes to the Infirmary.

Lisbon, Aug. 20—(Special)—Miss Jessie Wallace, who was taken ill while in the county jail Sunday, has grown steadily worse. Her condition is serious. She has pneumonia. She was taken to the infirmary today. Her arrest resulted in a sentence to the Cleveland workhouse.

Nothing Doing Today.

Business in Mayor Davidson's court this morning was nothing but a blank. No arrests were made last night, and none were put in jail this morning. It has been some days since matters have been so quiet as at City Hall this morning.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

NEWS FROM WHEELING

All the employes of the Riverside pottery have returned to work, and both men and firm are feeling good over the settlement of the short strike. The old clay carrier has been put back to work, doing chores for the men, and the firm has placed a clay carrier in the shop, whom it pays. This is operating the shop on the uniform scale recently signed by the firm and adopted at a convention of manufacturing potters making sanitary ware at Trenton a few months ago.

Within the past few days two new men have been added to the pressers' shop. They are John Connors, making No. washouts, and Frank Birch, who is making toppers and traps. They are both former employes of the shop at Tiffin.

Pete Gollner came to the Riverside shop a few days ago from East Liverpool, but will remain here but a few days. He states that he is going to Camden, N. J., where he has secured employment in the sanitary shop in that town.

Everything is moving along smoothly at the LaBelle and Wheeling potteries. The jiggermen at these shops are having all the work they can handle, and the outlook for a long run is very bright.

SCOTT SECURED OPTION.

John Scott, one of the best known pottery machinists in the city, in his opinion some day will be a rich man. His friends only hope he will make such an achievement. A few months ago Mr. Scott went to Tennessee and while there made a tour of the country for the purpose of finding a good quality of clay. He located a valuable tract of ball clay, said by manufacturing potters of this city to be far superior to any now in use here, and after securing a long option on the property returned home. The clay was recently tested—that is, a piece of it was fired in its rough state, and the results obtained are said to be little short of wonderful. It is said a large supply of this clay will be shipped to the city soon, and all the manufacturers will be asked to give it a thorough working test. If the results are obtained that are claimed Mr. Scott indeed has a large fortune in sight.

BACK FROM THE FARM.

It was a jolly crowd that visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Derringer, near Blackhawk, last Saturday. A party composed of 18 employes of the decorating department of the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery went to Blackhawk, or near there, and spent the day on the Derringer farm. Mrs. Derringer, before her marriage a few months ago, was one of the popular decorators at the Wallace & Chetwynd plant, and then Mr. and Mrs. Derringer went to the farm to reside. Last Saturday Mr. Derringer drove a large hay wagon to the East End and then the employes of the decorating department, former shopmates of Mrs. Derringer, were driven to the farm. Dinner and supper were served to the crowd in excellent style and before their return home in the evening all voted Mr. and Mrs. Derringer a host and hostess hard to beat.

MAMMOTH STRAW SHED.

The largest straw shed in the city will be that which is now in course of erection at the Laughlin potteries in the East End. Although it will be but one story in height, its dimensions will be 75 by 45 feet and having a capacity of not less than 20 cars of straw, baled. This is the largest building of the kind in the city, and without doubt in this part of the country. It is being erected by Contractor Harvey McHenry and will be frame throughout. The new building will not be completed for three weeks at least. The old straw shed, which has been located near the packing department of plant No. 2, will be discontinued after the new shed is completed.

A FEW CHANGES.

Charles Llewellyn, who for many months has been employed as a decorating kiln foreman, has resigned his position, and in the future will be located at the Goodwin pottery. Mal Smith, who has been filling a similar position at Goodwin's, has resigned there and will go to the Taylor, Smith & Taylor shop at Chester. Harvey Crawford, who was formerly a resident of this city, but more recently employed as a teamster at Sebring for the several potteries there, has returned to this city and will be located at Laughlin No. 2.

BACK TO WORK.

Walter Owens, a jiggerman at the East End pottery, who has been idle for several days, has returned to work. Some person, with an eye to making mischief, went to the jigger operated by Owens some time between Saturday afternoon and Monday morning and broke the set screw which holds the die. This could be repaired at once and Mr. Owens was compelled to loaf until repairs could be made.

COMPANY WILL ENLARGE.

By handing additions to its already good sized plant the Salem pottery will soon be operating a nine kiln pottery. One and possibly two new kilns are said to be contracted for at this plant, and work upon them is to commence soon. Since this company began business there has not been a dull moment in its life, and the outlook for business for the future is exceedingly bright.

A COLORADO SHOP.

After working for several months, workmen have completed the two new kiln plant for the Denver China and Pottery company, located at Denver, Col. The company is now installing the machinery and the work of making clay is expected to commence shortly. A small number of men will be employed at the start, but this number will be increased as the business justifies.

NOW RUSHING WORK.

At the Dresden China plant at Salineville, being built by William H. Deidrick and others of this city and Salineville, work is now being rushed as fast as possible. The bricklayers are about through with their part of the contract. The brick work on the main building is reported completed, and the other buildings will be rushed to completion with lightning speed.

FOR THEIR DEMONSTRATION.

At a meeting of local No. 32, Printers and Transferers, held Monday evening, matters concerning the demonstration on Labor day were considered. This local is bent upon winning the prize flag for the best display in the industrial parade and will leave no stone unturned to carry its plans into effect.

BACK TO WORK.

Jeff Green, one of the popular sagermakers at Laughlin No. 3, who has been compelled to quit work on account of his little children having scarlet fever, will return to work in a day or so, the quarantine having been raised from his house.

AFTER BUSINESS.

John Sant, the well known clay salesman, who has been spending a few days calling upon the manufacturers in the out-of-town districts, is expected to return to the city this evening. He spent last Monday at Sebring.

INCREASING CAPACITY.

The Oliver China company at Sebring is increasing its capacity by the erection of a new kiln. The kiln will be completed soon, as it is now being topped out.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Miss Gertrude Golding, a popular transferer of this city, has arranged to spend her vacation in Wheeling. She will leave for that city in a few days.

The new dinner shape which was recently placed on the market by the East Liverpool Potteries company, and which is being made at the Globe is meeting with much popular favor, and is having a large sale.

Miss Lucy Todd, a rubber at the Wallace & Chetwynd plant, has resigned her position and tomorrow will leave for an extended trip to Niagara Falls. After remaining there for a few weeks she will return to this city, but will not return to the decorating shop for some time.

WRITING A BOOK

Cadiz Man Aged 84, Once Owner of 50,000 Acres, Tells of Early Days.

Cadiz, August 20.—Walter Craig, of Cadiz, who is now in his eighty-fourth year, is engaged in writing a history of his life. He was born July 4, 1819, near Cadiz, where he has always lived except when looking after his business interests in the west and travel in Mexico. During the civil war he owned 5,000 head of sheep and sold wool in 1864 at $1 a pound.

At one time he was probably the largest owner of land in Ohio, having about 50,000 acres, mostly in the west. He originated the idea of having the Harrison county fair grounds on his farm, and spent $10,00 in making the best half-mile track in eastern Ohio, it being necessary to make fills and cut away the side of a hill. In his book he tells of pioneer days in Ohio when salt was worth $56 a barrel.

WON'T RESIGN, SAYS SCHWAB

Declared He Needed a Rest and Would Take One—Going to Europe.

New York, Aug. 20.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, arrived here last evening. He was accompanied by his brother, Joseph Schwab, and his private secretary. He stepped briskly from the car, and as he did so he said to a number of newspaper men present:

"Now, gentlemen, I am going to tell you three things, and I don't want you to ask me any further questions. In the first place, I don't look like a sick man. In the second place, I feel the necessity of a rest, and I am going to take one. In the third place, I am not going to resign and have no intention of retiring from the presidency of the United States Steel corporation."

"Are you going to Europe?" was asked Mr. Schwab.

"Yes," he replied, "but don't ask me any more questions; that's all I have to say."

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 20.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, passed through here yesterday on his private car "Loretto," en route to New York, whence he will sail for Europe. He disclosed his destination to an old Altoona friend, who talked with him since he has been at Loretto. He said that he was going to France, where he will take a course of treatment at the mineral springs of that country. His chief ailment is an affection of the nerves.

The steel president's stay amid the scenes of his boyhood has evidently done him good. He told his friend, P. D. Saupp, of this city, that he never felt better in his life, and Mr. Saupp emphasized this by stating that he had never seen him looking better.

Mrs. Schwab is not with her husband. She will remain at Loretto during his absence.

PRESIDENT HEARNE RESIGNED.

Schiller Head of National Tube Co. Other Officers.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—Colonel Frank J. Hearne, of 4301 Fifth avenue, yesterday resigned the presidency of the National Tube company, an affiliated concern of the United States Steel corporation. William Bacon Schiller, of 1019 Bidwell street, first vice president, was elected the successor of Colonel Hearne.

The resignation of Colonel Hearne was presented at the annual meeting of the National Tube company at Jersey City yesterday, being voluntary on his part. After the election of Mr. Schiller to the presidency of the company W. H. Latshaw, second vice president, of 6100 Stanton avenue, became first vice president; John D. Culbertson, second vice president and A. S. Matheson, third vice president.

Edward Worcester, general sales agent of the company, was elected a director to succeed Colonel Hearne, and William Nelson Cromwell was succeeded by Mr. Murray, at present employed in the treasurer's office. The other directors of the National Tube company are: E. C. Converse, William H. Latshaw, A. S. Matheson, John D. Culbertson, William J. Cardis, William B. Schiller, the new president; Charles Steele, C. M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, and Judge E. H. Gary.

Colonel Hearne resigned on the advice of his physician and to look after private interests.

DROWNED HIS 4 CHILDREN.

Despondent Farmer Shot Himself With a Revolver, In Kansas.

Salina, Kan., Aug. 20.—Joseph Anderson, a farmer living east of Salina, in a fit of despondency yesterday, drowned his four children, three girls and a boy, in a cistern and then shot himself with a revolver.

Anderson is still alive, but probably will die. Financial matters had affected his mind. The crime was committed during the absence of the mother. The oldest child was 6 years old and the youngest a baby of 4 months. Anderson left a note on a table notifying the mother that the children could be found in the cistern.

FOR THEIR DEMONSTRATION.

At a meeting of local No. 32, Printers and Transferers, held Monday evening, matters concerning the demonstration on Labor day were considered. This local is bent upon winning the prize flag for the best display in the industrial parade and will leave no stone unturned to carry its plans into effect.

BACK TO WORK.

Jeff Green, one of the popular saggermakers at Laughlin No. 3, who has been compelled to quit work on account of his little children having scarlet fever, will return to work in a day or so, the quarantine having been raised from his house.

AFTER BUSINESS.

John Sant, the well known clay salesman, who has been spending a few days calling upon the manufacturers in the out-of-town districts, is expected to return to the city this evening. He spent last Monday at Sebring.

INCREASING CAPACITY.

The Oliver China company at Sebring is increasing its capacity by the erection of a new kiln. The kiln will be completed soon, as it is now being topped out.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Miss Gertrude Golding, a popular transferer of this city, has arranged to spend her vacation in Wheeling. She will leave for that city in a few days.

The new dinner shape which was recently placed on the market by the East Liverpool Potteries company and which is being made at the Globe is meeting with much popular favor, and is having a large sale.

Miss Lucy Todd, a rubber at the Wallace & Chetwynd plant, has resigned her position and tomorrow will leave for an extended trip to Niagara Falls. After remaining there for a few weeks she will return to this city, but will not return to the decorating shop for some time.

WRITING A BOOK

Cadiz Man Aged 81, Once Owner of 50,000 Acres, Tells of Early Days.

Cadiz, August 20.—Walter Craig, of Cadiz, who is now in his eighty-fourth year, is engaged in writing a history of his life. He was born July 4, 1819, near Cadiz, where he has always lived, except when looking after his business interests in the west and traveling in Mexico. During the civil war he owned 8,000 head of sheep and sold wool in 1864 at $1 a pound.

At one time he was probably the largest owner of land in Ohio, having about 50,000 acres, mostly in the west. He originated the idea of having the Harrison county fair grounds on his farm, and spent $10,00 in making the best half-mile track in eastern Ohio, it being necessary to make fills and cut away the side of a hill. In his book he tells of pioneer days in Ohio when salt was worth $56 a barrel.

WON'T RESIGN, SAYS SCHWAB

Declared He Needed a Rest and Would Take One—Going to Europe.

New York, Aug. 20.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, arrived here last evening. He was accompanied by his brother, Joseph Schwab, and his private secretary. He stepped briskly from the car, and as he did so he said to a number of newspaper men present:

"Now, gentlemen, I am going to tell you three things, and I don't want you to ask me any further questions. In the first place, I don't look like a sick man. In the second place, I feel the necessity of a rest, and I am going to take one. In the third place, I am not going to resign and have no intention of retiring from the presidency of the United States Steel corporation."

"Are you going to Europe?" was asked Mr. Schwab.

"Yes," he replied, "but don't ask me any more questions; that's all I have to say."

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 20.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, passed through here yesterday on his private car "Loretto," en route to New York whence he will sail for Europe. He disclosed his destination to an old Altoona friend, who talked with him since he has been at Loretto. He said that he was going to France where he will take a course of treatment at the mineral springs of that country. His chief ailment is an affection of the nerves.

The steel president's stay amid the scenes of his boyhood has evidently done him good. He told his friend, P. D. Saupp, of this city, that he never felt better in his life, and Mr. Saupp emphasized this by stating that he had never seen him looking better.

Mrs. Schwab is not with her husband. She will remain at Loretto during his absence.

PRESIDENT HEARNE RESIGNED.

Schiller Head of National Tube Co. Other Officers.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—Colonel Frank J. Hearne, of 4301 Fifth avenue, yesterday resigned the presidency of the National Tube company, an affiliated concern of the United States Steel corporation. William Bacon Schiller, of 1019 Bidwell street, first vice president, was elected the successor of Colonel Hearne.

The resignation of Colonel Hearne was presented at the annual meeting of the National Tube company at Jersey City yesterday, being voluntary on his part. After the election of Mr. Schiller to the presidency of the company W. H. Latshaw, second vice president, of 6100 Stanton avenue, became first vice president; John D. Culbertson, second vice president and A. S. Matheson, third vice president.

Edward Worcester, general sales agent of the company, was elected a director to succeed Colonel Hearne, and William Nelson Cromwell was succeeded by Mr. Murray, at present employed in the treasurer's office. The other directors of the National Tube company are: E. C. Converse, William H. Latshaw, A. S. Matheson, John D. Culbertson, William J. Curtis, William B. Schiller, the new president; Charles Steele, C. M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, and Judge E. H. Gary.

Colonel Hearne resigned on the advice of his physician and to look after private interests.

DROWNED HIS 4 CHILDREN.

Despondent Farmer Shot Himself With a Revolver, In Kansas.

Salina, Kan., Aug. 20.—Joseph Anderson, a farmer living east of Salina, in a fit of despondency yesterday, drowned his four children, three girls and a boy, in a cistern and then shot himself with a revolver.

Anderson is still alive, but probably will die. Financial matters had affected his mind. The crime was committed during the absence of the mother. The oldest child was 6 years old and the youngest a baby of 4 months. Anderson left a note on a table notifying the mother that the children could be found in the cistern.

EAST END

AN INVINCIBLE TEAM

Is What the Foot Ball Club Now Forming in the East End Expects to Be.

The East End will have a foot ball club this fall, and the officers of it expect to end the season undefeated. They were not defeated last season, and they propose to hold the same record this year. The team will represent the Laughlin potteries in the East End, and will commence to practice at once, a ball having been ordered from a Chicago firm yesterday. A meeting of the promoters of the club was held yesterday afternoon and the following are some of the players that have been selected: Robert Wheatley, F. Kent, Harry Foster, Mike McCullough, George Tucker, Mark Brown and William Chandler.

The following are the officers: Chairman, Harry Thompson; treasurer, Mark Brown; secretary, Peter B. Speakman; captain, Mr. Challinor; assistant captain, George Tucker.

The club will play during the season under the name of the Laughlin Foot Ball club. Another meeting will be held soon for the purpose of considering plans for the formation of a league of foot ball clubs in this city to play scheduled games. This plan is a popular one and is sure to meet with success.

CROWDS WENT ALONG

More Would Have Gone Could They Have Got Tickets for P. H. C. Excursion.

While the annual picnic of the Protected Home Circles of this city and the East End was a success, more money would have been made had not the railroad company refused to provide the number of cars desired. A freight engine from the Panhandle road and about 14 coaches, including a baggage car left the East End station shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, and all cars were filled.

Tickets were sold at from $1.25 to $1.75. Almost any price would have been paid for tickets could they have been obtained. The fact was that all tickets were sold and then speculation commenced. The Phoenix club desired 50 tickets last evening, but they were not to be had. It is estimated that from 1,300 to 1,500 people took the trip to New Castle.

Laborers Are Scarce.

According to statements made by Alex Chafin, of the East End, today there is a scarcity of help of all kinds in the East End just now, all on account of the river boats not being able to run. "I will have to make out another order and send it down south for more help," said Mr. Chafin today. "Laborers are scarce, and this is what we need. We must have this sort of help, and I will get them."

An Even Dozen Initiated.

There were to be 32 new candidates initiated into the East End circle of the Protected Home Circle last evening, but only 12 of this number appeared at the hall. The attendance at this meeting was very large, and the session most interesting. The membership of the circle is now nearing 375, making it the sixth largest circle in the order.

R. C. Howard, who has been spending a few weeks at Chautauqua, has returned to his home on Mulberry street.

A valuable rabbit owned by George Martin wandered from the home of its owner last evening and is now considered lost.

Owing to the severe illness of his wife, C. Y. Rose, who has been driving a team for John Bell, of the East End, for some months, removed yesterday to his former home at Skull Run, Jackson county, W. Va.

Word was received in the East End today of the serious illness of Mrs. Eck Allison, formerly a resident of the East End, but now living on a farm with her husband, out the Lisbon road. It is said that Mrs. Allison suffered a slight stroke of paralysis.

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of a Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery), says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

CLARKSON

Clarkson, August 20.—Mrs. Nancy Rowe has been visiting her parents here for a few days.

Attorney W. K. Gaston and wife, of East Liverpool, spent part of their vacation with relatives here.

George Moore and the Misses Inez Moore and Florence Shannen were the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Maria Ferris, and family, East Palestine, Saturday and Sunday.

Elmer Warrick has been engaged to teach the New Harmony school this winter.

The current of electricity which struck the house of W. C. Warrick, leaving traces here and there of its presence, knocking down the telephone and not doing much damage after all, save giving the family a thorough consciousness of its presence and power and creating an anxiety for fear of fire, burned out the telephone in the dwellings of W. H. Owens and C. V. Warrick's store also.

Frank Radebaugh, Jr., carried one of his homing pigeons with him on a recent excursion to Cleveland, releasing it on arrival there. It reached home toward evening about the time the excursionists returned.

The programs are out for the twelfth annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union of Columbiana county, to be held in the Presbyterian church, East Palestine, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 2 and 3.

Beginning Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m., a welcome address will be given Tuesday evening by Mayor Foley; response, Miss Alice O. Bann, Salineville; Wednesday will be taken up with devotional exercises and business reports of the different departments of work of the W. C. T. U., and in the evening an address by Mrs. Annie W. Clark, Columbus, late president, on "Franchise."

Attorney Lones and wife, of Wellsville, and sisters, the Misses Lones, of Cream Ridge, visited their brother, Jesse Lones, and family.

The New Harmony school house was the hub of St. Clair township Monday when the law suit between Mr. Knoopf and stepson, Ed Fanks, came off.

ENGLAND'S PREMIER

MAN WHO HAS SUCCEEDED MARQUIS OF SALISBURY.

Incidents In the Career of Arthur J. Balfour—How He Was Hated by the Irish—Fond of Golfing—His Home In Scotland.

The Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, who has just succeeded Lord Salisbury as premier of England, is a nephew of the venerable marquis whose place he takes and for several years has been the government leader in the house of commons.

Mr. Balfour is the head of a cadet branch of the old Scottish family of Balfour of Balfour, which derives its name from Balfour castle, in Fife. The earliest recorded Balfour ancestor was a certain Siward, who met his death at the hands of a misguided nobleman named Macbeth several hundred years ago.

Mr. Balfour is fifty-four years of age. His mother was Lady Blanche Cecil, who married James Maitland Balfour, a member of a well known Scotch family. He is the eldest of a family of eight and was left fatherless when barely nine years old. His mother was a woman of great force of character.

Mr. Balfour entered parliament in 1874 and represented Hertford until

ARTHUR J. BALFOUR.

1885, when he was elected for East Manchester, which constituency he still represents.

He acted as private secretary to his uncle, the Marquis of Salisbury, at the foreign office during 1878-80, when the Berlin treaty was negotiated. In June, 1878, he accompanied a special mission to Berlin.

In 1879 he published his first book, which gave the public the knowledge that he was a scholar and thinker. It was called "A Defense of Philosophic Doubt."

From July, 1886, to March, 1887, he was secretary for Scotland, with a seat in the cabinet. He was appointed chief secretary for Ireland in 1887, succeeding Sir Michael Hicks Beach. His treatment of political prisoners and his extreme eviction policy made the Irish people hate him.

A distinguished Irish clergyman once remarked to him, "If the people only hated the devil half as much as they hate you, my occupation would be gone."

Five years after his appointment as secretary for Ireland he succeeded the late W. H. Smith as leader of the house of commons and first lord of the treasury.

Mr. Balfour is a cyclist and is president of the National Cyclists' union. But he is best known as a golfer.

Whittinghame House, Mr. Balfour's home in East Lothian, Scotland, was built by his grandfather, John Balfour, in 1817. But the demesne itself, which that gentleman purchased on his return from India with a large fortune, has a much longer history. Whittinghame is celebrated indeed in Scottish annals as having been at one time the home of the great Douglas family, while tradition has linked it with the tragic fortunes of Mary, queen of Scots. Having been given Whittinghame castle by the queen in 1564, it was there, it is related, that the Earl of Morton planned with Bothwell the murder of Darnley.

Besides its historic interest Mr. Balfour's home has the charm of some of the prettiest scenery of the south of Scotland—the wooded banks of the Firth of Forth on the one side and the picturesque features of the Lammermoor country, as Scott describes them, on the other. Here Mr. Balfour, who is a bachelor, lives during the parliamentary vacations.

EAST END

AN INVINCIBLE TEAM

Is What the Foot Ball Club Now Forming in the East End Expects to Be.

The East End will have a foot ball club this fall, and the officers of it expect to end the season undefeated. They were not defeated last season, and they propose to hold the same record this year. The team will represent the Laughlin potteries in the East End, and will commence to practice at once, a ball having been ordered from a Chicago firm yesterday. A meeting of the promoters of the club was held yesterday afternoon and the following are some of the players that have been selected: Robert Wheatley, F. Kent, Harry Foster, Mike McCullough, George Tucker, Mark Brown and William Chandler.

The following are the officers: Chairman, Harry Thompson; treasurer, Mark Brown; secretary, Peter B. Speakman; captain, Mr. Challinor; assistant captain, George Tucker.

The club will play during the season under the name of the Laughlin Foot Ball club. Another meeting will be held soon for the purpose of considering plans for the formation of a league of foot ball clubs in this city to play scheduled games. This plan is a popular one and is sure to meet with success.

More Would Have Gone Could They Have Got Tickets for P. H. C. Excursion.

While the annual picnic of the Protected Home Circles of this city and the East End was a success, more money would have been made had not the railroad company refused to provide the number of cars desired. A freight engine from the Panhandle road and about 14 coaches, including a baggage car left the East End station shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, and all cars were filled.

Tickets were sold at from $1.25 to $1.75. Almost any price would have been paid for tickets could they have been obtained. The fact was that all tickets were sold and then speculation commenced. The Phoenix club desired 50 tickets last evening, but they were not to be had. It is estimated that from 1,300 to 1,500 people took the trip to New Castle.

Laborers Are Scarce.

According to statements made by Alex Chafin, of the East End, today there is a scarcity of help of all kinds in the East End just now, all on account of the river boats not being able to run. "I will have to make out another order and send it down south for more help," said Mr. Chafin today, "Laborers are scarce, and this is what we need. We must have this sort of help, and I will get them."

An Even Dozen Initiated.

There were to be 32 new candidates initiated into the East End circle of the Protected Home Circle last evening, but only 12 of this number appeared at the hall. The attendance at this meeting was very large, and the session most interesting. The membership of the circle is now nearing 375, making it the sixth largest circle in the order.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Frank Chambers was a Pittsburg visitor today.

T. F. Anderson was in Pittsburg on business today.

Four coons were captured by Levi Boulton and Henry Heckathorn while out coon hunting last night.

Mrs. E. M. McCain, of Rochester, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zed T. Smith, in the East End.

Dr. D. O. Main, wife and two children, of Toledo, are visiting friends in the East End for a few days.

R. C. Howard, who has been spending a few weeks at Chautauqua, has returned to his home on Mulberry street.

A valuable rabbit owned by George Martin wandered from the home of its owner last evening and is now considered lost.

Owing to the severe illness of his wife, C. Y. Rose, who has been driving a team for John Bell, of the East End, for some months, removed yesterday to his former home at Skull Run, Jackson county, W. Va.

Word was received in the East End today of the serious illness of Mrs. Eck Allison, formerly a resident of the East End, but now living on a farm with her husband, out the Lisbon road. It is said that Mrs. Allison suffered a slight stroke of paralysis.

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of a Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery), says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

CLARKSON

Clarkson, August 20.—Mrs. Nancy Howe has been visiting her parents here for a few days.

Attorney W. K. Caston and wife, of East Liverpool, spent part of their vacation with relatives here.

George Moore and the Misses Inez Moore and Florence Shannon were the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Maria Fennis, and family, East Palestine, Saturday and Sunday.

Elmer Warrick has been engaged to teach the New Harmony school this winter.

The current of electricity which struck the house of W. C. Warrick, leaving traces here and there of its presence, knocking down the telephone and not doing much damage after all, save giving the family a thorough consciousness of its presence and power and creating an anxiety for fear of fire, burned out the telephone in the dwellings of W. H. Owens and C. V. Warrick's store also.

Frank Rudebaugh, Jr., carried one of his homing pigeons with him on a recent excursion to Cleveland, releasing it on arrival there. It reached home toward evening about the time the excursionists returned.

The programs are out for the twelfth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Columbiana county, to be held in the Presbyterian church, East Palestine, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 2 and 3.

Beginning Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m., a welcome address will be given Tuesday evening by Mayor Foley; response, Miss Alice O. Bann, Salineville; Wednesday will be taken up with devotional exercises and business reports of the different departments of work of the W. C. T. U., and in the evening an address by Mrs. Annie W. Clark, Columbus, late president, on "Franchise."

Attorney Lones and wife, of Wellsville, and sisters, the Misses Lones, of Cream Ridge, visited their brother, Jesse Lones, and family.

The New Harmony school house was the hub of St. Clair township Monday when the law suit between Mr. Knepper and stepson, Ed Faulks, came off.

ENGLAND'S PREMIER

The Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, who has just succeeded Lord Salisbury as premier of England, is a nephew of the venerable marquis whose place he takes and for several years has been the government leader in the house of commons.

Mr. Balfour is the head of a cadet branch of the old Scottish family of Balfour of Balfour, which derives its name from Balfour castle, in Fife. The earliest recorded Balfour ancestor was a certain Siward, who met his death at the hands of a misguided nobleman named Macbeth several hundred years ago.

Mr. Balfour is fifty-four years of age. His mother was Lady Blanche Cecil, who married James Maitland Balfour, a member of a well known Scotch family. He is the eldest of a family of eight and was left fatherless when barely nine years old. His mother was a woman of great force of character.

Mr. Balfour entered parliament in 1874 and represented Hertford until

ARTHUR J. BALFOUR.

1885, when he was elected for East Manchester, which constituency he still represents.

He acted as private secretary to his uncle, the Marquis of Salisbury, at the foreign office during 1878-80, when the Berlin treaty was negotiated. In June, 1878, he accompanied a special mission to Berlin.

In 1879 he published his first book, which gave the public the knowledge that he was a scholar and thinker. It was called "A Defense of Philosophic Doubt."

From July, 1886, to March, 1887, he was secretary for Scotland, with a seat in the cabinet. He was appointed chief secretary for Ireland in 1887, succeeding Sir Michael Hicks Beach. His treatment of political prisoners and his extreme eviction policy made the Irish people hate him.

A distinguished Irish clergyman once remarked to him, "If the people only hated the devil half as much as they hate you, my occupation would be gone."

Five years after his appointment as secretary for Ireland he succeeded the late W. H. Smith as leader of the house of commons and first lord of the treasury.

Mr. Balfour is a cyclist and is president of the National Cyclists' union. But he is best known as a golfer.

The proposition to put fenders on the street cars in this city is one that cannot be too strongly commended or too zealously encouraged. The safety fenders do not always save the lives of persons whom the cars strike, but they frequently do. One life saved is worth more than it would cost to equip all cars with the fender; even one damage suit against the street railway company may result in costs and a verdict for an amount that would more than supply the needs. In many parts of the country the traction companies are compelled by law to provide fenders for all cars. That there is no such law in force here is certainly a grave oversight. The railway companies are granted valuable privileges, in return for which they should take every precaution to secure the utmost safety for their patrons and for the public. Their privileges give them no monopoly of the use of the streets, and they ought to neglect nothing that will contribute to the safety of pedestrians. The street railroads abound in curves and danger spots where the motorman can see the track but a short distance ahead. At one point near the Thompson pottery there have been two fatal accidents, for which the motormen were not blamed, because they could not stop their cars. A fender might have prevented both these tragedies. By all means let all the cars in the city be promptly equipped with the best safety fenders obtainable.

London has a "betterment association," whose avowed object is to suppress street noises, gambling, pauper immigration, child labor, spitting in public places, the sale of impure ice cream, betting, tearing up the streets and a few other minor nuisances. There is work for such a society in every city.

The learned professors of the western metropolis are just now very busy in trying to discover whether the name Chicago means skunk or wild onion. None of them have suggested that either meaning is inappropriate when applied to the Windy City.

If J. Pierpont Morgan would let a few of his pending deals wait and take a day off to settle the coal strike he could earn the gratitude of several hundred thousands of his countrymen.

New York and East Liverpool have both suddenly awakened to the necessity of providing new street signs so that visitors from Slab City and Kalamazoo won't taunt them for not being up to date.

C. M. Schwab says he is not going to stop work. He can't if he carries out his reported intention of becoming J. P. Morgan's partner and holding up his end of the alliance.

The fifty-seventh congress has thus far appropriated only $800,000,000 for 1903. But it has another session in which to make up for small items overlooked.

Texas will have a $125,000,000 cotton crop this year. If Texas doesn't watch out it will presently become rich enough to attract Morgan's attention.

Those who are so poor that they have to keep out of automobiles can console themselves. They are keeping out of a good deal of danger.

OBITUARY

Miss Bird House.

Miss Bird House, aged 27, died at her home on Mulberry street last evening at 6 o'clock, after a lingering illness. Consumption was the cause of death. Miss House was one of the most popular young ladies of the East End. She was a life-long member of of the Erie street M.E. church, and always took an active part in church work, especially the work of the young people's societies. Her death was a shock to her large circle of friends, who loved her well. Miss House was also a member of Crystal chapter, order of the Eastern Star, Masonic. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being in charge of Rev. Geo. W. Orcutt. Interment will be in Riverview cemetery.

Mrs. Tillie Allison.

Miss Tillie Allison, aged about 55 years, wife of "Eck" Allison, for many years an employe of the East Liverpool Street Railway company, and residing in the East End, died at her home, about 3½ miles out the Lisbon road, about noon today. Paralysis was the cause of death. Mrs. Allison is survived by her husband and four children, three sons and one daughter. She was born in Hancock county, and her maiden name was Mercer. The arrangements for the funeral are not completed.

Robert Tommins.

Robert Tommins, aged 71, died at Salem. He was born in England and formerly lived at New Waterford where the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Children's Party.

The Peterson home on Fifth street was the scene of a very pleasant children's party yesterday between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock. Ruth and Gretta, the little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Chal Peterson, were the hostesses, and their young friends, Florence and Mildred Aylin, of St. Louis, Mo., the honor guests. The decorations and the refreshments were elaborate and the games most enjoyable. About 65 were present.

PRECOCIOUS AUTHORS.

Successful Plays That Were Written by Boys in Their Teens.

Was a successful play ever written by a boy of fourteen? asks a correspondent. Yes. This seeming miracle has happened at least three times. The best known example of the precocious playwright is the celebrated Lope de la Vega, the most prolific dramatist known to history. He produced his first play, a comedy, entitled "La Pastoral de Jacinto," before he had completed his fourteenth year, and this was considered such a marvelous performance that he is known to this day in Spanish literature as "the Prodigy of Nature." Another Spaniard and contemporary of La Vega, Pedro Calderon, wrote his first play when he was thirteen. Metastasio wrote his tragedy "Giustino" and had it produced when he was fourteen on the stage at Bologna.

Of English playwrights Douglas Jerrold, the famous author of "Black Eyed Susan," also furnishes an answer to the question. In 1818, before he had completed his fifteenth year, he wrote a very well known farce entitled "More Frightened Than Hurt." It was very successful on the English stage, and the French considered it good enough to steal. Curiously enough, this French translation was retranslated into English and again produced on the English boards under the title of "Fighting by Proxy." Another very remarkable instance of a different sort of precocity was that of William Henry Ireland, who when he was about fifteen actually produced some plays which he attributed to Shakespeare and which, although afterward proved to be forgeries, were accepted by the experts of the time as genuine.—Pearson's Weekly.

Sympathetic.

Recently a lithographic firm received a circular announcing the death of the head of a well known business house. In reply they wrote:

"We regret to learn the loss sustained by your firm in the death of Mr. —— and beg to express our heartfelt sympathy.

"We notice your circular is printed by Messrs. ——. We are confident that had you asked us we could have quoted you cheaper and better than any other firm in the market, and in the event of a future bereavement we hope you will afford us an opportunity of making you an offer."—London Tit-Bits.

Don't Be Foolish.

Look at your friends and acquaintances. You see them deliberately acting the fool every day. Possibly you can look your friends over with less prejudice than you can look yourself over. Are you acting the fool and causing yourself unnecessary annoyance? There are so many foolish people in the world that you often find startling things in looking yourself over with candor and fairness.—Atchison Globe.

Thursday is Hosiery day at The Leader store, Washington street.

ALMANAC VAGARIES

AN INTERESTING COLLECTION IN THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

One of the most curious collections at the library of congress is that of almanacs. These publications, which as advertising mediums are left at the door, often to be at once thrown carelessly into the wastebasket, have a striking and venerable history.

It is still contended by many authorities that the almanac of 1457 was the first specimen of printing, and it has been variously credited to Gutenberg, Schaeffer and Pfister of Bamberg. Dr. Faustus, celebrated in legend, whose strange story has been immortalized by Marlowe and Goethe, was the accredited author of almanacs containing astrological signs (retained at the present day) and necromantic secrets. "Poor Richard's Almanac," the production of Benjamin Franklin, is well known as a treasury of homely wit and wisdom. One of the greatest of modern German authors, Auerbach, first won his way to popular esteem by using the almanac as a vehicle for his talents.

Regiomontanus, a famous German mathematician, under the patronage of Matthias Corvinus, king of Hungary, published a series of almanacs from 1475 to 1506, and yearly almanacs became an established custom in the sixteenth century. Henry III. of France in 1579 enacted that the almanac should not be made the instrument of partisan politics by the introduction of prophecies against parties and individuals in the state.

The first almanac in the modern shape appeared in England in 1673. It was compiled by Maurice Wheeler, canon of Christchurch, Oxford, and was printed in that city. The sale was so great that the booksellers of London bought the copyright in order to monopolize its subsequent sales. The "Almanac Royal" of Paris, 1697, contained notices of pastimes, court reception days, fairs and markets, to which were added soon afterward the genealogy of the reigning house, etc.

In England James I. granted a monopoly of the trade to the universities and the Stationers' company, subject to the censorship of the archbishop of Canterbury and the bishop of London. The universities accepted an annuity from their colleagues, and resigned the active exercise of their privilege into the hands of the Stationers. Under their supervision were conducted the popular almanacs known as "Moore's" and "Partridge's," the latter of which was humorously attacked by Swift. "Poor Robin's Almanac," published from 1652 to 1828, may have furnished a model, at least in title, for Franklin's "Poor Richard."

Popular superstitions and the extravagances of astrology found room in these almanacs, the Stationers, like a genuine corporation or "trust" of the time, having no personality of their own, and exhibiting no special bias except for what would sell, as was particularly proved in 1624, when they issued a set of predictions in one almanac and bitterly contradicted them in another.

The famous "Moore's Almanac" purported to be edited by Francis Moore, physician. The original Francis Moore died in 1724, but the publication was still issued as if under his supervision, and in 1775 a vigorous rival arose in another almanac claiming to be the genuine Francis Moore. A great lawsuit followed, which was decided against the monopoly of the Stationers' company. A bill to renew and legalize the privilege was brought in the house of commons by Lord North in 1779, but Lord Erskine, the great barrister, most brilliantly exposed the absurdity and even indecency of the publication, and the bill was defeated. Although the privilege was thus destroyed, the Stationers purchased their rival and continued to hold the field with a but slightly improved style of publication until 1828, when the Society For the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge published the "British Almanac" and demolished their predecessors, with the able assistance of the daily press, which so vigorously assailed the Stationers' publication that that company was constrained to follow the new example in the "Englishman's Almanac."

The uniform price for an English almanac for many years was a penny, but the monopoly increased the price, and the imposition of the stamp taxes after Queen Anne's time raised it still more. In 1781 "Moore's Almanac" was ninepence, two being for the stamp. In 1796 it rose to 1s. 4d. and in 1816 to 2s. 3d.

An almanac was established by Isaiah Thomas in Worcester, Mass., which gained and established an extraordinary repute in 1780 from the happy accident that, as it was being set up, one of the boys asked what should be placed against the 13th of July. Mr. Thomas, in careless haste, answered: "Anything! Anything!" The lad, literally obedient, set up "Rain, hail and snow." The diligent readers were surprised, but when the day came the prediction was fulfilled—it really did rain, hail and snow on the 13th of that July, and the fortune of the almanac was made.

The "Almanac de Gotha" is the best known of the German publications. Whittaker's is the standard English publication of the kind, while in this country several of the large newspapers issue annual almanacs. The stray production, however, with its old astrological and magical symbols of Faust, must ever possess an interest for the curious who are versed in the history of almanacs.—Washington Times.

OVER THE OCEAN.

All attempts at reforesting Sicily fail because of the destructive activity of the goats.

Two hundred and seventeen lions have been born at the Dublin zoo during the last seventy years.

A plague of locusts has visited some parts of Tunis. The nomadic tribes collect and eat them, the government distributing salt to make them palatable.

Tattooed on the back of a man who has just been arrested for theft in Paris is a portrait of the Russian Grand Duke Constantine showing all his decorations.

At the present ratio of progress seventy years will elapse before Pompeii is entirely uncovered. It is thought that as much of treasure remains as has been exhumed.

While their pupils are holiday making from May 1 to Sept. 1 many of the Swiss cantonal schoolmasters round Zermatt take situations in the hotels as waiters or porters.

At a recent fur sale in London a Parisian purchased in the open market a black Siberian fox skin, 48 by 8 inches, paying for it the sum of $3,000. When dressed, it will cost its wearer $5,500.

Several of the smaller islands of New Zealand are without telegraphic communication with the mainland. A substitute has been found in carrier pigeons. To send a message by a pigeon costs 25 cents.

HORSES AND HORSEMEN.

Greenline, 2:07¾, is a great green one.

Dan Cahill's Charlie Herr, 2:07, has gone lame.

Dandy Jim, 2:09¾, the famous "gray ghost," is dead.

Country J., 2:10½, is at Cleveland. He nods perceptibly, but is said to be working fast.

Alan, 2:11¼, is a great half mile track performer. He put in three heats at Olean, N. Y., recently in 2:14¼, 2:15½ and 2:14 with ease.

Nelly Gay, 2:18¾, the daughter of Pamlico, 2:10, who raced so well in 1900, but went lame, is out again and winning on the Mohawk valley circuit, in New York.

Scott Hudson gave Audubon Boy, 2:06, some pretty stiff work at Detroit recently. One mile was paced in 2:06½ and another in 2:06, with the last half in 1:02, final quarter in 30 seconds.

One of the most interesting of recent events was the sale of Eleata, 2:08¾, to Mr. James Hanley of Providence, R. I., the owner of Prince Alert, 2:00½, by Hon. Frank Jones. The heroine of 1901 was at once shipped to Hartford.

STAGE NOTES.

Della Fox is to begin her season in October.

Hamlin Garland is said to be at work on a play of Colorado life.

Mrs. Leslie Carter is domiciled at Bar Harbor for the summer.

Lucius Henderson has been engaged for "The Pride of Jennico."

Gertrude Campbell has been engaged for "The Sword of the King."

It is said that Marie Tempest is to be managed by Charles Frohman.

Margaret Drew, a niece of John Drew, makes her debut next season.

Frank Moulan will play the title role in "The Sultan of Sulu" next season.

Rose Eytinge and Max Figman have been engaged for the support of Mrs. Fiske.

E. H. Sothern has engaged Miss Jennie Eustace to play the Queen in "Hamlet," also Huguette in "If I Were King."

An opera based on Anthony Hope's story of "The Heart of the Princess Osra" has been produced in London with success.

SHORT STORIES.

The total capital invested in railways and canals in Canada is $1,100,000,000.

Twenty states in this country made pig iron last year as against twenty-one in 1899 and 1900.

The average daily output of the New York state pulp mills is 2,000 tons, or nearly half the total American production.

In the estimation of a South Carolina paper the southern people consider Robert E. Lee "the greatest figure" of the war and Jefferson Davis the figure "most typical" of the lost cause.

The Rocky mountain locust, or grasshopper, in 1874 destroyed $100,000,000 worth of crops of Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa, and the indirect loss was probably as much more.

In recent experiments with a submerged bell for signaling to ships from dangerous coasts an eight hundred pound bell was struck with a fifty pound weight falling a foot. The sounds were startlingly distinct on board vessels a mile away.

An Old Welsh Custom.

The kindling of bonfires on hills is the simplest of celebrations at any time. The Druids made four great fires at their festivals in February, May, August and November. Wales seems to have been a country especially tenacious of this custom. Each family used to make its own fire, and as it was dying out each member would throw a white stone into it, the stones being marked for future identification. Then all said their prayers and went to bed, and in the morning they tried to find all the stones again. If any stone was missing, it betokened that the owner of it would die within a year.

Some superstitions are pretty and picturesque and attractive; this was one of the many which were cruel as well as picturesque. It would take but a slight accident to cause a fright that might be actually dangerous to a superstitious person, and it would not be hard for an enemy of such a person to cause that fright by stealing his stone from the fire.

London's Sewer Hunters.

The London sewer hunter before commencing operations provides himself with a bullseye lantern, a canvas apron and a pole some seven or eight feet in length, having an iron attachment at one end somewhat in the shape of a hoe. For greater convenience the lantern is invariably fixed to the right shoulder, so that when walking the light is thrown ahead and when stooping its rays shine directly to their feet. Thus accoutered they walk slowly along through the mud, feeling with their naked feet for anything unusual, at the same time raking the accumulation from the walls and picking from the crevices any article they see.

Nothing is allowed to escape them, no matter what its value, provided it is not valueless. Old iron, pieces of rope, bones, current coin of the realm and articles of plate and jewelry—all is good fish which comes to the hunter's net.—Chambers' Journal.

The Chinese Way.

In its war with England and France in 1859-60 China was easily conquered and forced to a humiliating peace. The Peking Gazette, the official organ of the government, however, reported the following concerning that treaty of peace:

"As the western barbarians have admitted their wrongs and humbly solicited for peace, the emperor in his infinite goodness has granted their prayer and, moreover, has made them a present of a large sum of money (indemnity of war) to enable them to begin an honest life, so that they may not again be driven to murder and rapine."

A Way of Explaining It.

Wife—Why, John, just see what a stupid blunder the newspaper has made in its account of our silver wedding! Don't you remember I wrote it out for the reporter that we had spent together twenty-five years of married happiness, and the stupid typesetter has gone and made it twenty-five years of married happiness. Isn't it awful?

Husband—Oh, well, dear; don't be too hard on the poor fellow. Perhaps he's been married twenty-five years himself.—London Tit-Bits.

The proposition to put fenders on the street cars in this city is one that cannot be too strongly commended or too zealously encouraged. The safety fenders do not always save the lives of persons whom the cars strike, but they frequently do. One life saved is worth more than it would cost to equip all cars with the fender; even one damage suit against the street railway company may result in costs and a verdict for an amount that would more than supply the needs. In many parts of the country the traction companies are compelled by law to provide fenders for all cars. That there is no such law in force here is certainly a grave oversight. The railway companies are granted valuable privileges, in return for which they should take every precaution to secure the utmost safety for their patrons and for the public. Their privileges give them no monopoly of the use of the streets, and they ought to neglect nothing that will contribute to the safety of pedestrians. The street railroads abound in curves and danger spots where the motorman can see the track but a short distance ahead. At one point near the Thompson pottery there have been two fatal accidents, for which the motormen were not blamed, because they could not stop their cars. A fender might have prevented both these tragedies. By all means let all the cars in the city be promptly equipped with the best safety fenders obtainable.

London has a "betterment association," whose avowed object is to suppress street noises, gambling, pauper immigration, child labor, spitting in public places, the sale of impure ice cream, betting, tearing up the streets and a few other minor nuisances. There is work for such a society in every city.

The learned professors of the western metropolis are just now very busy in trying to discover whether the name Chicago means skunk or wild onion. None of them have suggested that either meaning is inappropriate when applied to the Windy City.

If J. Pierpont Morgan would let a few of his pending deals wait and take a day off to settle the coal strike he could earn the gratitude of several hundred thousands of his countrymen.

New York and East Liverpool have both suddenly awakened to the necessity of providing new street signs so that visitors from Slab City and Kalamazoo won't taunt them for not being up to date.

C. M. Schwab says he is not going to stop work. He can't if he carries out his reported intention of becoming J. P. Morgan's partner and holding up his end of the alliance.

The fifty-seventh congress has thus far appropriated only $800,000,000 for 1903. But it has another session in which to make up for small items overlooked.

Texas will have a $125,000,000 cotton crop this year. If Texas doesn't watch out it will presently become rich enough to attract Morgan's attention.

Those who are so poor that they have to keep out of automobiles can console themselves. They are keeping out of a good deal of danger.

Miss Bird House.

Miss Bird House, aged 27, died at her home on Mulberry street last evening at 6 o'clock, after a lingering illness. Consumption was the cause of death. Miss House was one of the most popular young ladies of the East End. She was a life-long member of the Erie street M.E. church, and always took an active part in church work, especially the work of the young people's societies. Her death was a shock to her large circle of friends, who loved her well. Miss House was also a member of Crystal chapter, order of the Eastern Star, Masonic. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being in charge of Rev. Geo. W. Orcutt. Interment will be in Riverview cemetery.

Mrs. Tillie Allison.

Miss Tillie Allison, aged about 55 years, wife of "Eck" Allison, for many years an employe of the East Liverpool Street Railway company, and residing in the East End, died at her home, about 3½ miles out the Lisbon road, about noon today. Paralysis was the cause of death. Mrs. Allison is survived by her husband and four children, three sons and one daughter. She was born in Hancock county, and her maiden name was Mercer. The arrangements for the funeral are not completed.

Robert Tommins.

Robert Tommins, aged 71, died at Salem. He was born in England and formerly lived at New Waterford where the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Children's Party.

The Peterson home on Fifth street was the scene of a very pleasant children's party yesterday between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock. Ruth and Gretta, the little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Chal Peterson, were the hostesses, and their young friends, Florence and Mildred Aylin, of St. Louis, Mo., the honor guests. The decorations and the refreshments were elaborate and the games most enjoyable. About 65 were present.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Ed Cook spent last evening in Pittsburg.

W. S. Dailey went to Pittsburg this morning on business.

School Superintendent R. E. Rayman is back from his vacation.

Robert Webber, of Wheeling, has been visiting his parents on Sixth street.

Mrs. Mary Kirkpatrick, of Canton, is the guest of Mrs. Grundon, Fourth street.

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Clark have returned from a two weeks' sojourn at Atlantic City.

Frank Miller, of Newark, returned home this morning, after a visit with friends in this city.

Harry Bower and Mr. Starr, of Alliance, spent yesterday in the city the guest of A. R. Guthrie.

A. W. King was called to Bellaire yesterday on account of the dangerous illness of his mother.

Will T. Anderson left yesterday for a two weeks visit to New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

Miss Ethel Fisher, of Jethro, has returned home after a visit to East Palestine friends.

Misses Lenora and Pearl Wolf, of Lisbon street, left yesterday afternoon for Pittsburg, where they will visit relatives for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rearke left this morning for Toledo. Mr. Reark will return on Thursday, while his wife expects to remain for a visit of several weeks in that city.

Mrs. Zilla Neville, of this city, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Sebring, Sr., at Sebring. Mrs. Neville is a sister of Mr. Sebring and is 81 years of age. She is quite active for a lady of her years.

Over twenty young people attended a corn roast Monday evening, given in the Bentley woods, near Salem, by Misses Lottie and Nellie Lowry, in honor of their guest, Miss Nina Lee, of East Liverpool.

Don't Forget.

Tomorrow is Hosiery day at The Leader store. Those who have attended these sales in past years need no urging to attend.

PRECOCIOUS AUTHORS.

Successful Plays That Were Written by Boys in Their Teens.

Was a successful play ever written by a boy of fourteen? asks a correspondent. Yes. This seeming miracle has happened at least three times. The best known example of the precocious playwright is the celebrated Lope de ia Vega, the most prolific dramatist known to history. He produced his first play, a comedy, entitled "La Pastoral de Jacinto," before he had completed his fourteenth year, and this was considered such a marvelous performance that he is known to this day in Spanish literature as "the Prodigy of Nature." Another Spaniard and contemporary of La Vega, Pedro Calderon, wrote his first play when he was thirteen. Metastasio wrote his tragedy "Giustino" and had it produced when he was fourteen on the stage at Bologna.

Of English playwrights Douglas Jerrold, the famous author of "Black Eyed Susan," also furnishes an answer to the question. In 1818, before he had completed his fifteenth year, he wrote a very well known farce entitled "More Frightened Than Hurt." It was very successful on the English stage, and the French considered it good enough to steal. Curiously enough, this French translation was retranslated into English and again produced on the English boards under the title of "Fighting by Proxy." Another very remarkable instance of a different sort of precocity was that of William Henry Ireland, who when he was about fifteen actually produced some plays which he attributed to Shakespeare and which, although afterward proved to be forgeries, were accepted by the experts of the time as genuine.—Pearson's Weekly.

Sympathetic.

Recently a lithographic firm received a circular announcing the death of the head of a well known business house. In reply they wrote:

"We regret to learn the loss sustained by your firm in the death of Mr. —— and beg to express our heartfelt sympathy.

"We notice your circular is printed by Messrs. ——. We are confident that had you asked us we could have quoted you cheaper and better than any other firm in the market, and in the event of a future bereavement we hope you will afford us an opportunity of making you an offer."—London Tit-Bits.

Don't Be Foolish.

Look at your friends and acquaintances. You see them deliberately acting the fool every day. Possibly you can look your friends over with less prejudice than you can look yourself over. Are you acting the fool and causing yourself unnecessary annoyance? There are so many foolish people in the world that you often find startling things in looking yourself over with candor and fairness.—Atchison Globe.

ALMANAC VAGARIES

AN INTERESTING COLLECTION IN THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

One of the most curious collections at the library of congress is that of almanacs. These publications, which as advertising mediums are left at the door, often to be at once thrown carelessly into the wastebasket, have a striking and venerable history.

It is still contended by many authorities that the almanac of 1457 was the first specimen of printing, and it has been variously credited to Gutenberg, Schaeffer and Pfister of Bamberg. Dr. Faustus, celebrated in legend, whose strange story has been immortalized by Marlowe and Goethe, was the accredited author of almanacs containing astrological signs (retained at the present day) and necromantic secrets. "Poor Richard's Almanac," the production of Benjamin Franklin, is well known as a treasury of homely wit and wisdom. One of the greatest of modern German authors, Auerbach, first won his way to popular esteem by using the almanac as a vehicle for his talents.

Regiomontanus, a famous German mathematician, under the patronage of Matthias Corvinus, king of Hungary, published a series of almanacs from 1475 to 1506, and yearly almanacs became an established custom in the sixteenth century. Henry III. of France in 1579 enacted that the almanac should not be made the instrument of partisan politics by the introduction of prophecies against parties and individuals in the state.

The first almanac in the modern shape appeared in England in 1673. It was compiled by Maurice Wheeler, canon of Christchurch, Oxford, and was printed in that city. The sale was so great that the booksellers of London bought the copyright in order to monopolize its subsequent sales. The "Almanac Royal" of Paris, 1697, contained notices of pastimes, court reception days, fairs and markets, to which were added soon afterward the genealogy of the reigning house, etc.

In England James I. granted a monopoly of the trade to the universities and the Stationers' company, subject to the censorship of the archbishop of Canterbury and the bishop of London. The universities accepted an annuity from their colleagues, and resigned the active exercise of their privilege into the hands of the Stationers. Under their supervision were conducted the popular almanacs known as "Moore's" and "Partridge's," the latter of which was humorously attacked by Swift. "Poor Robin's Almanac," published from 1652 to 1828, may have furnished a model, at least in title, for Franklin's "Poor Richard."

Popular superstitions and the extravagances of astrology found room in these almanacs, the Stationers, like a genuine corporation or "trust" of the time, having no personality of their own, and exhibiting no special bias except for what would sell, as was particularly proved in 1624, when they issued a set of predictions in one almanac and bitterly contradicted them in another.

The famous "Moore's Almanac" purported to be edited by Francis Moore, physician. The original Francis Moore died in 1724, but the publication was still issued as if under his supervision, and in 1775 a vigorous rival arose in another almanac claiming to be the genuine Francis Moore. A great lawsuit followed, which was decided against the monopoly of the Stationers' company. A bill to renew and legalize the privilege was brought in the house of commons by Lord North in 1779, but Lord Erskine, the great barrister, most brilliantly exposed the absurdity and even indecency of the publication, and the bill was defeated. Although the privilege was thus destroyed, the Stationers purchased their rival and continued to hold the field with a but slightly improved style of publication until 1828, when the Society For the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge published the "British Almanac" and demolished their predecessors, with the able assistance of the daily press, which so vigorously assailed the Stationers' publication that that company was constrained to follow the new example in the "Englishman's Almanac."

The uniform price for an English almanac for many years was a penny, but the monopoly increased the price, and the imposition of the stamp taxes after Queen Anne's time raised it still more. In 1781 "Moore's Almanac" was ninepence, two being for the stamp. In 1796 it rose to 1s. 4d. and in 1816 to 2s. 3d.

An almanac was established by Isaiah Thomas in Worcester, Mass., which gained and established an extraordinary repute in 1780 from the happy accident that, as it was being set up, one of the boys asked what should be placed against the 13th of July. Some superstitions are pretty and picturesque and attractive; this was one of the many which were cruel as well as picturesque. It would take but a slight accident to cause a fright that might be actually dangerous to a superstitious person, and it would not be hard for an enemy of such a person to cause that fright by stealing his stone from the fire.

London's Sewer Hunters.

The London sewer hunter before commencing operations provides himself with a bullseye lantern, a canvas apron and a pole some seven or eight feet in length, having an iron attachment at one end somewhat in the shape of a hoe. For greater convenience the lantern is invariably fixed to the right shoulder, so that when walking the light is thrown ahead and when stooping its rays shine directly to their feet. Thus accoutered they walk slowly along through the mud, feeling with their naked feet for anything unusual, at the same time raking the accumulation from the walls and picking from the crevices any article they see.

Nothing is allowed to escape them, no matter what its value, provided it is not valueless. Old iron, pieces of rope, bones, current coin of the realm and articles of plate and jewelry—all is good fish which comes to the hunter's net.—Chambers' Journal.

The Chinese Way.

In its war with England and France in 1859-60 China was easily conquered and forced to a humiliating peace. The Peking Gazette, the official organ of the government, however, reported the following concerning that treaty of peace:

"As the western barbarians have admitted their wrongs and humbly solicited for peace, the emperor in his infinite goodness has granted their prayer and, moreover, has made them a present of a large sum of money (indemnity of war) to enable them to begin an honest life, so that they may not again be driven to murder and rapine."

A Way of Explaining It.

Wife—Why, John, just see what a stupid blunder the newspaper has made in its account of our silver wedding! Don't you remember I wrote it out for the reporter that we had spent together twenty-five years of married happiness, and the stupid typesetter has gone and made it twenty-five years of married happiness. Isn't it awful?

Husband—Oh, well, dear; don't be too hard on the poor fellow. Perhaps he's been married twenty-five years himself.—London Tit-Bits.

CHILD AND MATCH

Set a Bed on Fire And the Fire Department Was Called Out.

An alarm of fire yesterday afternoon called the department to the residence of Al Eidemer on Twelfth street, opposite the Patterson foundry. The blaze was extinguished before the firemen arrived. A child lighted a match and carelessly threw it on a mattress, where it started a blaze. The damage was trifling.

To Avoid a Grade.

Children with accidental affections of the nostrils which grow chronic become stupid. An ill working mucous membrane is enough to make a child a dunce. MEET OF AMERICANISTS.

Archæology and Ethnology of New World to Be Discussed.

When the international congress of Americanists meets in New York city next October, it will be the first time that body has ever assembled in the United States.

Last fall a commission of organization, of which Morris K. Jesup was made president, issued a call to Americanists, stating that at the twelfth meeting of the congress, held at Paris in 1900, New York city had been chosen for the thirteenth meet. The meetings will begin Oct. 20 at the Museum of Natural History and continue through the week.

MORRIS K. JESUP.

The subjects to be discussed at the thirteenth congress are divided into two sections: (1) "The Native Races of America; Their Origin, Distribution, History, Physical Characteristics, Languages, Inventions, Customs and Religions," and (2) "The History of the Early Contact Between America and the Old World."

The second section will be the stamping ground for those who bridge the Atlantic with a continent now obliterated from the maps and find the original home of the forefathers of Egyptians as well as Aztecs on the bottom of the sea. It will also be the section for those who are occupied in finding the origin of the American copper skins and Chinese or Japanese.

The expeditions sent out by the Messrs. Hyde, which have already supplied the Museum of Natural History with large quantities of material concerning prehistoric man in America, will doubtless report, and those also which Mr. Jesup has sent to the northwest coast of America and the northeast coast of Asia.

All persons interested in the study of the archaeology, ethnology and early history of the two Americas may become members of the international congress of Americanists by signifying their wish to M. H. Saville, the general secretary of the commission on organization, at the Natural History Museum, New York city.

For those who wish to speak before the congress or merely have an article or essay printed in the proceedings it is required that the titles and an abstract of what they intend to say or publish be forwarded to the general secretary before the congress meets.

The indications are that there will be no lack of interesting matter brought before the thirteenth congress of Americanists.

TREMBLING VENICE.

Other Historic Structures May Follow the Campanile.

Following the fall of the bell tower of the famous St. Mark's church comes the information that other historic structures in Venice show a weakness of foundation that is alarming not only to the citizens of the "Queen of the Adriatic," but to the whole civilized world.

Now that the campanile lies in ruins it is asserted that another famous building, the Church of Santi Giovanni e Paolo, shows signs of settling and possible destruction.

The Church of St. John and St. Paul, popularly called San Zanipilo, contains the statues of many doges and other illustrious persons, and its destruction would be little short of a calamity.

The campanile, the bell tower of St. Mark's, now a heap of ruins, was where Galilei made his observations. It was 323 feet high and 42 feet square at the base. The heap of ruins which covers the Sansovino terrace is about 100 feet high.

OVERCOME BY HEAT

Ollie Kirkwood, a pair heater at the tin mill, was overcome by heat yesterday as he was about to go home, after completing his turn on the morning shift. Kirkwood is a resident of Wellsville, and was washing up preparatory to going to his home on Sixth street when he was seized with a severe cramp. His fellow workmen remained with him for several hours and when he had recovered sufficiently he was taken to the Steadman home on Sixth street. He was in great pain, and his suffering was intense during the afternoon and all of the night.

Kirkwood was considerably improved this morning and was able to go to his home in Wellsville, where he expects to remain for some time. He was a member of the Eighth Ohio regiment during the Spanish-American war and is well known in this city and Wellsville.

Still After Rights of Way.

Engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad are now engaged in making another survey, and right of way men of the same road are spending much time in the vicinity of Shippinport purchasing rights of way for the extension of the New Cumberland branch. It is expected that as soon as the entire right of way has been secured the company will commence to build the road.

STOCK DEALINGS INCREASED.

Rose Over Half Half Million Share Mark Yesterday—Striking Gains In Few Spots.

New York, Aug. 20.—There were more shares of stock sold on the exchange yesterday than on Monday, dealings rising again over the half million share mark. The market took on a fair appearance of average strength, but an analysis will show that the gains in the majority of usually active stocks are fractional while the really striking gains are confined to a few spots in the market. The dealings were largely in professional hands and were supposed to reflect the operations of speculative pools, including some of the prominent capitalists of the country. The situation of affairs was not materially changed from that of Monday and the new demonstration of strength was based largely on the approaching return to New York of J. P. Morgan, which has caused a renewal of many long current rumors of financial projects and railroad deals, which are supposed to await his action to be put into force. A settlement of the coal strike and a decision on the question of the presidency of the United States Steel corporation are also supposed to await Mr. Morgan's action. The upward movement in Southern Pacific was aggressively renewed yesterday for the first time since the announcement of the proposed $100,000,000 mortgage to provide funds for betterments. This movement was also associated with the homeward bound movement of a well-known speculative leader, who has operated largely in it in the past.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Pure water is more essential than clean grass.

Even though turkeys are good foragers it will not pay to let them go without proper feeding.

Everything in the rearing of young poultry depends upon their care and management at least until well feathered.

Fowls inclined to fatten too easily are not good layers. The flesh they carry makes them lazy, and this never promotes laying.

Middlings make a good food for poultry, but if wet up alone it is too sticky. The better plan is to mix with bran or corn and wet with milk or scalding water.

Whitewash is better than paint on the poultry houses, for the reason that it costs less and has a purifying influence. It may be applied as often as once a month to advantage.

The properties of sunflower seed are peculiar, and a small quantity fed at the proper time will essentially aid in imparting to the plumage of adult fowls a gloss that no other grain will produce.

Gainsborough and His Carrier.

One of the earliest members of the Royal academy, it was Gainsborough's custom to have his pictures conveyed to the metropolis by a prosperous London carrier, a Mr. Wiltshire of Shockerwick, near Bath. This man refused to accept payment on the ground that he loved pictures too well. He was not, however, allowed to go unrewarded, for Gainsborough presented him with six of his best works, and some idea of their ultimate value may be gained from the fact that when at length they were sold the National gallery secured two, "The Parish Clerk of Bradford-on-Avon," for 500 guineas, and "The Harvest Wagon," for £2,500, these prices being considered low. Later "The Sisters" from another gallery realized close upon £10,000.

Nature and Poetry.

Environment aids poetry, but does not create it. Nature is the grand agent in making poetry, and poetry is present wherever nature is. It sparkles on the sea, glows in the rainbow, flashes from the lightning and the star, peals in thunder, roars in the cataract and sings on the winds. Poetry is God's image reflected in nature, as in a mirror, and nature is present wherever man is.

BREVITIES

NOTES OF NOTABLES.

John Mahin of Muscatine, Ia., has been editor of the Muscatine Journal for fifty years.

Prince Adelbert, third son of the kaiser, has opened a house of his own, especially built for him at Kiel. The lad is eighteen years old.

Marshall Field of Chicago is heading a movement to colonize the numberless abandoned farms in New England with farmers and mechanics from the old world.

The smallest woman in the world, so far as is known, is Chiquita, who was born at Matanzas, Cuba, in 1869. She is twenty-six inches in height and weighs eighteen pounds.

Captain Freeman, who saved the steamer Roddam from destruction during the recent volcanic eruption at St. Pierre, was recently presented with a silver medal by the Liverpool Shipwreck and Humane society.

John Budna, a citizen of Polish birth living at Marlborough, Ulster county, N. Y., has just become the happy father of his twenty-first child, a bouncing boy weighing sixteen pounds. All of the children are living.

Rudolph Aronson of New York, who recently gave the sultan of Morocco his first lesson on the piano, has been presented by his royal pupil with a magnificent Moorish sword, handsomely jeweled and of great value.

Governor Cummins of Iowa is one of the best authorities in that state upon forestry. He has mastered the subject thoroughly, having originally taken it up some years ago as an amusement and having stuck to it ever since.

James W. Ogden, a New York banker, who lives at Morristown, N. J., will present a new church building to the congregation of the Presbyterian church of Chatham, N. J., as a memorial to his father, who preached in the present church for fifty years.

The Marquis of Bute, who recently came into his title, is, according to the Montreal Star, among other things a baronet of Nova Scotia. There is one feature that all now holding this title have in common—none owns or ever did own an acre in Nova Scotia, and few ever saw the country.

Miss Laura Bigelow, daughter of the late John Bigelow, for many years European financial agent of the United States government, was recently married to ex-Senator Stephen Wallace Dorsey of Arkansas. Ex-Senator Dorsey is about sixty years old and is his bride's senior by more than a score of years.

THE FASHIONS.

Small pockets stitched on the left front of shirt waists are very chic and stylish.

The new idea in dainty dress trimming consists of ribbon fringed and trimmed with narrow lace.

When one must have a monogram on the shirt waist sleeve, the most effective plan is to select a butcher's linen shirt waist with the monogram in all white.

Rosettes and bows of plain satin or peau de soie ribbon are in the lead for ornamenting all sorts of muslin frocks and are of infinite variety of colors and adjustment.

For coolness and a fresh appearance nothing comes quite up to the lawn stock, with ends ready to tie in a smart bow; most of these are tucked and have nice little turnover collars.

For a young girl's evening frock nothing is daintier or more effective than embroidered muslin, the waist cut low and finished with a bertha of lace, the old fashioned tambour lace, or the ever attractive valenciennes.

REQUISITES TO SUCCESS.

An affable disposition, tact and discretion.

Absolute sobriety, persistency, grit and integrity.

The proper advertising of the proper thing at the proper time.

Attention to details, for these are the components of greater things.

Unremitting study of everything that pertains to or influences your business.

Personal supervision of your business. Depend upon no one but yourself.

Willingness to learn. The man who imagines himself a universal genius impairs his receptive capacity.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

August is the month in which to bud peach trees.

In selecting trees give preference to those with smooth, healthy looking bark.

Apples and peaches should not be picked or handled when wet with dew or rain.

Sulphide of potash is death to all kinds of plant mildew. Use one ounce to four gallons of water and apply in the form of a spray.

Before going into fruit culture find out what varieties your land is best adapted to produce and give those varieties the preference.

"PE-RU-NA NECESSARY TO THE HOME,"

PROF. TALFOURD SMITH.

Professor Talfourd Smith, Principal Siloam High School, Siloam, Ga., writes: "With much pleasure I recommend Peruna to all who may be suffering with any trouble of the respiratory organs. I have been using it in my family for the past five or six years and find it to be almost a household necessity. Peruna is truly a grand catarrh remedy and general tonic and will do all that is claimed for it by the manufacturers." ---PROF. TALFOURD SMITH.

Catarrh is inflammation of the mucous membrane. It may be in the mucous membrane lining the eyes or the pelvic organs, throat, stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys.

Catarrh is catarrh wherever located. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is an internal remedy; not a local application.

Catarrh is a systemic disease, not a local disease. If Peruna will cure catarrh in one place it will cure it in any other place, because Peruna is a systemic remedy. It reaches the disease through the circulation in each organ. It eradicates the disease by eradicating it from the system.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Morgan, which has caused a renewal of many long current rumors of financial projects and railroad deals, which are supposed to await his action to be put into force. A settlement of the coal strike and a decision on the question of the presidency of the United States Steel corporation are also supposed to await Mr. Morgan's action. The upward movement in Southern Pacific was aggressively renewed yesterday for the first time since the announcement of the proposed $100,000,000 mortgage to provide funds for betterments. This movement was also associated with the homeward bound movement of a well-known speculative leader, who has operated largely in it in the past.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Pure water is more essential than clean grass.

Even though turkeys are good foragers it will not pay to let them go without proper feeding.

Everything in the rearing of young poultry depends upon their care and management at least until well feathered.

Fowls inclined to fatten too easily are not good layers. The flesh they carry makes them lazy, and this never promotes laying.

Middlings make a good food for poultry, but if wet up alone it is too sticky. The better plan is to mix with bran or corn and wet with milk or scalding water.

Whitewash is better than paint on the poultry houses, for the reason that it costs less and has a purifying influence. It may be applied as often as once a month to advantage.

The properties of sunflower seed are peculiar, and a small quantity fed at the proper time will essentially aid in imparting to the plumage of adult fowls a gloss that no other grain will produce.

Gainsborough and His Carrier.

One of the earliest members of the Royal academy, it was Gainsborough's custom to have his pictures conveyed to the metropolis by a prosperous London carrier, a Mr. Wiltshire of Shockerwick, near Bath. This man refused to accept payment on the ground that he loved pictures too well. He was not, however, allowed to go unrewarded, for Gainsborough presented him with six of his best works, and some idea of their ultimate value may be gained from the fact that when at length they were sold the National gallery secured two, "The Parish Clerk of Bradford-on-Avon," for 500 guineas, and "The Harvest Wagon," for £2,500, these prices being considered low. Later "The Sisters" from another gallery realized close upon £10,000.

Nature and Poetry.

Environment aids poetry, but does not create it. Nature is the grand agent in making poetry, and poetry is present wherever nature is. It sparkles on the sea, glows in the rainbow, flashes from the lightning and the star, peals in thunder, roars in the cataract and sings on the winds. Poetry is God's image reflected in nature, as in a mirror, and nature is present wherever man is.

BREVITIES

NOTES OF NOTABLES.

John Mahin of Muscatine, Ia., has been editor of the Muscatine Journal for fifty years.

Prince Adelbert, third son of the kaiser, has opened a house of his own, especially built for him at Kiel. The lad is eighteen years old.

Marshall Field of Chicago is heading a movement to colonize the numberless abandoned farms in New England with farmers and mechanics from the old world.

The smallest woman in the world, so far as is known, is Chiquita, who was born at Matanzas, Cuba, in 1869. She is twenty-six inches in height and weighs eighteen pounds.

Captain Freeman, who saved the steamer Roddam from destruction during the recent volcanic eruption at St. Pierre, was recently presented with a silver medal by the Liverpool Shipwreck and Humane society.

John Budna, a citizen of Polish birth living at Marlborough, Ulster county, N. Y., has just become the happy father of his twenty-first child, a bouncing boy weighing sixteen pounds. All of the children are living.

Rudolph Aronson of New York, who recently gave the sultan of Morocco his first lesson on the piano, has been presented by his royal pupil with a magnificent Moorish sword, handsomely jeweled and of great value.

Governor Cummins of Iowa is one of the best authorities in that state upon forestry. He has mastered the subject thoroughly, having originally taken it up some years ago as an amusement and having stuck to it ever since.

James W. Ogden, a New York banker, who lives at Morristown, N. J., will present a new church building to the congregation of the Presbyterian church of Chatham, N. J., as a memorial to his father, who preached in the present church for fifty years.

The Marquis of Bute, who recently came into his title, is, according to the Montreal Star, among other things a baronet of Nova Scotia. There is one feature that all now holding this title have in common—none owns or ever did own an acre in Nova Scotia, and few ever saw the country.

Miss Laura Bigelow, daughter of the late John Bigelow, for many years European financial agent of the United States government, was recently married to ex-Senator Stephen Wallace Dorsey of Arkansas. Ex-Senator Dorsey is about sixty years old and is his bride's senior by more than a score of years.

THE FASHIONS.

Small pockets stitched on the left front of shirt waists are very chic and stylish.

The new idea in dainty dress trimming consists of ribbon fringed and trimmed with narrow lace.

When one must have a monogram on the shirt waist sleeve, the most effective plan is to select a butcher's linen shirt waist with the monogram in all white.

Rosettes and bows of plain satin or peau de soie ribbon are in the lead for ornamenting all sorts of muslin frocks and are of infinite variety of colors and adjustment.

For coolness and a fresh appearance nothing comes quite up to the lawn stock, with ends ready to tie in a smart bow; most of these are tucked and have nice little turnover collars.

REQUISITES TO SUCCESS.

An affable disposition, tact and discretion.

Absolute sobriety, persistency, grit and integrity.

The proper advertising of the proper thing at the proper time.

Attention to details, for these are the components of greater things.

Unremitting study of everything that pertains to or influences your business.

Personal supervision of your business. Depend upon no one but yourself.

Willingness to learn. The man who imagines himself a universal genius impairs his receptive capacity.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

August is the month in which to bud peach trees.

In selecting trees give preference to those with smooth, healthy looking bark.

Apples and peaches should not be picked or handled when wet with dew or rain.

Sulphide of potash is death to all kinds of plant mildew. Use one ounce to four gallons of water and apply in the form of a spray.

Before going into fruit culture find out what varieties your land is best adapted to produce and give those varieties the preference.

"PE-RU-NA NECESSARY TO THE HOME,"

PROF. TALFOURD SMITH.

Professor Talfourd Smith, Principal Siloam High School, Siloam, Ga., writes: "With much pleasure I recommend Peruna to all who may be suffering with any trouble of the respiratory organs. I have been using it in my family for the past five or six years and find it to be almost a household necessity. Peruna is truly a grand catarrh remedy and general tonic and will do all that is claimed for it by the manufacturers."—PROF. TALFOURD SMITH.

Catarrh is inflammation of the mucous membrane. It may be in the mucous membrane lining the eyes or the pelvic organs, throat, stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys.

Catarrh is catarrh wherever located. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is an internal remedy; not a local application.

Catarrh is a systemic disease, not a local disease. If Peruna will cure catarrh in one place it will cure it in any other place, because Peruna is a systemic remedy. It reaches the disease through the circulation in each organ. It eradicates the disease by eradicating it from the system.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

RELIGIOUS REVIVALS

Various Meetings Yesterday Conducted by Men Prominently Identified With This Branch of Church Work. Subjects of Addresses.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 20.—Yesterday was evangelist day at the National Winona Bible conference, the various meetings throughout the day being conducted by men prominently identified with that branch of work. At the opening session yesterday afternoon Fred B. Smith, of New York, spoke on "Evangelistic Work for Men." Rev. H. H. Wharton gave an interesting address on "Soul Winning," and "Doctrines to be Emphasized in Evangelistic Meetings" was the topic handled by Rev. W. E. Biederlwf. Dr. W. L. Munhall spoke on the "Art of Bible Teaching in Evangelistic Services." "Results to be Expected in Evangelistic Meetings" was handled by Rev. E. Stucker, of Chicago. Prof. R. R. Lloyd, of the San Francisco Congregational seminary, conducted the "hillside services." Rev. R. S. McArthur of New York, spoke last night on "The Pre-eminence of Christ." For the first time in the history of the church several hundred evangelists of all denominations are gathered.

Among these men of international reputation are Rev. L. W. Munhall and Rev. H. M. Wharton, of Philadelphia; Rev. S. H Hadley and Fred E. Smith, of New York; George B. Stewart, of Cleveland, Tenn.; Henry Varley, of England, who for 40 years has been doing evangelistic work, and Rev. W. A. Sunday, of Chicago. These men are holding private conferences, and at the first meeting yesterday was considered the preparatory work for a series of revival services throughout the United States. At this meeting some expressed themselves in favor of thorough organization, while others believed little or no organization is necessary.

A STEP TOWARD REUNION.

Methodist Publishing Interests, North and South, Enter Into an Agreement.

New York, Aug. 20.—A joint committee of publishing interests of the Methodist Episcopal church, and of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, recommend a plan for the union of all the publishing interests of the two churches in China and Mexico. It is the policy of the two denominations to avoid in the future all interference of duplication of equipment in the foreign missionary work.

No such harmony of interests between the two denominations of Methodism has been seen since the church was divided in 1844, and may be the first step in a reunion. Bishop Charles H. Fowler is opposed to this, but there are others strongly in favor of it.

He had filled all the leading pulpits in the Pittsburg conference, and was an exceptionally strong preacher. He was in vigorous health until his fatal illness and was on the program to preach the closing sermon at Tarentum camp meeting next Sunday, Aug. 24.

CATHOLIC AUTHORITIES' IDEA.

Use of Free Teachers Might Increase University Attendance.

Rome, Aug. 20.—The church authorities have received information that 4,085 Catholic students are attending secular universities in the United States, 500 of whom are at the University of Pennsylvania, while the Catholic university at Washington has only 100 students.

It is believed here that the discrepancy is due to the fact that the Catholic university at Washington undertook instruction in other branches of education in addition to theological studies without having means, apparatus or professors to compete with the great American colleges. The representative here of the Associated Press is authoritatively informed that the church knows no remedy for this lack of religious teaching of Catholic students attending secular universities in the United States except through the efforts of the bishops to induce the governing bodies of these universities to allow free teachers to lecture upon Christian history, science, religion, etc., as is done in the cases of other sects attending the same colleges.

ROBERT BURNS' BIRTHPLACE, RECENTLY RESTORED BY THE AID OF AMERICAN DOLLARS.

The 40,000 persons who annually visit Ayr, Scotland, for the purpose of seeing the cottage in which the poet Robert Burns was born, will hereafter find the humble dwelling restored to exactly the condition in which it was at the time of the interesting occurrence which was destined to make it famous. American dollars played a large part in bringing about the restoration. The wing in which the relics were formerly kept, and which formed no part of the original building, has been removed and the mementos of the poet are now kept in a separate structure.

A Hasty Conclusion.

A former Princeton man now living in Philadelphia tells of his only unpleasant encounter with Jimmy McCosh as an illustration of the beloved old tutor's innate kindliness. When a student, he was lounging on his bed one afternoon, smoking. In response to a knock on the door he called out:

"Who's there?"

"It is I—Dr. McCosh," came the reply.

"You're a liar!" answered the student, thinking one of his chums was trying to joke with him. "If you were really Dr. McCosh, you'd simply say, 'It is I.'"

After a second's silence the student heard retreating steps, rushed to the door and looked out to see Dr. McCosh himself scurrying down the corridor and around a corner in an endeavor to avoid recognition.—Philadelphia Times.

Napoleon's English Letter.

Napoleon began the study of English during his imprisonment in St. Helena. His instructor was Count Las Cases, to whom Napoleon wrote the only letter he is known ever to have written in English. It is somewhat of a literary curiosity and not well known, so it may be quoted here:

Count Las Cases—Since sixt week y learn the English and y do not any progress. Sixt week do fourty and two day. If might have learn fivty word, for day, I could know it two thousands and two hundred. It is in the dictionary more of fourty thousand; even he could most twenty; bot much of tems. For know it or hundred and twenty week, which do more two years. After this you will agree that the study one tongue is a great labor who it must do into the young aged.

A Bird That's Hard to Kill.

Penguins have an extraordinary amount of vitality and are harder to kill than any ordinary cat. I once had occasion to kill a large bird aboard our ship, the Southern Cross, and, making use of the weapon next my hand, I drove a large spike squarely through the creature's head and finished the operation by nailing it fast to the deck. That seemed to make the job very complete, and I went below decks for dinner. Coming up an hour later, my astonishment was prodigious on beholding the penguin, head erect, flippers out, waddling about, apparently without thought of the spike, which still remained transfixed in his cranium.—C. E. Borchgrevink in Leslie's.

Just the Thing.

"I don't know what to use to raise my bread," said the young wife petulantly. "I've tried everything."

"Judging by the samples I have seen," suggested her inhuman husband, "I should think a couple of jackscrews or a derrick ought to do it." And he wondered why he got a cold supper that night.—Portland Oregonian.

His Friends.

Jinks—I tell you what it is, there is nothing like having lots of friends.

Winks—I presume not.

Jinks—No, sirree. As quick as I lose a job my friends go all round hunting a new place for me so as to save me the trouble of borrowing money from them.

Longs No Longer.

Once upon a time there was a man who thought he wanted the earth. Then he had a vision and he dreamed he did own the earth. He thought the assessor came around, and he woke up with a groan. He has never wanted the earth since.—Hudson Register.

Meddle once signified "to concern oneself with." It is so used in the Scriptures, where the expression occurs. "Meddle with your own business."

Keeping Friends.

There is nothing so very difficult in making friends; the trouble is to keep them. Pleasing manners and a taking way will always win admirers, but a lasting friendship must be built upon a firmer foundation than a transitory smile, an hour of high spirits or even great physical beauty. Of course it is a pleasure to feel that one is favored by some radically beautiful woman, but unless there be genuine congeniality between the two concerned the time will come when passive loveliness will cease to be attractive. To retain friendship one must be continually on the watch and not let the familiarity that comes from a lengthy knowledge of the other's life breed the contempt that so often follows a close intimacy.

To retain either friendship or love the illusions must not be dispelled. Do not, because you feel sure of your ground, let the commonplace enter in and monopolize the everyday affairs. Let the halo of sentiment hover over even the prosaic affairs of daily life, for, once dispelled, they can never form again, and in the one glimpse of the material side of the intimacy may be utterly destroyed a relation at one time thought to be eternal.

A Snug Fit.

An English tourist in the highlands tells the following amusing story: He was traveling one day last summer by rail in the north of Scotland, and at one of the stations four farmers entered the train. They were all big, burly men and completely filled up the seat on the one side of the compartment.

At the next station the carriage door opened to admit a tall, cadaverous individual with about the girth of a lamp post. He endeavored to wedge himself in between two of the farmers, and finding it a difficult operation he said to one of them: "Excuse me, sir; you must move up a bit. Each seat is intended to accommodate five persons, and according to act of parliament you are only entitled to eighteen inches of space."

"Aye, aye, my friend," replied the farmer; "that's a' very guid for you that's been built that way, but ye canna blame me if I ha'na been construckit according to act of parliament!"

THE BELT OF FIRE

CHAIN OF VOLCANIC MOUNTAINS SURROUNDING THE PACIFIC OCEAN.

[Special Correspondence.]

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—Recent volcanic eruptions in Oregon, Washington and Alaska show that there is a "sympathetic feeling" in these vents which surround the Pacific ocean as a chain of fire. According to a local geologist, this chain begins in Tierra del Fuego (the land of fire), extends along the west slope of South America and Central America, only twenty or thirty miles wide, and broadens in Mexico to about 800 miles. The belt of fire then touches the gulf coast. From Mexico the belt extends northward to California, Oregon, Washington and follows the coast of British Columbia and Alaska, extending through the Aleutian islands, New Zealand and the Hawaiian Islands. The burning craters in Alaska, one of which recently began work, unites the chain of fire of the new world with the old, including Japan, Korea, Formosa and the Philippines, which latter perhaps may now be considered as of the new world. In Alaska this chain of slumbering fire contracts to about the width at the narrowest point in South America. In California and the northwest the belt of fire vents broaden to nearly 1,000 miles. The southern extremity of this belt line curves eastward, and the northern extremity curves westward, giving this 25,000 mile chain the shape of a huge S.

On the northwest coast of Oregon and Washington the chain widens into what is called the Cascade range, and all of these mountains have craters either at the summit or on the sides. There are seven in Oregon and five in Washington, ranging from 7,000 to 14,000 feet in height, Mount Ranier, in Washington, being the highest. One of these, Mount Mazana, 8,223 feet high, is one of the most remarkable extinct volcanoes on this continent. It is thirty miles north of Klamath lake and contains another lake, known as Crater lake, which is about 2,000 feet deep and is surrounded by nearly vertical walls of about the same height above the surface of the lake, which gives the crater a depth of about 4,000 feet. An eruption blew the mountain's head off, and the theory is that the melting of the glaciers caused the lake.

These mountains are of volcanic origin and are likely at any time to alarm the natives, as their activity is no doubt more or less affected by the others in the endless chain which circles the Pacific ocean.

Mount Hood, which has of late been emitting sulphurous fumes, like other extinct volcanoes, retains only a part of its original walls. In short, it has also blown its head off, like the others. It forms a picturesque background to Portland and no doubt would endanger that city if an eruption should occur.

Mount St. Helens, about 10,000 feet high, has been in eruption only once during the past half century, according to the statements of early settlers. The trappers who witnessed the explosion stated that the light was as bright as day, but they did not remain long enough to gather particulars.

Mount Ranier, the highest mountain, is considered to be the grandest and most picturesque single peak in the United States. Lovers of mountain scenery say that it is not so much because of its height, but from its isolated position and because in rises almost straight from the level of the sea. The crater of Mount Ranier is bowl shaped, of almost exact circular form.

Mount Shasta, in the northern part of California, is a typical volcanic formation. It has a double cone. The second, known as Shastina, or Little Shasta, is 2,000 feet below the summit. One of the immense lava streams extended fifty miles down the Sacramento canyon before cooling and displaced the Sacramento river. The eruption is of a very ancient date, and geologists are divided in opinion whether or not this eruption was so great as to cause the blowing out of the smaller vent, or Shastina.

HERE'S A GOOD THING

Something You Can Readily Believe As It's East Liverpool Evidence.

Mr. H. Rushton, of No. 387 West Market street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Before I used Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkins' Drug Store, I was bilious, head felt achy and dull. The effect of the medicine was to clear the head—give a feeling of strength, energy and new life. This I think justifies a recommendation."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

Very Useful in Hot Weather--

Life Plant

Gives You Strength, Drives Away That Tired Feeling and Makes Your Mental Qualities Active.

Many people become tired and get played out so easily in hot weather that they give up and blame it all on the weather, when, in fact, it's nothing more than your blood being out of order. Under such circumstances you should take a good tonic for your blood. LIFE PLANT is the best medicine on the market. Thousands are taking it and just as many are getting well. You don't have to go miles and miles away to find someone who has been cured by LIFE PLANT, they are all near here, in fact, some are your neighbors. You cannot sleep well, if you are less in flesh if your stomach is out of order, if you are constipated, if you have headaches, if your health is not satisfactory you should get a bottle of LIFE PLANT and you will be very thankful that such a good medicine is where you can get it.

The following letter from Geo. Farnworth, of Cambridge, Ohio, is assurance as to the merits of LIFE PLANT:

"I have tried all kinds of Headache medicine but could get no relief. I also had Stomach trouble and could not sleep well. LIFE PLANT did me more good than all the rest. LIFE PLANT is truly a medicine of merit."

Also a letter from C. T. Farnworth of Cambridge, Ohio, proves for LIFE PLANT what no other medicine will do:

"I was suffering from extreme prostration; was tired and run down, was nothing but skin and bone, and my trouble was thought to be Consumption. I took two bottles of LIFE PLANT and it cured me sound and well."

Ask for and get LIFE PLANT and you will make no mistake.

Peculiarities of Russian Winters.

There is one curious thing about a Russian winter—in the latter part of October or the beginning of November the weather will be as mild as it is here in September. Not a sign can be seen of an approaching change, when suddenly, without any apparent warning, a light haze will be seen in the northern sky, and in twenty-four hours the thermometer may fall 50 degrees. The change is so sudden and violent that travelers are frequently frozen to death before they can gain shelter.

It has occurred that farmers out looking after their flocks have been caught in one of these blizzards and, missing their way home, have lost their lives, their bodies remaining under the snow until the following spring. The suddenness of a Dakota blizzard is well known in the northwestern part of our country, but it is tardiness personified when compared with the rapidity with which a Russian winter storm comes on.

Three spectres that threaten baby's life. Cholera infantum, dysentery and diarrhoea. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry never fails to conquer them.

RELIGIOUS REVIVALS

Various Meetings Yesterday Conducted by Men Prominently Identified With This Branch of Church Work. Subjects of Addresses.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 20.—Yesterday was evangelist day at the National Winona Bible conference, the various meetings throughout the day being conducted by men prominently identified with that branch of work. At the opening session yesterday afternoon Fred B. Smith, of New York, spoke on "Evangelistic Work for Men." Rev. H. H. Wharton gave an interesting address on "Soul Winning," and "Doctrines to be Emphasized in Evangelistic Meetings" was the topic handled by Rev. W. E. Biederlwf. Dr. W. L. Munhall spoke on the "Art of Bible Teaching in Evangelistic Services." "Results to be Expected in Evangelistic Meetings" was handled by Rev. E. Stucker, of Chicago. Prof. R. R. Lloyd, of the San Francisco Congregational seminary, conducted the "hillside services." Rev. R. S. McArthur of New York, spoke last night on "The Pre-eminence of Christ." For the first time in the history of the church several hundred evangelists of all denominations are gathered.

Among these men of international reputation are Rev. L. W. Munhall and Rev. H. M. Wharton, of Philadelphia; Rev. S. H Hadley and Fred E. Smith, of New York; George B. Stewart, of Cleveland, Tenn.; Henry Varley, of England, who for 40 years has been doing evangelistic work, and Rev. W. A. Sunday, of Chicago. These men are holding private conferences, and at the first meeting yesterday was considered the preparatory work for a series of revival services throughout the United States. At this meeting some expressed themselves in favor of thorough organization, while others believed little or no organization is necessary.

A STEP TOWARD REUNION.

Methodist Publishing Interests, North and South, Enter Into an Agreement.

New York, Aug. 20.—A joint committee of publishing interests of the Methodist Episcopal church, and of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, recommend a plan for the union of all the publishing interests of the two churches in China and Mexico. It is the policy of the two denominations to avoid in the future all interference of duplication of equipment in the foreign missionary work.

No such harmony of interests between the two denominations of Methodism has been seen since the church was divided in 1844, and may be the first step in a reunion. Bishop Charles H. Fowler is opposed to this, but there are others strongly in favor of it.

REV. DR. LYNCH DEAD.

Pioneer Methodist Preacher Died In Tarentum, Pa.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—The Rev. William Lynch, one of the oldest members of the Pittsburg Methodist Episcopal conference, and pastor of the Eames Methodist Episcopal church at Creighton, died yesterday morning in Tarentum at 5 o'clock from a stroke of paralysis.

He had filled all the leading pulpits in the Pittsburg conference, and was an exceptionally strong preacher. He was in vigorous health until his fatal illness and was on the program to preach the closing sermon at Tarentum camp meeting next Sunday, Aug. 24.

CATHOLIC AUTHORITIES' IDEA.

Use of Free Teachers Might Increase University Attendance.

Rome, Aug. 20.—The church authorities have received information that 4,085 Catholic students are attending secular universities in the United States, 500 of whom are at the University of Pennsylvania, while the Catholic university at Washington has only 100 students.

It is believed here that the discrepancy is due to the fact that the Catholic university at Washington undertook instruction in other branches of education in addition to theological studies without having means, apparatus or professors to compete with the great American colleges. The representative here of the Associated Press is authoritatively informed that the church knows no remedy for this lack of religious teaching of Catholic students attending secular universities in the United States except through the efforts of the bishops to induce the governing bodies of these universities to allow free teachers to lecture upon Christian history, science, religion, etc., as is done in the cases of other sects attending the same colleges.

ROBERT BURNS' BIRTHPLACE, RECENTLY RESTORED BY THE AID OF AMERICAN DOLLARS.

The 40,000 persons who annually visit Ayr, Scotland, for the purpose of seeing the cottage in which the poet Robert Burns was born, will hereafter find the humble dwelling restored to exactly the condition in which it was at the time of the interesting occurrence which was destined to make it famous. American dollars played a large part in bringing about the restoration. The wing in which the relics were formerly kept, and which formed no part of the original building, has been removed and the mementos of the poet are now kept in a separate structure.

A Hasty Conclusion.

A former Princeton man now living in Philadelphia tells of his only unpleasant encounter with Jimmy McCosh as an illustration of the beloved old tutor's innate kindliness. When a student, he was lounging on his bed one afternoon, smoking. In response to a knock on the door he called out:

"Who's there?"

"It is I—Dr. McCosh," came the reply.

"You're a liar!" answered the student, thinking one of his chums was trying to joke with him. "If you were really Dr. McCosh, you'd simply say, 'It is I.'"

After a second's silence the student heard retreating steps, rushed to the door and looked out—to see Dr. McCosh himself scurrying down the corridor and around a corner in an endeavor to avoid recognition.—Philadelphia Times.

Napoleon's English Letter.

Napoleon began the study of English during his imprisonment in St. Helena. His instructor was Count Las Cases, to whom Napoleon wrote the only letter he is known ever to have written in English. It is somewhat of a literary curiosity and not well known, so it may be quoted here:

Count Las Cases—Since sixt week y learn the English and y do not any progress. Sixt week do fourty and two day. If might have learn fivty word, for day, I could know it two thousands and two hundred. It is in the dictionary more of fourty thousand; even he could most twenty; bot much of tems. For know it or hundred and twenty week, which do more two years. After this you will agree that the study one tongue is a great labor who it must do into the young aged.

A Bird That's Hard to Kill.

Penguins have an extraordinary amount of vitality and are harder to kill than any ordinary cat. I once had occasion to kill a large bird aboard our ship, the Southern Cross, and, making use of the weapon next my hand, I drove a large spike squarely through the creature's head and finished the operation by nailing it fast to the deck. That seemed to make the job very complete, and I went below decks for dinner. Coming up an hour later, my astonishment was prodigious on beholding the penguin, head erect, flippers out, waddling about, apparently without thought of the spike, which still remained transfixed in his cranium.—C. E. Borchgrevink in Leslie's.

Just the Thing.

"I don't know what to use to raise my bread," said the young wife petulantly. "I've tried everything."

"Judging by the samples I have seen," suggested her inhuman husband, "I should think a couple of jackscrews or a derrick ought to do it." And he wondered why he got a cold supper that night.—Portland Oregonian.

His Friends.

Jinks—I tell you what it is, there is nothing like having lots of friends.

Winks—I presume not.

Jinks—No, sirree. As quick as I lose a job my friends go all round hunting a new place for me so as to save me the trouble of borrowing money from them.

Longs No Longer.

Once upon a time there was a man who thought he wanted the earth. Then he had a vision and he dreamed he did own the earth. He thought the assessor came around, and he woke up with a groan. He has never wanted the earth since.—Hudson Register.

Meddle once signified "to concern oneself with." It is so used in the Scriptures, where the expression occurs, "Meddle with your own business."

Keeping Friends.

There is nothing so very difficult in making friends; the trouble is to keep them. Pleasing manners and a taking way will always win admirers, but a lasting friendship must be built upon a firmer foundation than a transitory smile, an hour of high spirits or even great physical beauty. Of course it is a pleasure to feel that one is favored by some radically beautiful woman, but unless there be genuine congeniality between the two concerned the time will come when passive loveliness will cease to be attractive. To retain friendship one must be continually on the watch and not let the familiarity that comes from a lengthy knowledge of the other's life breed the contempt that so often follows a close intimacy.

To retain either friendship or love the illusions must not be dispelled. Do not, because you feel sure of your ground, let the commonplace enter in and monopolize the everyday affairs. Let the halo of sentiment hover over even the prosaic affairs of daily life, for, once dispelled, they can never form again, and in the one glimpse of the material side of the intimacy may be utterly destroyed a relation at one time thought to be eternal.

A Snug Fit.

An English tourist in the highlands tells the following amusing story: He was traveling one day last summer by rail in the north of Scotland, and at one of the stations four farmers entered the train. They were all big, burly men and completely filled up the seat on the one side of the compartment.

At the next station the carriage door opened to admit a tall, cadaverous individual with about the girth of a lamp post. He endeavored to wedge himself in between two of the farmers, and finding it a difficult operation he said to one of them: "Excuse me, sir; you must move up a bit. Each seat is intended to accommodate five persons, and according to act of parliament you are only entitled to eighteen inches of space."

"Aye, aye, my friend," replied the farmer; "that's a' very guid for you that's been built that way, but ye canna blame me if I ha'na been constructit according to act of parliament!"

Addenda.

She—Oh, no; I admit you can't believe one-half the things you hear.

She—I guess that's so.

He—But you can usually repeat four-thirds, can't you?—Philadelphia Press.

THE BELT OF FIRE

CHAIN OF VOLCANIC MOUNTAINS SURROUNDING THE PACIFIC OCEAN.

[Special Correspondence.]

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—Recent volcanic eruptions in Oregon, Washington and Alaska show that there is a "sympathetic feeling" in these vents which surround the Pacific ocean as a chain of fire. According to a local geologist, this chain begins in Tierra del Fuego (the land of fire), extends along the west slope of South America and Central America, only twenty or thirty miles wide, and broadens in Mexico to about 800 miles. The belt of fire then touches the gulf coast. From Mexico the belt extends northward to California, Oregon, Washington and follows the coast of British Columbia and Alaska, extending through the Aleutian Islands, New Zealand and the Hawaiian Islands. The burning craters in Alaska, one of which recently began work, unites the chain of fire of the new world with the old, including Japan, Korea, Formosa and the Philippines, which latter perhaps may now be considered as of the new world. In Alaska this chain of slumbering fire contracts to about the width at the narrowest point in South America. In California and the northwest the belt of fire vents broaden to nearly 1,000 miles. The southern extremity of this belt line curves eastward, and the northern extremity curves westward, giving this 25,000 mile chain the shape of a huge S.

On the northwest coast of Oregon and Washington the chain widens into what is called the Cascade range, and all of these mountains have craters either at the summit or on the sides. There are seven in Oregon and five in Washington, ranging from 7,000 to 14,000 feet in height, Mount Ranier, in Washington, being the highest. One of these, Mount Mazama, 8,223 feet high, is one of the most remarkable extinct volcanoes on this continent. It is thirty miles north of Klamath lake and contains another lake, known as Crater lake, which is about 2,000 feet deep and is surrounded by nearly vertical walls of about the same height above the surface of the lake, which gives the crater a depth of about 4,000 feet. An eruption blew the mountain's head off, and the theory is that the melting of the glaciers caused the lake.

These mountains are of volcanic origin and are likely at any time to alarm the natives, as their activity is no doubt more or less affected by the others in the endless chain which circles the Pacific ocean.

Mount Hood, which has of late been emitting sulphurous fumes, like other extinct volcanoes, retains only a part of its original walls. In short, it has also blown its head off, like the others. It forms a picturesque background to Portland and no doubt would endanger that city if an eruption should occur.

Mount St. Helens, about 10,000 feet high, has been in eruption only once during the past half century, according to the statements of early settlers. The trappers who witnessed the explosion stated that the light was as bright as day, but they did not remain long enough to gather particulars.

Mount Ranier, the highest mountain is considered to be the grandest and most picturesque single peak in the United States. Lovers of mountain scenery say that it is not so much because of its height, but from its isolated position and because in rises almost straight from the level of the sea. The crater of Mount Ranier is bowl shaped, of almost exact circular form.

Mount Shasta, in the northern part of California, is a typical volcanic formation. It has a double cone. The second, known as Shastina, or Little Shasta, is 2,000 feet below the summit. One of the immense lava streams extended fifty miles down the Sacramento canyon before cooling and displaced the Sacramento river. The eruption is of a very ancient date, and geologists are divided in opinion whether or not this eruption was so great as to cause the blowing out of the smaller vent, or Shastina.

HERE'S A GOOD THING

Mr. H. Rushton, of No. 287 West Market street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Before I used Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkins' Drug Store, I was bilious, head felt achy and dull. The effect of the medicine was to clear the head—give a feeling of strength, energy and new life. This I think justifies a recommendation."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

Life Plant

Gives You Strength, Drives Away That Tired Feeling and Makes Your Mental Qualities Active.

Many people become tired and get played out so easily in hot weather that they give up and blame it all on the weather, when, in fact, it's nothing more than your blood being out of order. Under such circumstances you should take a good tonic for your blood. LIFE PLANT is the best medicine on the market. Thousands are taking it and just as many are getting well. You don't have to go miles and miles away to find someone who has been cured by LIFE PLANT, they are all near here, in fact, some are your neighbors. If you cannot sleep well, if you are losing flesh, if your stomach is out of order, if you are constipated, if you have headaches, if your health is not satisfactory you should get a bottle of LIFE PLANT and you will be very thankful that such a good medicine is where you can get it.

The following letter from Geo Barnworth, of Cambridge, Ohio, is assurance as to the merits of LIFE PLANT:

"I have tried all kinds of Headache medicine but could get no relief. I also had Stomach trouble and could not sleep well. LIFE PLANT did me more good than all the rest. LIFE PLANT is truly a medicine of merit."

Also a letter from C. T. Burkworth of Cambridge, Ohio, proves for LIFE PLANT what no other medicine will do:

"I was suffering from extreme prostration; was tired and run down, was nothing but skin and bone, and my trouble was thought to be Consumption. I took two bottles of LIFE PLANT and it cured me sound and well."

Peculiarities of Russian Winters.

There is one curious thing about a Russian winter—in the latter part of October or the beginning of November the weather will be as mild as it is here in September. Not a sign can be seen of an approaching change, when suddenly, without any apparent warning, a light haze will be seen in the northern sky, and in twenty-four hours the thermometer may fall 50 degrees. The change is so sudden and violent that travelers are frequently frozen to death before they can gain shelter.

It has occurred that farmers out looking after their flocks have been caught in one of these blizzards and, missing their way home, have lost their lives, their bodies remaining under the snow until the following spring. The suddenness of a Dakota blizzard is well known in the northwestern part of our country, but it is tardiness personified when compared with the rapidity with which a Russian winter storm comes on.

TWO WORKMEN SHOT.

Wounded by Unknown Person at a Washery, Near Scranton, Pa.

A DYNAMITE OUTRAGE OCCURS.

Front Door of House Wrecked and Inmates Frightened—Had Been Warned—Troops Sent to Panther Creek Valley.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 20.—At the Edgerton washery of the Temple Iron company, at Edgerton, 16 miles north of this place, at a late hour Monday night, James Connolly, foreman of the washery, and Forest Crossman, a workman, were shot and seriously wounded by some unknown person. Connolly will lose the sight of one eye and Crossman had to have his left leg amputated above the knee.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 20.—Warrants were sworn out yesterday afternoon for the arrest of Charles Thain and John R. Mullery, editor and business manager respectively of the Courier Herald, of this city, the official organ of the striking miners of the Wyoming region. The prosecutors are men employed by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, who allege that the Courier Herald called them unfair workmen and held them up to ridicule. Thain and Mullery had already been under $11,000 bail on the same charge.

Thain and Mulery were taken before Magistrate Pollock yesterday afternoon and held in $12,000 bail for a further hearing on Friday. The bail was furnished by County Commissioner Finn and others.

A Dynamite Outrage.

Unknown parties exploded a stick of dynamite under the front door of John Workis' house, in Pittston township, early yesterday morning. The door was wrecked and the inmates of the house were badly frightened. Six men were lodged in the dwelling, and two of them are working in the mines. It is said that the two men, who continue to work, were warned that if they did not remain at home harm would come to them.

Tamaqua, Pa., Aug. 20.—General Gobin, who is in command of the battalion of the Twelfth regiment, national guard of Pennsylvania, sent from Shenandoah to the Panther Creek valley yesterday morning, opened temporary headquarters in the town last night.

The funeral of Patrick Sharpe, the strike leader who was shot and killed at Nesquehoning Monday night by a deputy, will take place Thursday. All the miners' local unions in the region are making arrangements to march to Lansford and attend the funeral, and General Gobin will probably station troops along the route to be taken by the funeral.

Yesterday afternoon Thomas Duffy, president of district No. 7, and Peter Gallagher, member of the executive board, went to Mauch Chunk to engage counsel and to make arrangements to push the prosecution of the deputy charged with the shooting of Sharpe.

Protests Against Presence of Troops.

Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 20.—President Thomas Duffy, of District No. 7, United Mine Workers, has sent a formal protest against the presence of the Twelfth regiment at Manile park, near Coaldale. The note to Governor Stone declares that the situation does not require the troops and that an investigation by the governor would confirm the truth of the statement.

New York, Aug. 20.—The presidents of the anthracite coal roads had their usual weekly conference here yesterday. Before going to the meeting Mr. Truesdale, president of the Lackawanna Railroad company, said:

"There is no foundation in fact for the rumor that the anthracite coal operators will make concessions in order to end the strike. I think work will be resumed in time to produce plenty of coal for the fall demand. The operators are ready, as they always have been ready, to adjust with their men any grievances that they may have and they have never discriminated against any of their men because they have belonged to the union. What the operators will not do is to discuss their business affairs with outsiders."

AGED WOMEN ASSAULTED.

Received Terrible Injuries From Negro, Who Plead Guilty to Burglary and Felony.

Ashtabula, O., Aug. 20.—John Crooms, a negro, is in the Ashtabula county jail at Jefferson, charged with a serious offense. Shortly after midnight yesterday morning it is alleged that he entered the residence of two aged women, who reside alone in East Ashtabula street, Jefferson, and attacked them in a most brutal manner. One of them the assailant attacked with his teeth, lacerating her arm and nearly severing one ear. The women are the Misses Sabrina and Harriet Hotchkiss. Sabrina is 70 years old and Hariet about 76.

One report is to the effect that the fellow was after money.

At noon yesterday Crooms was arraigned and pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary and felony, and was bound over to appear before the grand jury under bonds of $500.

Sabrina was the one bitten and last night it was feared she was internally injured from a blow on the chest.

SOME TRI-STATE EVENTS.

The smallpox epidemic has been wiped out at Marion, O. In all there were about 30 cases and six deaths.

D. Hoy, of Marion, O., a relative of the late Archbishop Corrigan, is co-heir with Nashville (Ind.) people to the millions left by a relative in Ireland, who operated the largest linen factories there.

At Findlay, O., while in apparent good health, Mrs. Rebecca Carr told her children she was going to die soon. A short time later she lay down on a couch and was soon a corpse.

At Springfield, O. Henry Eisenmenger, a well-known citizen, bled to death. For several months he has been suffering from glandular trouble and the glands burst.

J. F. Bash, aged 48, of Roseville near Zanesville, O., died of lockjaw. A week ago Mr. Bash ran a nail into his foot, which resulted in gangrene and finally lockjaw.

The Ohio Fuel Supply company drilled in a 3,000,000 gas well near Lancaster, O. The company is connecting Zanesville with the Lickingcounty field.

Harley Goss was brought to Circleville, O., with one side of his head crushed in and one of his ears missing. He says he fell from a bridge.

At Columbus, O., Mayor Hinkle appointed Clarence Sutphen, E. L. Pocock and G. J. Marriott to investigate the affairs of the city workhouse.

At Springfield, O., the divorce suit brought by Edith Snyder from Charles Snyder, a wealthy farmer, was dismissed at her request.

The local option election at Raymond, near Marysville, O., under the Beal law, resulted in a victory for the "drys" by 315 to 90.

At Circleville, O., Ollie Richards fell from a train. Her skull was fractured and her condition is serious.

Roy Perrine, aged 24, of Orangeville, near Warren, O., was drowned. He fell from a boat.

At Loudonville, O., local capitalists have formed a stock company to build a new hotel at a cost of $20,000.

At Morgantown, W. Va., Thornton Pickenbaugh, aged 65, died of heart disease. He left an estate valued at $300,000. Two children, Mrs. J. L. Roemer, of Chillicothe, O., and J. C. Pickenbaugh, of Morgantown, with his widow, survive him.

William Douglass, who shot and instantly killed William and Fred Johnson, brothers, at Anderson, is now in the county jail at Fairmont, W. Va. Douglass says he shot in self-defense.

George Callaway, who, it is charged, attempted to kill Ike Johnson near Fayetteville, W. Va., was lodged in jail at Fayetteville.

The strike at the Central Glass works, at Wheeling, W. Va., involving 700 employes, was settled. Work will be resumed.

At Greensburg, Pa., W. S. Byers filed his affidavit of defense in the suit of his uncle, Jacob Byers, in the prothonotary's office. The concluding statement of the affidavit contains a general denial of his indebtedness to his uncle in the several items that were set forth by the latter or for any other sum whatever.

Christopher Ennis, of McKeesport the Pittsburg and Western brakeman whose head was severed last Friday night at New Castle, Pa., junction by a shifting engine, was probably murdered, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury. There was a long clean cut on the top of Enis' head and the jury think he was murdered and his body placed on the track to be mutilated.

LOOKED LIKE A NIGHT ATTACK.

Torpedo Flotilla Engaged In Some Sort of Manoeuvres, Ships Apparently Watchful.

Rockport, Mass., Aug. 20.—The torpedo flotilla which yesterday was attached to the fleet commanded by Rear Admiral Higginson executed manoeuvres last night which somewhat resembled an attack under cover of darkness. The fleet did not put out its anchor lights at dark, and the vessels were scarcely discernable from shore all the evening. It was supposed that the fleet was making ready for sail, for an incoming craft reported that the funnels of all the vessels were belching forth smoke, as if fires were being raked up to quick steaming heat. The torpedo boats which had proceeded southward about four miles during the afternoon and anchored off the Gloucester shore also were lost to view at dark.

Just after 10 o'clock last night observers on shore saw a rocket go up far out to sea. Then another went off to the northward, and quickly others went up, seemingly from vessels sailing on an arc. The instant the first rocket was seen all the searchlights of the fleet were turned on and, as if by magic, the vessels were ablaze with lights, where an instant before they were in darkness. The rocket display lasted 20 minutes, and it could be seen that the incoming craft were converging as they neared shore. At midnight the torpedo flotilla came into the bay and anchored near the flagship Kearsarge. Signalling continued for some time among the vessels of the fleet and the searchlights were used for some minutes. After the torpedo boats anchored the fleet resumed its normal night appearance.

MOROS FIGHT MOROS.

Inter-Tribal Battle Occurred Near Camp Vickers, Mindanao.

THIRTY-FIVE MEN WERE KILLED.

Many Others Wounded—No Americans Concerned In the Trouble—Believed Chaffee Will Increase Force and Issue an Ultimatum.

Manila, Aug. 20.—There were no developments yesterday in the Moro situation on the island of Mindanao. General Chaffee was expected to reach Cebu on the transport Ingalls yesterday morning, but the vessel's arrival at that port had not been reported. It is possible that General Chaffee has decided to shorten his trip to the southern islands and return to Manila direct. An order received from the war department at Washington leaving action in the Moro situation to General Chaffee's discretion has been transmitted to him in the south, but has probably not yet reached him.

It is believed here that General Chaffee will increase the American forces on Mindanao and issue an ultimatum to the hostile Moros. There are at present 27,000 American troops in the Philippine islands, a goodly portion of which could be spared for active service.

Captain John J. Pershing, of the Fifteenth cavalry, who is in command of the American column at Lanao, Mindanao, has reported a fierce Moro inter-tribal fight near Camp Vickers, Mindanao. The contending factions met at Webding. Thirty-five men were killed outright and many others were wounded. No Americans were concerned in the trouble.

R. R. REMINGTON NOT INSANE.

His Business Associates Declare It Impossible—Body Taken to Williamsport, Pa.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20.—Edward D. Remington, brother of Robert Reading Remington, who killed himself at the Newport reading room Monday, arrived from Pittsburg at 7 o'clock last night and two hours later left for the former home of the family at Williamsport, Pa., where his brother's body will be buried. With Mr. Remington were two clerks from his Pittsburg office, who were prepared to take down any statements which were made concerning the death of Robert Remington.

Mr. Remington said he was extremely surprised at what he had read in the papers ascribing the suicide of his brother to mental derangement. The last time he saw his brother, he said, was in April, just prior to the announcement of his engagement to Miss Van Alen, and there was then no evidence of any mental change whatever. On passing through New York yesterday he said he stopped at his brother's office and closely questioned business associates, who all declared that it was impossible that Robert Remington's mind was unbalanced.

The body remained at the undertaker's all day yesterday and the casket was covered with roses sent by friends.

SIX LOST IN FIRE.

Two Other Persons Badly Injured In New York Tenement Fire.

New York, Aug. 20.—Something exploded in a furniture store on the ground floor of the double tenement at No. 35 Essex street yesterday, and before the tenants could escape the building was a mass of flames.

Before the flames were under control, two women and four children had burned to death, and a man and a woman were carried to Gouveneur hospital, suffering painful injuries. Several others were badly burned.

The dead are: Mrs. Annie Bolochin, 32 years old; Mrs. Joseph Knott, Sallie Leibwitz, 8 years old; Louis Leibwitz, 6; Jules Leibwitz, 5; Morris Leibwitz, 3.

The persons seriously injured were Mrs. Rosa Mieses, who was burned about the body and face, and Jacob Muscovitz, who suffered three broken ribs by jumping to the pavement.

The money loss by the fire was $5,000.

"Itching hemorrhoids" were the plague of my life. Was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley Street.

TWO WORKMEN SHOT.

Wounded by Unknown Person at a Washery, Near Scranton, Pa.

A DYNAMITE OUTRAGE OCCURS.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 20.—At the Edgerton washery of the Temple Iron company, at Edgerton, 16 miles north of this place, at a late hour Monday night, James Connolly, foreman of the washery, and Forest Crossman, a workman, were shot and seriously wounded by some unknown person. Connolly will lose the sight of one eye and Crossman had to have his left leg amputated above the knee.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 20.—Warrants were sworn out yesterday afternoon for the arrest of Charles Thain and John R. Mullery, editor and business manager respectively of the Courier Herald, of this city, the official organ of the striking miners of the Wyoming region. The prosecutors are men employed by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, who allege that the Courier Herald called them unfair workmen and held them up to ridicule. Thain and Mullery had already been under $11,000 bail on the same charge.

Thain and Mulery were taken before Magistrate Pollock yesterday afternoon and held in $12,000 bail for a further hearing on Friday. The bail was furnished by County Commissioner Finn and others.

A Dynamite Outrage.

Unknown parties exploded a stick of dynamite under the front door of John Workis' house, in Pittston township, early yesterday morning. The door was wrecked and the inmates of the house were badly frightened. Six men were lodged in the dwelling, and two of them are working in the mines. It is said that the two men, who continue to work, were warned that if they did not remain at home harm would come to them.

Tamaqua, Pa., Aug. 20.—General Gobin, who is in command of the battalion of the Twelfth regiment, national guard of Pennsylvania, sent from Shenandoah to the Panther Creek valley yesterday morning, opened temporary headquarters in the town last night.

The funeral of Patrick Sharpe, the strike leader who was shot and killed at Nesquehoning Monday night by a deputy, will take place Thursday. All the miners' local unions in the region are making arrangements to march to Lansford and attend the funeral, and General Gobin will probably station troops along the route to be taken by the funeral.

Yesterday afternoon Thomas Duffy, president of district No. 7, and Peter Gallagher, member of the executive board, went to Mauch Chunk to engage counsel and to make arrangements to push the prosecution of the deputy charged with the shooting of Sharpe.

Protests Against Presence of Troops.

Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 20.—President Thomas Duffy, of District No. 7, United Mine Workers, has sent a formal protest against the presence of the Twelfth regiment at Manile park, near Coaldale. The note to Governor Stone declares that the situation does not require the troops and that an investigation by the governor would confirm the truth of the statement.

New York, Aug. 20.—The presidents of the anthracite coal roads had their usual weekly conference here yesterday. Before going to the meeting Mr. Truesdale, president of the Lackawanna Railroad company, said:

"There is no foundation in fact for the rumor that the anthracite coal operators will make concessions in order to end the strike. I think work will be resumed in time to produce plenty of coal for the fall demand. The operators are ready, as they always have been ready, to adjust with their men any grievances that they may have and they have never discriminated against any of their men because they have belonged to the union. What the operators will not do is to discuss their business affairs with outsiders."

AGED WOMEN ASSAULTED.

Received Terrible Injuries From Negro, Who Plead Guilty to Burglary and Felony.

Ashtabula, O., Aug. 20.—John Crooms, a negro, is in the Ashtabula county jail at Jefferson, charged with a serious offense. Shortly after midnight yesterday morning it is alleged that he entered the residence of two aged women, who reside alone in East Ashtabula street, Jefferson, and attacked them in a most brutal manner. One of them the assailant attacked with his teeth, lacerating her arm and nearly severing one ear. The women are the Misses Sabrina and Harriet Hotchkiss. Sabrina is 70 years old and Hariet about 76.

One report is to the effect that the fellow was after money.

At noon yesterday Crooms was arraigned and pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary and felony, and was bound over to appear before the grand jury under bonds of $500.

Sabrina was the one bitten and last night it was feared she was internally injured from a blow on the chest.

CROWDS OF DAWSONS

ANNUAL REUNION OF THE FAMILY BEING HELD.

Two Deaths of Expected Visitors Mar the Pleasure of the Rest.

The Dawson family reunion is being held at Rock Springs today. The annual large crowd is expected, and they began to arrive at an early hour. The family and its connections are scattered through the three states, Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, and the officers began to arrange for the business meeting early this morning. The officers are: President, W. F. Dawson, East Liverpool; Vice President, J. H. Dawson, East Liverpool; Secretary and Treasurer, Harry Boyde, Beaver. It has been customary in former years to hold the business meeting in the forenoon, and after that the remainder of the day is given over to the various amusements provided by the park management.

A death in the family will affect the attendance to some extent. Mrs. George Dawson of Beaver, died at her home in that city yesterday. She was past 60 years of age, and her death was quite sudden. She is mourned by her husband and four children, three daughters and one son, all residing in Beaver. The funeral will be held there tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Dawson was a cousin of Mrs. Senator M. S. Quay.

Another death, which occured at Chillicothe prevented about ten others from attending the reunion. It was that of Mrs. Stella Carothers. She died suddenly last Saturday, and was buried yesterday. She was one of the Dawson connections, and her death prevented quite a number from this part of the state from attending the reunion. Another person absent from the reunion was R. D. Carothers, aged 84 years, and who resides at Marietta. It was expected that he would be present at the gathering today, but this was prevented.

SMALLER CITIES

JUDGE SHAUCK WOULD HAVE THE DIVIDING LINE 5,000.

His Opinoin of the Nash Code Bill And Needed Legislation.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—Justice John A. Shauck, of the supreme court of Ohio, in discussing Governor Nash's code, gave it as his judgment that it should be amended so as to place all municipalities with a population of 5,000 or more in the city class. He regards the code upon the whole as being satisfactory.

"There is no trouble about registration in cities," said he. "Registration laws do not confer corporate powers and there is nothing to prevent the legislature providing that there shall be registration in all cities of 15,000 or more. Were I givernor I would advise the legislature to pass the code bill and then provide for the appointment of three non-partisan commissions—one to draft a complete new election law for the state, another to codify and prepare a draft for a school code and a third to take up the question of county officers' salaries and prepare a complete county law for the state."

NON-SUPPORT CASE

Clyde Blazier Promises to Provide for His Minor Child Hereafter.

Clyde Blazier was arrested yesterday by Constable Powell on an information made in the court of Justice Rose by his wife, charging him with the non-support of a minor child. Blazier was arrainged, pleaded guilty, and was bound over to court in the sum of $100.

A compromise was effected later, the provisions of which were that Blazier should pay $5 per week toward the support of his child. He also paid the costs.

Quarantine Raised.

For the first time in many months the city is absolutely without contagious disease. Health Officer Burgess reports the last two cases which he had under his direction, and he has them all recovered sufficiently to warrant the raising the quarantine from the houses where families were afflicted. They were Thomas Jackson's, in Grove alley, and Jefferson Green's, in the East End.

Notice to Teachers.

The city board of school examiners will hold an examination in high school room of Central school building East Liverpool, Ohio, Thursday, August 28, 1902. The examination to begin at 8 o'clock, a. m., city time.

CUADALUPE SHRINE

THE MOST DEARLY BELOVED SPOT IN OLD MEXICO.

Thousands From All Over the Country Make Pilgrimages to the Little Village Each Year—The Story That Is Handed Down by Tradition.

There is no spot in all Mexico as dearly beloved as the little town of Cuadalupe, which is two and a half miles north of the City of Mexico.

The little village has only 3,000 souls, but many more thousands visit the place on certain days in the year when pilgrimages are made to the holy shrine of Cuadalupe.

The 1st of January and the 12th of each month the faithful visit this place and toil up the hill on which it is said that the virgin Cuadalupe appeared to Juan Diego, an Indian boy.

According to tradition, Juan was trudging over the hill of Tepeyac on his way to the city on the morning of Dec. 9, 1531, and as he reached the eastern slope of the hill he heard sounds like music. He stopped to listen, and at that moment a cloud appeared and in the midst of it a beautiful lady. She told him to go to the Bishop in her name and to tell him that it was her wish that a church should be built on that spot, where she would always be found to give aid to all in trouble. Juan Diego hurried to the bishop with the story of the virgin, but no attention was paid to it. Upon his return home the lady appeared again in the same spot and urged Juan to go again to the bishop.

The following day was the Sabbath and after mass Juan found the bishop and repeated the message once more. The bishop told him to bring a sign from the virgin. Juan saw the virgin again upon his return home, and she promised to give him a sign, which she did on Dec. 12 as he was going to confession. He passed this time near the foot of the hill, where she appeared once more, and while in conversation with Juan she stamped her foot by way of emphasis, and water flowed at once from the dry, barren hillside, and two holy wells mark that spot today.

The virgin then told Juan to climb to the summit of that barren rocky hill and he would find roses growing there, which he was to gather and carry in his "tilma" to the bishop. Juan did as he was told and found the loveliest roses growing just where she had told him to search for them. He gathered them all and placed them in his "tilma," a sort of blanket.

When he arrived at the house of the bishop and opened the blanket, the roses fell to the floor, and a picture in colors appeared on the blanket representing the virgin as she had appeared to Juan. The bishop fell on his knees in prayer and arose with a promise to build a chapel on the spot the virgin had designated.

Bishop Zumarraga set about to build the church, and when it was completed the "tilma" was placed above the altar in a frame of gold and silver.

That little chapel has since been replaced by the magnificent church to be seen today. There are also two other churches to mark the spot on which the roses were gathered on the summit and at the holy well where the virgin last appeared to Juan. This miracle was recognized in 1663, and in 1754 it was fully sanctioned and confirmed by a papal bull. Later, in 1824, congress decreed Dec. 12 to be a national holiday.

Hidalgo took a picture of Guadalupe for his standard, around which rallied the first army of the revolutionists, and the happy issue that her assistance gave to that war endeared her still more to the people. This picture on the "tilma" is a wonderful piece of work. Artists from all over the world have examined it and have testified that it is of no known style of painting. The Indian garment of ixtli fiber is of a coarse weave. The picture appears on both sides of the cloth and is as bright as new, although said to be over 300 years old. The Church of Nuestra Senora de Guadalupe, in which this marvelous picture hangs, is said by experts to be one of the richest and handsomest on earth today. Its treasures can be counted by millions. It was dedicated May 1, 1709, and is 184 feet long by 122 feet wide. It has a vaulted roof, supported by Corinthian columns. The whole is surmounted by a dome, the lantern of which is 125 feet above the floor. The building cost $1,184,000. The jewels, gold and silver plate and other rich belongings nearly all belong to the government and are estimated at $2,000,000 more.

The church possesses a very costly crown for the virgin. It is of solid gold and weighs many pounds. There are six shields on the crown for the six archbishops of Mexico, and they are all surrounded by diamonds. There are a number of angels, each having an immense ruby on the breast, while the rest of the surface of the crown is covered with sapphires and emeralds. This crown is surmounted by the Mexican eagle, holding aloft a large diamond cross.

The poor pilgrims are not able, many of them, to form an idea of the richness of this church, with its communion rail and balustrades from the sanctuary to the choir of solid silver. They are three feet high, with a top molding a foot wide and a still more massive base. The sacred vessels are all of pure gold embedded with precious stones. The choir has some fine carvings done in ebony and mahogany. The finest is a basso relievo above the stalls, illustrating the litany of the virgin.

Artists were brought from France to paint the frescoes on the walls, and the paintings and statues were the work of the best European artists and sculptors. The organ in itself represents a small fortune.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A HARD HEADED FARMER.

The Way He Held Up a Prince With a Pitchfork.

When Edward VII. of England was an undergraduate at Oxford university, he had an adventure which led a newspaper of that time to describe the prince as a prisoner. It said that "not very far from Oxford, at a place called Steeple Barton, there was a farmer named Hedges, a man of much independence of character, commonly known as 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges.'

"On one occasion the prince and his friends were out with the South Oxfordshire hounds, but, finding little sport, they resolved on riding home across country. This they did, galloping over the lands of Farmer Hedges and presently riding into his farmyard. There they were confronted by the farmer himself, armed with a fork. He closed the gates and informed the party bluntly that they had been trespassing on his ground and trampling on his young wheat and that he would not allow one of them to leave his farmyard until he had paid a fine of a sovereign for the damage done.

"They whispered that the prince himself was of the party. 'Prince or no prince,' he replied shortly, 'I'll have my money.' There was little glory to be had by fighting a resolute farmer armed with a fork. They therefore made up their minds to pay, prince and all. When he had the money in his pocket, and not till then, 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges' opened the gates and let them go."—Philadelphia Times.

He Was Dead.

The English papers tell this story of an incident in a revision court:

A certain person who figured on the register was objected to by one of the agents on the ground that he was dead. The revising barrister declined to accept the assurance, however, and demanded conclusive testimony on the point.

Thereupon the agent of the other side rose and gave corroborative evidence as to the decease of the gentleman in question.

"And pray, sir, how do you know the man's dead?" demanded the barrister.

"Well," was the reply, "I don't know. It's very difficult to prove."

"As I suspected," returned the irate barrister. "You don't know whether he's dead or not."

The barrister glanced triumphantly around the court. His expression gradually underwent a change as the witness coolly continued:

"I was saying, sir, that I don't know whether he is dead or not, but I do know this—they buried him about a month ago on suspicion."

Donkeys In Mexico.

There are two classes of donkeys in Mexico—one with four feet and the other with two. Each is a kind of competitor of the other. Sometimes they are partners. They are both bearers of burdens and the subjects of brutality. Everywhere you see the donkey loaded down with sacks of ore, baskets of dirt, cans of milk, sacks of water, and you find his driver very often loaded in the same way. These combinations sometimes go two by two, and sometimes there will be a band of ten to fifty thus loaded, coming down the mountains with ore, charcoal or wood, corn or whatever may be needed in the villages or cities. It is indeed a mediæval life in middle and southern Mexico.

Attention to the Children.

THE WHISTLE WAS SILENT.

Why His New Set of Teeth Didn't Help the Blower.

A small town in Posen, near the Silesian frontier, still keeps that relic of other centuries, the night watchman who calls the hours. One night—the London Telegraph tells this remarkable story—one of these watchmen, an old worthy long in service, failed to blow his whistle when the clock struck the hour.

The burgomaster summoned the delinquent to account for his negligence. After some hesitation he declared that his last tooth had dropped out and that he could not hold in his mouth the official flat tin whistle.

A council was called, and the subject was gravely discussed. Finally one of the members said that he had heard of a dentist at Breslau who supplied artificial teeth. After long debate the council appropriated money to send the aged watchman to Breslau to get a set of new teeth.

In due time the watchman reported that his teeth had arrived. That night the burgomaster sat up to hear the result. To his astonishment there was no whistle at 10, at 11 or at midnight. The next morning he summoned the watchman.

"You have got your teeth," he said indignantly. "Why do you not whistle as before?"

"Yes, I've got a new set of teeth," replied the old man, "but the doctor told me to put them in water at night."

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Baptist Social—The ladies of the Baptist church gave a very pleasant ice cream social last evening. It was quite largely attended and greatly enjoyed.

Entertained Friends—Master Carl E. Berg entertained his Sunday school class of the M. P. church and a number of his friends at his home on Jefferson street yesterday from 4 to 7 o'clock. It was a most enjoyable affair.

Met With a Mishap—Miss Ida Tence, stenographer for the American Tin Plate company, Chester, met with a very painful accident Monday noon on Washington street, spraining her ankle. She will be unable to walk for at least two weeks.

Papers Were Late—Owing to trouble with the machinery the News Review was late in reaching its subscribers last evening. Arrangements are being effected whereby in a few days all patrons will be able to secure their papers even earlier than usual.

No More Packets—There will be no Pittsburg packets, until there is another rise in the Ohio. Wheeling is now the practical head of navigation upon the Ohio. The Queen City could get up no farther than there yesterday. There are less than three feet of water here.

Child's Arm Broken—Olga Bowman, aged five, residing with her parents on May street, while playing about her home last evening, accidentally fell and broke her left arm an inch above the elbow. The child was assisted to her home where her injury was dressed by a physician.

Sirius Club Foot Ball Team — The Sirius club, of this city, will have a foot ball club in the field this fall, and the first steps toward organization have been taken. A meeting was held Monday evening when it was decided to form a club, and at the next meeting a team will be selected.

Resigned Her Position—Miss Mercedes Gladden, who for the past four years has been employed as toll operator at the Bell Telephone exchange, has resigned her position and will go to Connellsville with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Gladden, who will remove to that town soon. The position made vacant by this resignation has been filled by promotion.

Respected in Steubenville—It appears that Al. Bougher, arrested here on the charge of stealing money from Terry Carman, and later released, is very highly thought of in Steubenville. He was formerly in the employ of the Adams Express Company in that city and while with the company handled thousands of dollars and no complaint was ever made.

ANNUAL REUNION OF THE FAMILY BEING HELD.

Two Deaths of Expected Visitors Mar the Pleasure of the Rest.

The Dawson family reunion is being held at Rock Springs today. The usual large crowd is expected, and they began to arrive at an early hour. The family and its connections are scattered through the three states, Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, and the officers began to arrange for the business meeting early this morning. The officers are: President, W. F. Dawson, East Liverpool; Vice-President, J. H. Dawson, East Liverpool; Secretary and Treasurer, Harry Boyde, Beaver. It has been customary in former years to hold the business meeting in the forenoon, and after that the remainder of the day is given over to the various amusements provided by the park management.

A death in the family will affect the attendance to some extent. Mrs. George Dawson of Beaver, died at her home in that city yesterday. She was past 60 years of age, and her death was quite sudden. She is mourned by her husband and four children, three daughters and one son, all residing in Beaver. The funeral will be held there tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Dawson was a cousin of Mrs. Senator M. S. Quay.

Another death, which occured at Chillicothe prevented about ten others from attending the reunion. It was that of Mrs. Stella Carothers. She died suddenly last Saturday, and was buried yesterday. She was one of the Dawson connections, and her death prevented quite a number from this part of the state from attending the reunion. Another person absent from the reunion was R. D. Carothers, aged 84 years, and who resides at Marietta. It was expected that he would be present at the gathering today, but this was prevented.

SMALLER CITIES

JUDGE SHAUCK WOULD HAVE THE DIVIDING LINE 5,000.

His Opinoin of the Nash Code Bill And Needed Legislation.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—Justice John A. Shauck, of the supreme court of Ohio, in discussing Governor Nash's code, gave it as his judgment that it should be amended so as to place all municipalities with a population of 5,000 or more in the city class. He regards the code upon the whole as being satisfactory.

"There is no trouble about registration in cities," said he. "Registration laws do not confer corporate powers and there is nothing to prevent the legislature providing that there shall be registration in all cities of 15,000 or more. Were I governor I would advise the legislature to pass the code bill and then provide for the appointment of three non-partisan commissions—one to draft a complete new election law for the state, another to codify and prepare a draft for a school code and a third to take up the question of county officers' salaries and prepare a complete county law for the state."

Clyde Blazier Promises to Provide for His Minor Child Hereafter.

Clyde Blazier was arrested yesterday by Constable Powell on an information made in the court of Justice Rose by his wife, charging him with the non-support of a minor child. Blazier was arrainged, pleaded guilty, and was bound over to court in the sum of $100.

A compromise was effected later, the provisions of which were that Blazier should pay $5 per week toward the support of his child. He also paid the costs.

Quarantine Raised.

For the first time in many months the city is absolutely without contagious disease. Health Officer Burgess reports the last two cases which he had under his direction, and he has them all recovered sufficiently to warrant the raising the quarantine from the houses where families were afflicted. They were Thomas Jackson's, in Grove alley, and Jefferson Green's, in the East End.

Notice to Teachers.

The city board of school examiners will hold an examination in high school room of Central school building East Liverpool, Ohio, Thursday, August 28, 1902. The examination to begin at 8 o'clock, a. m., city time.

GUADALUPE SHRINE

THE MOST DEARLY BELOVED SPOT IN OLD MEXICO.

Thousands From All Over the Country Make Pilgrimages to the Little Village Each Year—The Story That Is Handed Down by Tradition.

There is no spot in all Mexico as dearly beloved as the little town of Guadalupe, which is two and a half miles north of the City of Mexico.

The little village has only 3,000 souls, but many more thousands visit the place on certain days in the year when pilgrimages are made to the holy shrine of Guadalupe.

The 1st of January and the 12th of each month the faithful visit this place and toil up the hill on which it is said that the virgin Guadalupe appeared to Juan Diego, an Indian boy.

According to tradition, Juan was trudging over the hill of Tepeyac on his way to the city on the morning of Dec. 9, 1531, and as he reached the eastern slope of the hill he heard sounds like music. He stopped to listen, and at that moment a cloud appeared and in the midst of it a beautiful lady. She told him to go to the bishop in her name and to tell him that it was her wish that a church should be built on that spot, where she would always be found to give aid to all in trouble. Juan Diego hurried to the bishop with the story of the virgin, but no attention was paid to it. Upon his return home the lady appeared again in the same spot and urged Juan to go again to the bishop.

The following day was the Sabbath and after mass Juan found the bishop and repeated the message once more. The bishop told him to bring a sign from the virgin. Juan saw the virgin again upon his return home, and she promised to give him a sign, which she did on Dec. 12 as he was going to confession. He passed this time near the foot of the hill, where she appeared once more, and while in conversation with Juan she stamped her foot by way of emphasis, and water flowed at once from the dry, barren hillside, and two holy wells mark that spot today.

The virgin then told Juan to climb to the summit of that barren rocky hill and he would find roses growing there, which he was to gather and carry in his "tilma" to the bishop. Juan did as he was told and found the loveliest roses growing just where she had told him to search for them. He gathered them all and placed them in his "tilma," a sort of blanket.

When he arrived at the house of the bishop and opened the blanket, the roses fell to the floor, and a picture in colors appeared on the blanket representing the virgin as she had appeared to Juan. The bishop fell on his knees in prayer and arose with a promise to build a chapel on the spot the virgin had designated.

That little chapel has since been replaced by the magnificent church to be seen today. There are also two other churches to mark the spot on which the roses were gathered on the summit and at the holy well where the virgin last appeared to Juan. This miracle was recognized in 1663, and in 1754 it was fully sanctioned and confirmed by a papal bull. Later, in 1824, congress decreed Dec. 12 to be a national holiday.

Hidalgo took a picture of Guadalupe for his standard, around which rallied the first army of the revolutionists, and the happy issue that her assistance gave to that war endeared her still more to the people. This picture on the "tilma" is a wonderful piece of work. Artists from all over the world have examined it and have testified that it is of no known style of painting. The Indian garment of ixtli fiber is of a coarse weave. The picture appears on both sides of the cloth and is as bright as new, although said to be over 300 years old. The Church of Nuestra Senora de Guadalupe, in which this marvelous picture hangs, is said by experts to be one of the richest and handsomest on earth today. Its treasures can be counted by millions. It was dedicated May 1, 1709, and is 184 feet long by 122 feet wide. It has a vaulted roof, supported by Corinthian columns. The whole is surmounted by a dome, the lantern of which is 125 feet above the floor. The building cost $1,181,000. The jewels, gold and silver plate and other rich belongings nearly all belong to the government and are estimated at $2,000,000 more.

The church possesses a very costly crown for the virgin. It is of solid gold and weighs many pounds. There are six shields on the crown for the six archbishops of Mexico, and they are all surrounded by diamonds. There are a number of angels, each having an immense ruby on the breast, while the rest of the surface of the crown is covered with sapphires and emeralds. This crown is surmounted by the Mexican eagle, holding aloft a large diamond cross.

The poor pilgrims are not able, many of them, to form an idea of the richness of this church, with its communion rail and balustrades from the sanctuary to the choir of solid silver. They are three feet high, with a top molding a foot wide and a still more massive base. The sacred vessels are all of pure gold embedded with precious stones. The choir has some fine carvings done in ebony and mahogany. The finest is a basso relievo above the stalls, illustrating the litany of the virgin.

Artists were brought from France to paint the frescoes on the walls, and the paintings and statues were the work of the best European artists and sculptors. The organ in itself represents a small fortune.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A HARD HEADED FARMER.

The Way He Held Up a Prince With a Pitchfork.

When Edward VII. of England was an undergraduate at Oxford university, he had an adventure which led a newspaper of that time to describe the prince as a prisoner. It said that "not very far from Oxford, at a place called Steeple Barton, there was a farmer named Hedges, a man of much independence of character, commonly known as 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges.'

"On one occasion the prince and his friends were out with the South Oxfordshire hounds, but, meeting with indifferent sport, they resolved on riding home across country. This they did, galloping over the lands of Farmer Hedges and presently riding into his farmyard. There they were confronted by the farmer himself, armed with a fork. He closed the gates and informed the party bluntly that they had been trespassing on his ground and trampling on his young wheat and that he would not allow one of them to leave his farmyard until he had paid a fine of a sovereign for the damage done.

"They whispered that the prince himself was of the party. 'Prince or no prince,' he replied shortly, 'I'll have my money.' There was little glory to be had by fighting a resolute farmer armed with a fork. They therefore made up their minds to pay, prince and all. When he had the money in his pocket, and not till then, 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges' opened the gates and let them go."—Philadelphia Times.

He Was Dead.

The English papers tell this story of an incident in a revision court:

A certain person who figured on the register was objected to by one of the agents on the ground that he was dead. The revising barrister declined to accept the assurance, however, and demanded conclusive testimony on the point.

Thereupon the agent of the other side rose and gave corroborative evidence as to the decease of the gentleman in question.

"And pray, sir, how do you know the man's dead?" demanded the barrister.

"Well," was the reply, "I don't know. It's very difficult to prove."

"As I suspected," returned the irate barrister. "You don't know whether he's dead or not."

The barrister glanced triumphantly around the court. His expression gradually underwent a change as the witness coolly continued:

"I was saying, sir, that I don't know whether he is dead or not, but I do know this—they buried him about a month ago on suspicion."

Donkeys In Mexico.

There are two classes of donkeys in Mexico—one with four feet and the other with two. Each is a kind of competitor of the other. Sometimes they are partners. They are both bearers of burdens and the subjects of brutality. Everywhere you see the donkey loaded down with sacks of ore, baskets of dirt, cans of milk, sacks of water, and you find his driver very often loaded in the same way. These combinations sometimes go two by two, and sometimes there will be a band of ten to fifty thus loaded, coming down the mountains with ore, charcoal or wood, corn or whatever may be needed in the villages or cities. It is indeed a mediaeval life in middle and southern Mexico.

THE WHISTLE WAS SILENT.

Why His New Set of Teeth Didn't Help the Blower.

A small town in Posen, near the Silesian frontier, still keeps that relic of other centuries, the night watchman who calls the hours. One night—the London Telegraph tells this remarkable story—one of these watchmen, an old worthy long in service, failed to blow his whistle when the clock struck the hour.

The burgomaster summoned the delinquent to account for his negligence. After some hesitation he declared that his last tooth had dropped out and that he could not hold in his mouth the official flat tin whistle.

A council was called, and the subject was gravely discussed. Finally one of the members said that he had heard of a dentist at Breslau who supplied artificial teeth. After long debate the council appropriated money to send the aged watchman to Breslau to get a set of new teeth.

In due time the watchman reported that his teeth had arrived. That night the burgomaster sat up to hear the result. To his astonishment there was no whistle at 10, at 11 or at midnight. The next morning he summoned the watchman.

"You have got your teeth," he said indignantly. "Why do you not whistle as before?"

"Yes, I've got a new set of teeth," replied the old man, "but the doctor told me to put them in water at night."

HIS FRIENDS ARE ANXIOUS

Fletcher Massey, of Sunnyside, Has Been Missing For Ten Days.

ABSENCE UNEXPLAINABLE

It has been ten days since the family and friends have seen or heard from Fletcher Massey, and his wife has became very anxious and greatly alarmed at his continued absence.

Mr. Massey left his home on Sunnyside one week ago last Monday, and has as completely disappeared as though the earth had swallowed him up.

Massey was of a quiet disposition, and not given to talking; therefore it was not thought strange that he would leave his home without explaining where he intended to go.

The family, however, believed he was on his way to work, and gave the matter no further consideration until evening. He did not return to supper; still the wife was not alarmed, as he had often been detained before. Mr. Massey did not return that night, nor the next, and his whereabouts at present is a mystery.

Mrs. Massey is a very level headed woman, and without mentioning the occurence, began making inquiry at the shop where her husband is employed as a dishmaker, and among his more intimate friends. Not a single clue could be found that would throw light upon the sudden and mysterious disappearance. The lady grew alarmed at last and caused a thorough investigation to be made, but nothing has came of it. Mr. Massey is one of the best known potters in this section, having worked at the dishmaking trade since he was a small boy. He is a man of exemplary habits, and was a steady and efficient workman.

The friends of Mr. Massey are at a loss to account for his strange actions. They are loath to believe that he has met with foul play, and still they can find no other way to account for his continued absence. His family relations were of the most pleasant nature and his wife is almost heartbroken. They have one child. The police have been asked to aid in the search.

UNHAPPILY WEDDED

Deserted Leetonia Wife Seeks Divorce and Salem Women Wants Alimony.

Lisbon, Aug. 20.—(Special)—Mrs. Annie H. McCloskey, of Leetonia, has applied for a divorce from James McCloskey, and custody of her two minor children. She also asks alimony. The couple were married in Pittsburg seven years ago, and the wife charges neglect and non-support ever since. For three years she has been dependant upon the care of friends, although her husband is able to support her.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bilger asks for alimony from Ephraim Bilger. They were married at Salem seven years ago, and resided there till last month when she says her husband deserted her and has since sent word that he will neither live with her nor support her. Bilger went to Youngstown and is now in the employ of the Union Ice company, receiving $15 a week. She represented to Judge Hole that the company was indebted to her husband, and a restraining order was issued yesterday to prevent the company paying him money until the suit is disposed of.

Winters will pitch for East Liverpool on Friday and Maley on Saturday.

HIS SHARE OF TROUBLE

A Young Man Who Was Kicked By a Horse Gets Badly Scalded By Water.

The Lisbon Railroad Is to Have Officials Like Other Railroads.

Lisbon, O., Aug. 20.—(Special)— A change in the management of the Pittspurg, Lisbon and Western railroad office was announced today to take effect September 1st.

Officers of traffic manager and superintendent are created, K. E. Barringer, the former auditor, has been elected to the former office and R. W. Billingsly, son of Judge N. B. Billingsly, to the latter. W. B. Johnson was made auditor in charge of the accounting department. Mr. Johnson has been station agent.

LOCAL OPTION FIGHT

Anti-Saloon League Proposes to Wage a Strenuous Campaign.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—The Anti-Saloon league will soon begin a systematic local campaign. It is proposed to hold elections under the Beal law in 45 municipalities, with populations ranging from 5,000 to 15,000. The usual Sunday services will be held in the churches and outdoor meetings will be held on week days.

The best speakers of the league will be sent out to prosecute the campaign. The league is planning to carry its present crusade into the smaller towns first, after which the larger cities will be taken up.

YOUNG LAWYER AND OLD JUDGE

Attorney R. S. Ramsey Tells of His First Experience With Justice Jackson.

ACTED FOR THE MINERS

And Finds Excuse for the Actions of the Venerable Jurist — Marquet Mines at New Cumberland Sold to a Syndicate.

Attorney Robert L. Ramsey was here from New Cumberland yesterday, where he came on business connected with the settlement of the estate of Margaret Fox, of this city.

Attorney Ramsey was associated with a Wheeling lawyer in defending the employes of the Marquet mines at New Cumberland and other mines in West Virginia against the alleged unjust injunction granted by Judge Jackson, of the United States circuit court of West Virginia. Mr. Ramsey has been actively engaged in behalf of the miners ever since the strike at Marquet collieries was instituted, and his good work in their behalf has been appreciated throughout the entire West Virginia coal district.

The attorney is a young man, having graduated from the law department of the West Virginia university at Morgantown two years ago. He was admitted to the West Virginia bar a short time later, and though young in experience has conducted successfu suits not only in other county courts in the state, but before the nigher tribunal in West Virginia.

Attorney Ramsey felt an interest in the cause of the laboring people, and was a willing champion of their side of the case from the time he was first permitted to practice within the state. This feeling was but natural, since h had arisen from a numble station himself, and felt, as he says, that their interests were his own. Respecting the celebrated Jackson injunction Mr. Ramsey says:

"At the time the notice was served we were not aware that a petition had been made, and though there was not sufficient time to prepare an answer before the order became effective, we took steps to make a formal reques, that we be allowed to do so.

"You have never seen Judge Jackson, I take it. Well, you have no idea what my feelings were, then, when I appeared before his majesty with my humble request. He frowned upon me, wandering perhaps what boy was attempting to practice in his court. He informed us there would be no change in the proceedings, as they had been outlined in the injunction. Mind you, we had not at that time, been furnished with a copy of the bill, and knew nothing whatever of its contents. The judge said we would have until September 30 to prepare an answer, and at that time, unless w showed clearly there was no cause for the complaint, the injunction would be made permanent. We have the documents prepared, but I doubt if it wil be necessary to present them, since things have transpired recently which will have the effect of making the court's order imperative."

During the past few days the Marquet interests have been disposed of to a Cleveland coal company, which is to take charge of the mines today. Stewart Bros., of Pittsburg, held an option on them, but it was allowed to lapse. Mr. Ramsey said further:

"There are several reasons why Judge Jackson's actions are excusable. In the first place, his spnere has been small, and few if any questions have been brought before him for settlement that involved interests outside the state. When you take this into consideration and couple with it the knowledge that he has been on the bench for over 40 years, some excuse can be found for his peculiar attitude. Judge Jackson was elevated to his present position by Abraham Lincoln, and has grown old in the service. He is now past 50."

AN INCORRICIBLE

From East Liverpool Who is Booked For the Delaware Girls' Home.

Lisbon, Aug. 20—(Special)—Ethel McMillen, aged 12, an incorrigible, from East Liverpool, was brought into probate court today by her grandfather. An effort will be made to send her to the girls' industrial school at Delaware.

FUSION IDEA IS NOT POPULAR

THE BURNING QUESTION

Is Whether There Shall Be a Labor Candidate for Congress Placed in the Field—Lively Discussion of the Proposition Expected.

Trades Council will meet in regular session this evening, and it is likely the attendance will be large, as several matters of extraordinary import ance will be up for consideration.

The one question which is just now agitating the minds of the local working people is the move started in Stark county to place a labor candidate in the field for congress in the Eighteenth district.

The proposition from Stark county asking for representatives to be selected to represent the workers of this section in a convention to be held at Alliance Saturday, has received a great deal of consideration here. Several of the local unions have already discussed the question and when it is brought up in the council tonight, there will be many who have posted themselves sufficiertly to talk intelligently upon the subject.

There are a large number who are opposed to any fusion idea, and say if there is to be a labor candidate let him be from that element, selected by them and no trimmings. It is understood that the Democrats propose to place a labor man on their ticket, and while there is nothing the working people can do to prevent this, they cannot but feel that it is a scheme to induce the workers to support that ticket.

The membership of the local labor organizations is made up of men of all political beliefs, and while many might not have any hesitancy in supporting an out-and-out labor candidate, the majority of them are strictly opposed to fusing with any of the old parties.

The question, if it is brought up at the meeting tonight, is bound to call forth great discussion, and there will doubtless be many differences of opinion as to the proper course to pursue.

WITH A MILLMAN

The Daughter of a Wealthy Merchant Eloped From Niles And Married.

Niles, August 20.—A startling elopement case was reported in this city yesterday, the principals being Miss Annette Bowden, the daughter of a wealthy shoe merchant, and Charlie White, a mill worker. Saturday evening, when Miss Bowden's folks were away from home, she hastily collected some of her clothes and jumped in a buggy which White had waiting. The couple drove to Youngstown, where they were made man and wife.

A GIFT FOR CAREY

East Liverpool Admirers Have a Handsome Present for the Ball Player.

George Carey, who has been playing first base for the Washington American league team, and who during a recent game accidentally broke one of the small bones of his right wrist, will be with the team in Cleveland next week. A number of the friends of Carey will go to Cleveland to visit him. He will be presented an imported pitcher, representing the face of an old German, and handsomely decorated. The handle is finished in gold, and is one of the best clay novelties that has been seen in this city for many months.

COMING STATE FAIR

Will Open First Week in September And Last Five Days.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—The state board of agriculture has completed most of the arrangements for the state fair which will be held in this city the first week in September. The attraction will last five days and will probably be largely attended if reports received from over the state are any criterion. On Woman's day women and girls will be admitted free of charge. The railroads grant low rates while the fair lasts. The fair lasted two weeks last year, and was a success in every way save financially. No more such experiments will be repeated.

The superintendents of the several departments will report for duty on August 28. Exhibits will be received on and after that time, but everything must be in place for public inspection on the opening day, September 1. The buildings will be decorated elaborately.

STREET CAR FENDERS

A Device Made By Home Talent Pronounced a Successful Life-Saver.

It is probable that the management of the East Liverpool Railway company will order fenders placed on all cars. The matter is now being given a trial and has proved a success in every particular. The idea of placing fenders on the cars has been considered for many months, and instead of ordering several sample fenders, plans were drawn by Supt. Thompson, of the United Power company, and the first fender was made by Engineer Baxter, of the power house.

The fender was completed a day or two ago, and was placed on summer car No. 39. The fender is pronounced a life saver in every particular, and this is all that is required. The fender is an automatic arrangement, so constructed that by even the least touch of the hand it drops from its suspended position to the track, and nothing can get under it. It is reported very tedious to make, but when the fact that it is a successful life saver is taken into consideration, it is surely worth the while to make.

PRAYED FOR DANCERS

UNUSUAL SCENE AT ROCK SPRINGS PAVILION.

Mrs. Logan Asked for the Salvation of the Merry-Makers.

Those who attended the dance at Rock Springs park last night were treated to something out of the ordinary program, for during the evening a Mrs. Logan walked out on the dance floor and there offered a prayer to the Lord for the salvation of the dancers. While this was being done extreme quiet prevailed, but after the woman completed her self-imposed task the dance continued.

Mrs. Logan is said to reside near the Grant street school, and to be a member of the Free Methodist church.

NOT A CANDIDATE

General Dick Reported Not to Be in the Race for the Governorship.

Columbus, August 20.—"General Charles Dick will not be a candidate for governor next year," said Representative Seese, "and what is more I believe that Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, of Columbus, will be the nominee of the party."

Representative Cain, of Noble county, not only agrees with his colelague, Mr. Seese, in both statements made, but goes further and says positively that negotiations are now on looking to Mr. Daugerty's nomination. Wnat is more Mr. Cain believes that these negotiations will be successful.

ABUSED HIS MOTHER

An Unfaithful Son at Lisbon Fell Into the Hands of the Sheriff.

Fireproofing Factories Busy.

Lisbon, August 20.—The United State Fireproofing Corporation is putting many men to work in Columbiana county, where it has three large factories. The fireproofing and conduit works at Coleman, near Lisbon, were put in operation a few days ago and are running full handed. Officials state that another large factory will soon be constructed in this vicinity.

THE RAILROAD MAY BE SUED

Alleged Breach of Contract With the P. H. C. For the Excursion Today.

The Company at the Last Moment Reported Itself Unable to Supply More Than 12 of the 24 Coaches Promised.

About 900 excursionists left the city this morning for Cascade Park and perhaps 250 were unable to make the trip because there were no tickets nor accommodations for them.

When the arrangements were being made by the local officials of the Protected Home Circle, 18 cars were ordered. Pennsylvania railway men asserted at the time they would not require so many, but took the order. A few days later it was found that even 18 would not accommodate the crowds who had applied for tickets, and J. K. Dillon, passenger agent, was summoned to the city. Arrangements were made for 24 coaches, and not until yesterday afternoon were the local men informed they could not have the desired number of coaches. This was a sore disappointment to the officers of the organization, since everything pointed to an excellent patronage for the outing.

The word received from the railroad authorities was to the effect that only 12 coaches could be provided, and that meant only about half the number who desired to go could be accommodated.

It is said this is not the first time the same trouble has been experienced with the railroad company, and it is attributed to the fact that the owners of Cascade Park have a fight on with the Pennsylvania, and they do not work in harmony.

It is argued by the officers of the local lodge, however, that this has nothing to do with their excursion, and they propose to enter suit and make an effort to recover damages. They think since they put up a substantial guarantee to make the railroad people safe, they should have had the benefit of all fares that could be secured. It may be that the railroad people will make good the difference between what they were able to handle and those who desired to go.

TROLLEY LINE INSPECTOR

Legislature May Be Asked to Take Up Question of Such an Officer.

Columbus, August 20.—The special session of the legislature may be asked to take up the question of the creation of the office of "state inspector of electric railways."

The building of many electric traction lines througnout the state, has raised the question whether it will not be wise for the state of Ohio to regulate these traction lines, their operation, etc., in a manner similar to the regulation of the steam roads in Ohio.

Behind the movement to have such an office created are the officials of the interurban roads which enter Columbus, and, almost to a unit, they are in favor of placing proper restrictions upon their various roads for the benefit of the public. Not that the roads are being operated in a manner which is not satisfactory to the patrons, but to prevent employes from becoming careless and endangering the lives and health of their passengers.

The state of Massachusetts has such an officer, and it is said the interurban and electric roads in Massachusetts cities are first-class in every respect, and the safety of passengers is closely looked after.

Goes to the Infirmary.

Lisbon, Aug. 20—(Special)—Miss Jessie Wallace, who was taken ill while in the county jail Sunday, has grown steadily worse. Her condition is serious. She has pneumonia. She was taken to the infirmary today. Her arrest resulted in a sentence to the Cleveland workhouse.

Nothing Doing Today.

Business in Mayor Davidson's court this morning was nothing but a blank. No arrests were made last night, and none were put in jail this morning. It has been some days since matters have been so quiet as at City Hall this morning.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

NEWS FROM WHEELING

All the employes of the Riverside pottery have returned to work, and both men and firm are feeling good over the settlement of the short strike. The old clay carrier has been put back to work, doing chores for the men, and the firm has placed a clay carrier in the shop, whom it pays. This is operating the shop on the uniform scale recently signed by the firm and adopted at a convention of manufacturing potters making sanitary ware at Trenton a few months ago.

Within the past few days two new men have been added to the pressers' shop. They are John Connors, making No. washouts, and Frank Birch, who is making hoppers and traps. They are both former employes of the shop at Tiffin.

Pete Gollner came to the Riverside shop a few days ago from East Liverpool, but will remain here but a few days. He states that he is going to Camden, N. J., where he has secured employment in the sanitary shop in that town.

Everything is moving along smoothly at the LaBelle and Wheeling potteries. The jiggermen at these shops are having all the work they can handle, and the outlook for a long run is very bright.

SCOTT SECURED OPTION.

John Scott, one of the best known pottery machinists in the city, in his opinion some day will be a rich man. His friends only hope he will make such an achievement. A few months ago Mr. Scott went to Tennessee and while there made a tour of the country for the purpose of finding a good quality of clay. He located a valuable tract of ball clay, said by manufacturing potters of this city to be far superior to any now in use here, and after securing a long option on the property returned home. The clay was recently tested—that is, a piece of it was fired in its rough state, and the results obtained are said to be little short of wonderful. It is said a large supply of this clay will be shipped to the city soon, and all the manufacturers will be asked to give it a thorough working test. If the results are obtained that are claimed Mr. Scott indeed has a large fortune in sight.

BACK FROM THE FARM.

It was a jolly crowd that visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Derringer, near Blackhawk, last Saturday. A party composed of 18 employes of the decorating department of the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery went to Blackhawk, or near there, and spent the day on the Derringer farm. Mrs. Derringer, before her marriage a few months ago, was one of the popular decorators at the Wallace & Chetwynd plant, and then Mr. and Mrs. Derringer went to the farm to reside. Last Saturday Mr. Derringer drove a large hay wagon to the East End and then the employes of the decorating department, former shopmates of Mrs. Derringer, were driven to the farm. Dinner and supper were served to the crowd in excellent style and before their return home in the evening all voted Mr. and Mrs. Derringer a host and hostess hard to beat.

MAMMOTH STRAW SHED.

The largest straw shed in the city will be that which is now in course of erection at the Laughlin potteries in the East End. Although it will be but one story in height, its dimensions will be 75 by 48 feet and having a capacity of not less than 20 cars of straw, baled. This is the largest building of the kind in the city, and without doubt in this part of the country. It is being erected by Contractor Harvey McHenry and will be frame throughout. The new building will not be completed for three weeks at least. The old straw shed, which has been located near the packing department of plant No. 2, will be discontinued after the new shed is completed.

A FEW CHANGES.

Charles Llewellyn, who for many months has been employed as a decorating kiln foreman, has resigned his position, and in the future will be located at the Goodwin pottery. Mal Smith, who has been filling a similar position at Goodwin's, has resigned there and will go to the Taylor, Smith & Taylor shop at Chester. Harvey Crawford, who was formerly a resident of this city, but more recently employed as a teamster at Sebring for the several potteries there, has returned to this city and will be located at Laughlin No. 2.

BACK TO WORK.

Walter Owens, a jiggerman at the East End pottery, who has been idle for several days, has returned to work. Some person, with an eye to making mischief, went to the jigger operated by Owens some time between Saturday afternoon and Monday morning and broke the set screw which holds the die. This could not be repaired at once and Mr. Owens was compelled to loaf until repairs could be made.

COMPANY WILL ENLARGE.

By binding additions to its already good sized plant, the Salem pottery will soon be operating a nine-kiln pottery. One and possibly two new kilns are said to be contracted for at this plant, and work upon them is to commence soon. Since this company began business there has not been a dull moment in its life, and the outlook for business for the future is exceedingly bright.

A COLORADO SHOP.

After working for several months, workmen have completed the two new kiln plant for the Denver China and Pottery company, located at Denver, Col. The company is now installing the machinery and the work of making clay is expected to commence shortly. A small number of men will be employed at the start, but this number will be increased as the business justifies.

NOW RUSHING WORK.

At the Dresden China plant at Salineville, being built by William H. Deidrick and others of this city and Salineville, work is now being rushed as fast as possible. The bricklayers are about through with their part of the contract. The brick work on the main building is reported completed, and the other buildings will be rushed to completion with lightning speed.

FOR THEIR DEMONSTRATION.

At a meeting of local No. 32, Printers and Transferers, held Monday evening, matters concerning the demonstration on Labor day were considered. This local is bent upon winning the prize flag for the best display in the industrial parade and will leave no stone unturned to carry its plans into effect.

BACK TO WORK.

Jeff Green, one of the popular saggermakers at Laughlin No. 3, who has been compelled to quit work on account of his little children having scarlet fever, will return to work in a day or so, the quarantine having been raised from his house.

AFTER BUSINESS.

John Saut, the well known clay salesman, who has been spending a few days calling upon the manufacturers in the out-of-town districts, is expected to return to the city this evening. He spent last Monday at Sebring.

INCREASING CAPACITY.

The Oliver China company at Sebring is increasing its capacity by the erection of a new kiln. The kiln will be completed soon, as it is now being topped out.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Miss Gertrude Golding, a popular transferer of this city, has arranged to spend her vacation in Wheeling. She will leave for that city in a few days.

The new dinner shape which was recently placed on the market by the East Liverpool Potteries company, and which is being made at the Globe, is meeting with much popular favor, and is having a large sale.

Miss Lucy Todd, a rubber at the Wallace & Chetwynd plant, has resigned her position and tomorrow will leave for an extended trip to Niagara Falls. After remaining there for a few weeks she will return to this city, but will not return to the decorating shop for some time.

WRITING A BOOK

Cadiz Man Aged 84, Once Owner of 50,000 Acres, Tells of Early Days.

Cadiz, August 20.—Walter Craig, of Cadiz, who is now in his eighty-fourth year, is engaged in writing a history of his life. He was born July 4, 1819, near Cadiz, where he has always lived, except when looking after his business interests in the west and travel ing in Mexico. During the civil war he owned 8,000 head of sheep and sold wool in 1864 at $1 a pound.

At one time he was probably the largest owner of land in Ohio, having about 50,000 acres, mostly in the west. He originated the idea of having the Harrison county fair grounds on his farm, and spent $10,00 in making the best half-mile track in eastern Ohio, it being necessary to make fills and cut away the side of a hill. In his book he tells of pioneer days in Ohio when salt was worth $56 a barrel.

WON'T RESIGN, SAYS SCHWAB

Declared He Needed a Rest and Would Take One—Going to Europe.

New York, Aug. 20.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, arrived here last evening. He was accompanied by his brother, Joseph Schwab, and his private secretary. He stepped briskly from the car, and as he did so he said to a number of newspaper men present:

"Now, gentlemen, I am going to tell you three things, and I don't want you to ask me any further questions. In the first place, I don't look like a sick man. In the second place, I feel the necessity of a rest, and I am going to take one. In the third place, I am not going to resign and have no intention of retiring from the presidency of the United States Steel corporation."

"Are you going to Europe?" was asked Mr. Schwab.

"Yes," he replied, "but don't ask me any more questions; that's all I have to say."

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 20.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, passed through here yesterday on his private car "Loretto," en route to New York, whence he will sail for Europe. He disclosed his destination to an old Altoona friend, who talked with him since he has been at Loretto. He said that he was going to France, where he will take a course of treatment at the mineral springs of that country. His chief ailment is an affection of the nerves.

The steel president's stay amid the scenes of his boyhood has evidently done him good. He told his friend, F. D. Saupp, of this city, that he never felt better in his life, and Mr. Saupp emphasized this by stating that he had never seen him looking better.

Mrs. Schwab is not with her husband. She will remain at Loretto during his absence.

PRESIDENT HEARNE RESIGNED.

Schiller Head of National Tube Co. Other Officers.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—Colonel Frank J. Hearne, of 4901 Fifth avenue, yesterday resigned the presidency of the National Tube company, an affiliated concern of the United States Steel corporation. William Bacon Schiller, of 1019 Bidwell street, first vice president, was elected the successor of Colonel Hearne.

The resignation of Colonel Hearne was presented at the annual meeting of the National Tube company at Jersey City yesterday, being voluntary on his part. After the election of Mr. Schiller to the presidency of the company W. H. Latshaw, second vice president, of 6100 Stanton avenue, became first vice president; John D. Culbertson, second vice president and A. S. Matheson, third vice president.

Edward Worcester, general sales agent of the company, was elected a director to succeed Colonel Hearne, and William Nelson Cromwell was succeeded by Mr. Murray, at present employed in the treasurer's office. The other directors of the National Tube company are: E. C. Converse, William H. Latshaw, A. S. Matheson, John D. Culbertson, William J. Curds, William B. Schiller, the new president; Charles Steele, C. M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, and Judge E. H. Gary.

Colonel Hearne resigned on the advice of his physician and to look after private interests.

DROWNED HIS 4 CHILDREN.

Despondent Farmer Shot Himself With a Revolver, In Kansas.

Salina, Kan., Aug. 20.—Joseph Anderson, a farmer living east of Salina, in a fit of despondency yesterday, drowned his four children, three girls and a boy, in a cistern and then shot himself with a revolver.

Anderson is still alive, but probably will die. Financial matters had affected his mind. The crime was committed during the absence of the mother. The oldest child was 6 years old and the youngest a baby of 4 months. Anderson left a note on a table notifying the mother that the children could be found in the cistern.

EAST END

Is What the Foot Ball Club Now Forming in the East End Expects to Be.

The East End will have a foot ball club this fall, and the officers of it expect to end the season undefeated. They were not defeated last season, and they propose to hold the same record this year. The team will represent the Laughlin potteries in the East End, and will commence to practice at once, a ball having been ordered from a Chicago firm yesterday. A meeting of the promoters of the club was held yesterday afternoon and the following are some of the players that have been selected: Robert Wheatley, F. Kent, Harry Foster, Mike McCullough, George Tucker, Mark Brown and William Chandler.

The following are the officers: Chairman, Harry Thompson; treasurer, Mark Brown; secretary, Peter B. Speakman; captain, Mr. Challinor; assistant captain, George Tucker.

The club will play during the season under the name of the Laughlin Foot Ball club. Another meeting will be held soon for the purpose of considering plans for the formation of a league of foot ball clubs in this city to play scheduled games. This plan is a popular one and is sure to meet with success.

More Would Have Gone Could They Have Got Tickets for P. H. C. Excursion.

While the annual picnic of the Protected Home Circles of this city and the East End was a success, more money would have been made had not the railroad company refused to provide the number of cars desired. A freight engine from the Panhandle road and about 14 coaches, including a baggage car left the East End station shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, and all cars were filled.

Tickets were sold at from $1.25 to $1.75. Almost any price would have been paid for tickets could they have been obtained. The fact was that all tickets were sold and then speculation commenced. The Phoenix club desired 50 tickets last evening, but they were not to be had. It is estimated that from 1,300 to 1,500 people took the trip to New Castle.

Laborers Are Scarce.

According to statements made by Alex Chafin, of the East End, today there is a scarcity of help of all kinds in the East End just now, all on account of the river boats not being able to run. "I will have to make out another order and send it down south for more help," said Mr. Chafin today, "Laborers are scarce, and this is what we need. We must have this sort of help, and I will get them."

An Even Dozen Initiated.

There were to be 32 new candidates initiated into the East End circle of the Protected Home Circle last evening, but only 12 of this number appeared at the hall. The attendance at this meeting was very large, and the session most interesting. The membership of the circle is now nearing 375, making it the sixth largest circle in the order.

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of a Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux' (dysentery), says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

NEURALGYLINE FOR THE NERVES

ARE YOUR NERVES SHATTERED?

Are you on the brink of nervous prostration? Are your nerves all unstrung? Do you feel a general breaking down? It's no wonder! We Americans hustle too hard, we work too much and too long, we tax our nerve power to its greatest capacity. Nerves are not iron! They must give way under the great strain. Have yours not already done so? You can tell if yours have by those sleepless, restless nights you have, by those constant headaches you have and by your failing appetite. If you are one of those unfortunate creatures, why don't you try a box of NEURALGYLINE, the great nerve-builder!

IT RELIEVES THE MOST SERVERE CASES OF NEURALGIA AND ALL OTHER NERVE DISORDERS.

I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia. Neuralgyline has effected a permanent cure in my case. MISS D. V. EVANS, Sisterville, W. Va.

Have suffered for over a week with neuralgic pains in the head, unable to sleep and nearly crazed with pain. Thirty minutes after taking one Neuralgyline tablet I was completely cured. MR. J. B. SIRN, St. Paul, Minn.

NEURALGYLINE is for sale at every first-class druggist's in this country and Canada. Sample free. Price per box, 25 cents.

Manufactured by THE NEURALGYLINE CO., WHEELING, W. VA.

CLARKSON

Clarkson, August 20.—Mrs. Nancy Howe has been visiting her parents here for a few days.

Attorney W. K. Gaston and wife, of East Liverpool, spent part of their vacation with relatives here.

George Moore and the Misses Inez Moore and Florence Shannon were the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Maria Fennis, and family, East Palestine, Saturday and Sunday.

Elmer Warrick has been engaged to teach the New Harmony school this winter.

The current of electricity which struck the house of W. C. Warrick, leaving traces here and there of its presence, knocking down the telephone and not doing much damage after all, save giving the family a thorough consciousness of its presence and power and creating an anxiety for fear of fire, burned out the telephone in the dwellings of W. H. Owens and C. V. Warrick's store also.

Frank Rudebaugh, Jr., carried one of his homing pigeons with him on a recent excursion to Cleveland, releasing it on arrival there. It reached home toward evening about the time the excursionists returned.

The programs are out for the twelfth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Columbiana county, to be held in the Presbyterian church, East Palestine, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 2 and 3.

Beginning Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m., a welcome address will be given Tuesday evening by Mayor Foley; response, Miss Alice O. Bunn, Salineville; Wednesday will be taken up with devotional exercises and business reports of the different departments of work of the W. C. T. U., and in the evening an address by Mrs. Annie W. Clark, Columbus, late president, on "Franchise."

Attorney Lones and wife, of Wellsville, and sisters, the Misses Lones, of Cream Ridge, visited their brother, Jesse Lones, and family.

The New Harmony school house was the hub of St. Clair township Monday when the law suit between Mr. Knoppel and stepson, Ed Faulks, came off.

ENGLAND'S PREMIER

The Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, who has just succeeded Lord Salisbury as premier of England, is a nephew of the venerable marquis whose place he takes and for several years has been the government leader in the house of commons.

Mr. Balfour is the head of a cadet branch of the old Scottish family of Balfour of Balfour, which derives its name from Balfour castle, in Fife. The earliest recorded Balfour ancestor was a certain Siward, who met his death at the hands of a misguided nobleman named Macbeth several hundred years ago.

Mr. Balfour is fifty-four years of age. His mother was Lady Blanche Cecil, who married James Maitland Balfour, a member of a well known Scotch family. He is the eldest of a family of eight and was left fatherless when barely nine years old. His mother was a woman of great force of character.

Mr. Balfour entered parliament in 1874 and represented Hertford until

ARTHUR J. BALFOUR.

1885, when he was elected for East Manchester, which constituency he still represents.

He acted as private secretary to his uncle, the Marquis of Salisbury, at the foreign office during 1878-80, when the Berlin treaty was negotiated. In June, 1878, he accompanied a special mission to Berlin.

In 1879 he published his first book, which gave the public the knowledge that he was a scholar and thinker. It was called "A Defense of Philosophic Doubt."

From July, 1886, to March, 1887, he was secretary for Scotland, with a seat in the cabinet. He was appointed chief secretary for Ireland in 1887, succeeding Sir Michael Hicks-Beach. His treatment of political prisoners and his extreme eviction policy made the Irish people hate him.

A distinguished Irish clergyman once remarked to him, "If the people only hated the devil half as much as they hate you, my occupation would be gone."

Five years after his appointment as secretary for Ireland he succeeded the late W. H. Smith as leader of the house of commons and first lord of the treasury.

Mr. Balfour is a cyclist and is president of the National Cyclists' union. But he is best known as a golfer.

built by his grandfather, John Balfour, in 1817. But the demesne itself, which that gentleman purchased on his return from India with a large fortune, has a much longer history. Whittinghame is celebrated indeed in Scottish annals as having been at one time the home of the great Douglas family, while tradition has linked it with the tragic fortunes of Mary, queen of Scots. Having been given Whittinghame castle by the queen in 1564, it was there, it is related, that the Earl of Morton planned with Bothwell the murder of Darnley.

Besides its historic interest Mr. Balfour's home has the charm of some of the prettiest scenery of the south of Scotland—the wooded banks of the Firth of Forth on the one side and the picturesque fortunes of the Lammermoor country, as Scott describes them, on the other. Here Mr. Balfour, who is a bachelor, lives during the parliamentary vacations.

The proposition to put fenders on the street cars in this city is one that cannot be too strongly commended or too zealously encouraged. The safety fenders do not always save the lives of persons whom the cars strike, but they frequently do. One life saved is worth more than it would cost to equip all cars with the fender; even one damage suit against the street railway company may result in costs and a verdict for an amount that would more than supply the needs. In many parts of the country the traction companies are compelled by law to provide fenders for all cars. That there is no such law in force here is certainly a grave oversight. The railway companies are granted valuable privileges, in return for which they should take every precaution to secure the utmost safety for their patrons and for the public. Their privileges give them no monopoly of the use of the streets, and they ought to neglect nothing that will contribute to the safety of pedestrians. The street railroads abound in curves and danger spots where the motorman can see the track but a short distance ahead. At one point near the Thompson pottery there have been two fatal accidents, for which the motormen were not blamed, because they could not stop their cars. A fender might have prevented both these tragedies. By all means let all the cars in the city be promptly equipped with the best safety fenders obtainable.

London has a "betterment association," whose avowed object is to suppress street noises, gambling, pauper immigration, child labor, spitting in public places, the sale of impure ice cream, betting, tearing up the streets and a few other minor nuisances. There is work for such a society in every city.

The learned professors of the western metropolis are just now very busy in trying to discover whether the name Chicago means skunk or wild onion. None of them have suggested that either meaning is inappropriate when applied to the Windy City.

If J. Pierpont Morgan would let a few of his pending deals wait and take a day off to settle the coal strike he could earn the gratitude of several hundred thousands of his countrymen.

New York and East Liverpool have both suddenly awakened to the necessity of providing new street signs so that visitors from Slab City and Kalamazoo won't taunt them for not being up to date.

C. M. Schwab says he is not going to stop work. He can't if he carries out his reported intention of becoming J. P. Morgan's partner and holding up his end of the alliance.

The fifty-seventh congress has thus far appropriated only $800,000,000 for 1903. But it has another session in which to make up for small items overlooked.

Texas will have a $125,000,000 cotton crop this year. If Texas doesn't watch out it will presently become rich enough to attract Morgan's attention.

Those who are so poor that they have to keep out of automobiles can console themselves. They are keeping out of a good deal of danger.

Miss Bird House.

Miss Bird House, aged 27, died at her home on Mulberry street last evening at 6 o'clock, after a lingering illness. Consumption was the cause of death. Miss House was one of the most popular young ladies of the East End. She was a life-long member of the Erie street M.E. church, and always took an active part in church work, especially the work of the young people's societies. Her death was a shock to her large circle of friends, who loved her well. Miss House was also a member of Crystal chapter, order of the Eastern Star, Masonic. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being in charge of Rev. Geo. W. Orcutt. Interment will be in Riverview cemetery.

Mrs. Tillie Allison.

Miss Tillie Allison, aged about 55 years, wife of "Eck" Allison, for many years an employe of the East Liverpool Street Railway company, and residing in the East End, died at her home, about 3½ miles out the Lisbon road, about noon today. Paralysis was the cause of death. Mrs. Allison is survived by her husband and four children, three sons and one daughter. She was born in Hancock county, and her maiden name was Mercer. The arrangements for the funeral are not completed.

Robert Tommins.

Robert Tommins, aged 71, died at Salem. He was born in England and formerly lived at New Waterford where the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Children's Party.

The Peterson home on Fifth street was the scene of a very pleasant children's party yesterday between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock. Ruth and Gretta, the little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Chal Peterson, were the hostesses, and their young friends, Florence and Mildred Aylin, of St. Louis, Mo., the honor guests. The decorations and the refreshments were elaborate and the games most enjoyable. About 65 were present.

PRECOCIOUS AUTHORS.

Successful Plays That Were Written by Boys in Their Teens.

Was a successful play ever written by a boy of fourteen? asks a correspondent. Yes. This seeming miracle has happened at least three times. The best known example of the precocious playwright is the celebrated Lope de la Vega, the most prolific dramatist known to history. He produced his first play, a comedy, entitled "La Pastoral de Jacinto," before he had completed his fourteenth year, and this was considered such a marvelous performance that he is known to this day in Spanish literature as "the Prodigy of Nature." Another Spaniard and contemporary of La Vega, Pedro Calderon, wrote his first play when he was thirteen. Metastasio wrote his tragedy "Giustino" and had it produced when he was fourteen on the stage at Bologna.

Of English playwrights Douglas Jerrold, the famous author of "Black Eyed Susan," also furnishes an answer to the question. In 1818, before he had completed his fifteenth year, he wrote a very well known farce entitled "More Frightened Than Hurt." It was very successful on the English stage, and the French considered it good enough to steal. Curiously enough, this French translation was retranslated into English and again produced on the English boards under the title of "Fighting by Proxy." Another very remarkable instance of a different sort of precocity was that of William Henry Ireland, who when he was about fifteen actually produced some plays which he attributed to Shakespeare and which, although afterward proved to be forgeries, were accepted by the experts of the time as genuine.—Pearson's Weekly.

Sympathetic.

Recently a lithographic firm received a circular announcing the death of the head of a well known business house. In reply they wrote:

"We regret to learn the loss sustained by your firm in the death of Mr. —— and beg to express our heartfelt sympathy.

"We notice your circular is printed by Messrs. ——. We are confident that had you asked us we could have quoted you cheaper and better than any other firm in the market, and in the event of a future bereavement we hope you will afford us an opportunity of making you an offer."—London Tit-Bits.

Don't Be Foolish.

Look at your friends and acquaintances. You see them deliberately acting the fool every day. Possibly you can look your friends over with less prejudice than you can look yourself over. Are you acting the fool and causing yourself unnecessary annoyance? There are so many foolish people in the world that you often find startling things in looking yourself over with candor and fairness.—Atchison Globe.

ALMANAC VAGARIES

AN INTERESTING COLLECTION IN THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

One of the most curious collections at the library of congress is that of almanacs. These publications, which as advertising mediums are left at the door, often to be at once thrown carelessly into the wastebasket, have a striking and venerable history.

It is still contended by many authorities that the almanac of 1457 was the first specimen of printing, and it has been variously credited to Gutenberg, Schaeffer and Pfister of Bamberg. Dr. Faustus, celebrated in legend, whose strange story has been immortalized by Marlowe and Goethe, was the accredited author of almanacs containing astrological signs (retained at the present day) and necromantic secrets. "Poor Richard's Almanac," the production of Benjamin Franklin, is well known as a treasury of homely wit and wisdom. One of the greatest of modern German authors, Auerbach, first won his way to popular esteem by using the almanac as a vehicle for his talents.

Regiomontanus, a famous German mathematician, under the patronage of Matthias Corvinus, king of Hungary, published a series of almanacs from 1475 to 1506, and yearly almanacs became an established custom in the sixteenth century. Henry III. of France in 1579 enacted that the almanac should not be made the instrument of partisan politics by the introduction of prophecies against parties and individuals in the state.

The first almanac in the modern shape appeared in England in 1673. It was compiled by Maurice Wheeler, canon of Christchurch, Oxford, and was printed in that city. The sale was so great that the booksellers of London bought the copyright in order to monopolize its subsequent sales. The "Almanac Royal" of Paris, 1697, contained notices of pastimes, court reception days, fairs and markets, to which were added soon afterward the genealogy of the reigning house, etc.

In England James I. granted a monopoly of the trade to the universities and the Stationers' company, subject to the censorship of the archbishop of Canterbury and the bishop of London. The universities accepted an annuity from their colleagues, and resigned the active exercise of their privilege into the hands of the Stationers. Under their supervision were conducted the popular almanacs known as "Moore's" and "Partridge's," the latter of which was humorously attacked by Swift. "Poor Robin's Almanac," published from 1652 to 1828, may have furnished a model, at least in title, for Franklin's "Poor Richard."

Popular superstitions and the extravagances of astrology found room in these almanacs, the Stationers, like a genuine corporation or "trust" of the time, having no personality of their own, and exhibiting no special bias except for what would sell, as was particularly proved in 1624, when they issued a set of predictions in one almanac and bitterly contradicted them in another.

The famous "Moore's Almanac" purported to be edited by Francis Moore, physician. The original Francis Moore died in 1724, but the publication was still isued as if under his supervision, and in 1775 a vigorous rival arose in another almanac claiming to be the genuine Francis Moore. A great lawsuit followed, which was decided against the monopoly of the Stationers' company. A bill to renew and legalize the privilege was brought in the house of commons by Lord North in 1779, but Lord Erskine, the great barrister, most brilliantly exposed the absurdity and even indecency of the publication, and the bill was defeated. Although the privilege was thus destroyed, the Stationers purchased their rival and continued to hold the field with a but slightly improved style of publication until 1828, when the Society For the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge published the "British Almanac" and demolished their predecessors, with the able assistance of the daily press, which so vigorously assailed the Stationers' publication that that company was constrained to follow the new example in the "Englishman's Almanac."

The uniform price for an English almanac for many years was a penny, but the monopoly increased the price, and the imposition of the stamp taxes after Queen Anne's time raised it still more. In 1781 "Moore's Almanac" was ninepence, two being for the stamp. In 1796 it rose to 1s. 4d. and in 1816 to 2s. 3d.

An almanac was established by Isaiah Thomas in Worcester, Mass., which gained and established an extraordinary repute in 1780 from the happy accident that, as it was being set up, one of the boys asked what should be placed against the 13th of July. Mr. Thomas, in careless haste, answered: "Anything! Anything!" The lad, literally obedient, set up "Rain, hail and snow." The diligent readers were surprised, but when the day came the prediction was fulfilled—it really did rain, hail and snow on the 13th of that July, and the fortune of the almanac was made.

The "Almanac de Gotha" is the best known of the German publications. Whittaker's is the standard English publication of the kind, while in this country several of the large newspapers issue annual almanacs. The stray production, however, with its old astrological and magical symbols of Faust, must ever possess an interest for the curious who are versed in the history of almanacs. — Washington Times.

OVER THE OCEAN.

All attempts at reforesting Sicily fail because of the destructive activity of the goats.

Alan, 2:11¼, is a great half mile track performer. He put in three heats at Olean, N. Y., recently in 2:14¾, 2:15½ and 2:14 with ease.

Nelly Gay, 2:18¾, the daughter of Pamlico, 2:10, who raced so well in 1900, but went lame, is out again and winning on the Mohawk valley circuit, in New York.

Scott Hudson gave Audubon Boy, 2:06, some pretty stiff work at Detroit recently. One mile was paced in 2:06½ and another in 2:06, with the last half in 1:02, final quarter in 30 seconds.

One of the most interesting of recent events was the sale of Eleata, 2:08¾, to Mr. James Hanley of Providence, R. I., the owner of Prince Alert, 2:00½, by Hon. Frank Jones. The heroine of 1901 was at once shipped to Hartford.

STAGE NOTES.

Della Fox is to begin her season in October.

Hamlin Garland is said to be at work on a play of Colorado life.

Mrs. Leslie Carter is domiciled at Bar Harbor for the summer.

Lucius Henderson has been engaged for "The Pride of Jennico."

Gertrude Campbell has been engaged for "The Sword of the King."

It is said that Marie Tempest is to be managed by Charles Frohman.

Margaret Drew, a niece of John Drew, makes her debut next season.

Frank Moulan will play the title role in "The Sultan of Sulu" next season.

Rose Eytinge and Max Figman have been engaged for the support of Mrs. Fiske.

E. H. Sothern has engaged Miss Jennie Eustace to play the Queen in "Hamlet," also Huguette in "If I Were King."

An opera based on Anthony Hope's story of "The Heart of the Princess Osra" has been produced in London with success.

An Old Welsh Custom.

The kindling of bonfires on hills is the simplest of celebrations at any time. The Druids made four great fires at their festivals in February, May, August and November. Wales seems to have been a country especially tenacious of this custom. Each family used to make its own fire, and as it was dying out each member would throw a white stone into it, the stones being marked for future identification. Then all said their prayers and went to bed, and in the morning they tried to find all the stones again. If any stone was missing, it betokened that the owner of it would die within a year.

Some superstitions are pretty and picturesque and attractive; this was one of the many which were cruel as well as picturesque. It would take but a slight accident to cause a fright that might be actually dangerous to a superstitious person, and it would not be hard for an enemy of such a person to cause that fright by stealing his stone from the fire.

London's Sewer Hunters.

The London sewer hunter before commencing operations provides himself with a bullseye lantern, a canvas apron and a pole some seven or eight feet in length, having an iron attachment at one end somewhat in the shape of a hoe. For greater convenience the lantern is invariably fixed to the right shoulder, so that when walking the light is thrown ahead and when stooping its rays shine directly to their feet. Thus accoutered they walk slowly along through the mud, feeling with their naked feet for anything unusual, at the same time raking the accumulation from the walls and picking from the crevices any article they see.

Nothing is allowed to escape them, no matter what its value, provided it is not valueless. Old iron, pieces of rope, bones, current coin of the realm and articles of plate and jewelry—all is good fish which comes to the hunter's net.—Chambers' Journal.

The Chinese Way.

In its war with England and France in 1859-60 China was easily conquered and forced to a humiliating peace. The Peking Gazette, the official organ of the government, however, reported the following concerning that treaty of peace:

"As the western barbarians have admitted their wrongs and humbly solicited for peace, the emperor in his infinite goodness has granted their prayer and, moreover, has made them a present of a large sum of money (indemnity of war) to enable them to begin an honest life, so that they may not again be driven to murder and rapine."

A Way of Explaining It.

Wife—Why, John, just see what a stupid blunder the newspaper has made in its account of our silver wedding! Don't you remember I wrote it out for the reporter that we had spent together twenty-five years of married happiness, and the stupid typesetter has gone and made it twenty-five years of marred happiness. Isn't it awful?

Husband—Oh, well, dear; don't be too hard on the poor fellow. Perhaps he's been married twenty-five years himself.—London Tit-Bits.

CHILD AND MATCH

Set a Bed on Fire And the Fire Department Was Called Out.

An alarm of fire yesterday afternoon called the department to the residence of Al Eidenier on Twelfth street, opposite the Patterson foundry. The blaze was extinguished before the firemen arrived. A child lighted a match and carelessly threw it on a mattress, where it started a blaze. The damage was trifling.

To Avoid a Grade.

The county commissioners on Thursday of next week will be in this city and will let the contract for the building of a road from Steubenville street around the hill to the flat school building, avoiding a steep grade. The work will be done under the direction of Engineer Leith this fall.

Arrested for Shooting.

Dick Barr, arrested yesterday, charged with shooting of firearms on Third street, claims that the shooting was purely accidental.

WELLSVILLE SHORT STORIES.

Marie Stubbins, of Short street, is on the sick list.

A. J. Healy is moving from Center street to Main street.

Charles Williams, of Main street, is moving his family to Salineville.

A. P. Dennis and M. R. Shingler went to Pittsburg last evening on business.

The infant child of Charles Swickard, of Nevada street, is ill of cholera infantum.

Mrs. A. I. Shellenberger, of Thirteenth and Short streets, is under a physician's care.

Percy Shannon, of Eighteenth street, has left for Cleveland where he will accept a position.

John Daily is moving his household effects from Main and Fourteenth street to Liverpool street.

Mrs. Fred Irwin and daughter Helen, of Canton, are guests of Mrs. Irwin's mother, Mrs. Nan Cornell, of Eighteenth street.

Mrs. C. W. Mardic and son Charles, of Broadway, are visiting friends in Detroit, Mich. Mr. Mardic is taking treatment for hay fever at Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cooper left yesterday for their home in Cleveland after visiting for a week with Mr. Cooper's mother, Mrs. Mary Cooper, of Broadway.

Prisoners at Guam to Be Returned.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Acting Secretary Sanger, of the war department, has issued an order for the return of prisoners at Guam to Manila. The most important prisoner is Mabini.

Stupidity and the Nose.

Children with accidental affections of the nostrils which grow chronic become stupid. An ill working mucous membrane is enough to make a child a dunce. It may be that snuff became the rage in Europe toward the end of the seventeenth century because it stimulated this member in the noses of august and illustrious persons.

MEET OF AMERICANISTS.

Archæology and Ethnology of New World to Be Discussed.

When the international congress of Americanists meets in New York city next October, it will be the first time that body has ever assembled in the United States.

Last fall a commission of organization, of which Morris K. Jesup was made president, issued a call to Americanists, stating that at the twelfth meeting of the congress, held at Paris in 1900, New York city had been chosen for the thirteenth meet. The meetings will begin Oct. 20 at the Museum of Natural History and continue through the week.

The subjects to be discussed at the thirteenth congress are divided into two sections: (1) "The Native Races of America; Their Origin, Distribution, History, Physical Characteristics, Languages, Inventions, Customs and Religions," and (2) "The History of the Early Contact Between America and the Old World."

The second section will be the stamping ground for those who bridge the Atlantic with a continent now obliterated from the maps and find the original home of the forefathers of Egyptians as well as Aztecs on the bottom of the sea. It will also be the section for those who are occupied in finding the origin of the American copper skins and Chinese or Japanese.

The expeditions sent out by the Messrs. Hyde, which have already supplied the Museum of Natural History with large quantities of material concerning prehistoric man in America, will doubtless report, and those also which Mr. Jesup has sent to the northwest coast of America and the northeast coast of Asia.

All persons interested in the study of the archæology, ethnology and early history of the two Americas may become members of the international congress of Americanists by signifying their wish to M. H. Savile, the general secretary of the commission on organization, at the Natural History Museum, New York city.

For those who wish to speak before the congress or merely have an article or essay printed in the proceedings it is required that the titles and an abstract of what they intend to say or publish be forwarded to the general secretary before the congress meets.

The indications are that there will be no lack of interesting matter brought before the thirteenth congress of Americanists.

TREMBLING VENICE.

Other Historic Structures May Follow the Campanile.

Following the fall of the bell tower of the famous St. Mark's church comes the information that other historic structures in Venice show a weakness of foundation that is alarming not only to the citizens of the "Queen of the Adriatic," but to the whole civilized world.

Now that the campanile lies in ruins it is asserted that another famous

building, the Church of Santi Giovanni e Paolo, shows signs of settling and possible destruction.

The Church of St. John and St. Paul, popularly called San Zanipilo, contains the statues of many doges and other illustrious persons, and its destruction would be little short of a calamity.

The campanile, the bell tower of St. Mark's, now a heap of ruins, was where Galilei made his observations. It was 323 feet high and 42 feet square at the base. The heap of ruins which covers the Sansovino terrace is about 160 feet high.

SOUTH SIDE

OVERCOME BY HEAT

Ollie Kirkwood, a pair heater at the tin mill, was overcome by heat yesterday as he was about to go home, after completing his turn on the morning shift. Kirkwood is a resident of Wellsville, and was washing up preparatory to going to his home on Sixth street when he was seized with a severe cramp. His fellow workmen remained with him for several hours and when he had recovered sufficiently he was taken to the Steadman home on Sixth street. He was in great pain, and his suffering was intense during the afternoon and all of the night.

Kirkwood was considerably improved this morning and was able to go to his home in Wellsville, where he expects to remain for some time. He was a member of the Eighth Ohio regiment during the Spanish-American war and is well known in this city and Wellsville.

Still After Rights of Way.

Engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad are now engaged in making another survey, and right of way men of the same road are spending much time in the vicinity of Shippinport purchasing rights of way for the extension of the New Cumberland branch. It is expected that as soon as the entire right of way has been secured the company will commence to build the road.

Material for Oil Field.

Unusual activity is noted in the oil fields north and south of Chester. Several consignments of drilling materials have arrived at Monaca, and the owners are now transporting it in wagons to the field. It is thought that drilling will be commenced within a few days.

Suit Entered.

Suit has been entered in the court of Justice of Justice Johnson by Mrs. M. A. Banfield against Mary Riley for forcible detension. The property is situated on Carolina avenue.

CHESTER NOTES.

Clyde Bernard, the scarlet fever patient, is somewhat improved today.

Mrs. C. T. McCutcheon left today for West Liberty, W. Va., where she will visit relatives

A dance will be given this evening at the home of A. C. Priest, in the upper part of town.

Carl Evans, of Fairview, went to Wheeling today, where he will remain several days on a visit.

Miss Bessie Nowling, of Beaver Falls, is visiting at the residence of her brother, A. K. Nowling, of Carolina avenue.

Invoicing at the Allison & Hobbs store will be completed today and it is the intention of the firm to increase the stock of goods.

Wm. C. Blackledge, residing near Hookstown, returned from Monaca yesterday, where he visited his son, Dr. T. L. Blackledge.

Miss O. Johnston, Miss Edna Johnston, Pearl Hilliard and Leo Hilliard went to New Castle this morning where they will visit a week

Miss Ida Evans, of Irondale, and Mrs. Ed. Weaver, of McDonald, Pa., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Weaver, Sixth street and Louisiana avenue.

Garret Mercer, an employe of the ware room at the mill, has been off duty for two weeks on account of illness. He is somewhat improved but has not recovered sufficiently to return to work.

STOCK DEALINGS INCREASED.

Rose Over Half Half Million Share Mark Yesterday—Striking Gains In Few Spots.

New York, Aug. 20.—There were more shares of stock sold on the exchange yesterday than on Monday, dealings rising again over the half million share mark. The market took on a fair appearance of average strength, but an analysis will show that the gains in the majority of usually active stocks are fractional while the really striking gains are confined to a few spots in the market. The dealings were largely in professional hands and were supposed to reflect the operations of speculative pools, including some of the prominent capitalists of the country. The situation of affairs was not materially changed from that of Monday and the new demonstration of strength was based largely on the approaching return to New York of J. P. Morgan, which has caused a renewal of many long current rumors of financial projects and railroad deals, which are supposed to await his action to be put into force. A settlement of the coal strike and a decision on the question of the presidency of the United States Steel corporation are also supposed to await Mr. Morgan's action. The upward movement in Southern Pacific was aggressively renewed yesterday for the first time since the announcement of the proposed $100,000,000 mortgage to provide funds for betterments. This movement was also associated with the homeward-bound movement of a well-known speculative leader, who has operated largely in it in the past.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Pure water is more essential than clean grass.

Even though turkeys are good foragers it will not pay to let them go without proper feeding.

Everything in the rearing of young poultry depends upon their care and management at least until well feathered.

Fowls inclined to fatten too easily are not good layers. The flesh they carry makes them lazy, and this never promotes laying.

Middlings make a good food for poultry, but if wet up alone it is too sticky. The better plan is to mix with bran or corn and wet with milk or scalding water.

Whitewash is better than paint on the poultry houses, for the reason that it costs less and has a purifying influence. It may be applied as often as once a month to advantage.

The properties of sunflower seed are peculiar, and a small quantity fed at the proper time will essentially aid in imparting to the plumage of adult fowls a gloss that no other grain will produce.

Gainsborough and His Carrier.

One of the earliest members of the Royal academy, it was Gainsborough's custom to have his pictures conveyed to the metropolis by a prosperous London carrier, a Mr. Wiltshire of Shockerwick, near Bath. This man refused to accept payment on the ground that he loved pictures too well. He was not, however, allowed to go unrewarded, for Gainsborough presented him with six of his best works, and some idea of their ultimate value may be gained from the fact that when at length they were sold the National gallery secured two, "The Parish Clerk of Bradford-on-Avon," for 500 guineas, and "The Harvest Wagon," for £2,500, these prices being considered low. Later "The Sisters" from another gallery realized close upon £10,000.

Nature and Poetry.

Environment aids poetry, but does not create it. Nature is the grand agent in making poetry, and poetry is present wherever nature is. It sparkles on the sea, glows in the rainbow, flashes from the lightning and the star, peals in thunder, roars in the cataract and sings on the winds. Poetry is God's image reflected in nature, as in a mirror, and nature is present wherever man is.

BREVITIES

NOTES OF NOTABLES.

John Mahin of Muscatine, Ia., has been editor of the Muscatine Journal for fifty years.

Prince Adelbert, third son of the kaiser, has opened a house of his own, especially built for him at Kiel. The lad is eighteen years old.

Marshall Field of Chicago is heading a movement to colonize the numberless abandoned farms in New England with farmers and mechanics from the old world.

The smallest woman in the world, so far as is known, is Chiquita, who was born at Matanzas, Cuba, in 1869. She is twenty-six inches in height and weighs eighteen pounds.

Captain Freeman, who saved the steamer Roddam from destruction during the recent volcanic eruption at St. Pierre, was recently presented with a silver medal by the Liverpool Shipwreck and Humane society.

John Budna, a citizen of Polish birth living at Marlborough, Ulster county, N. Y., has just become the happy father of his twenty-first child, a bouncing boy weighing sixteen pounds. All of the children are living.

Rudolph Aronson of New York, who recently gave the sultan of Morocco his first lesson on the piano, has been presented by his royal pupil with a magnificent Moorish sword, handsomely jeweled and of great value.

Governor Cummins of Iowa is one of the best authorities in that state upon forestry. He has mastered the subject thoroughly, having originally taken it up some years ago as an amusement and having stuck to it ever since.

James W. Ogden, a New York banker, who lives at Morristown, N. J., will present a new church building to the congregation of the Presbyterian church of Chatham, N. J., as a memorial to his father, who preached in the present church for fifty years.

The Marquis of Bute, who recently came into his title, is, according to the Montreal Star, among other things a baronet of Nova Scotia. There is one feature that all now holding this title have in common—none owns or ever did own an acre in Nova Scotia, and few ever saw the country.

Miss Laura Bigelow, daughter of the late John Bigelow, for many years European financial agent of the United States government, was recently married to ex-Senator Stephen Wallace Dorsey of Arkansas. Ex-Senator Dorsey is about sixty years old and is his bride's senior by more than a score of years.

THE FASHIONS.

Small pockets stitched on the left front of shirt waists are very chic and stylish.

The new idea in dainty dress trimming consists of ribbon fringed and trimmed with narrow lace.

When one must have a monogram on the shirt waist sleeve, the most effective plan is to select a butcher's linen shirt waist with the monogram in all white.

Rosettes and bows of plain satin or peau de soie ribbon are in the lead for ornamenting all sorts of muslin frocks and are of infinite variety of colors and adjustment.

For coolness and a fresh appearance nothing comes quite up to the lawn stock, with ends ready to tie in a smart bow; most of these are tucked and have nice little turnover collars.

An affable disposition, tact and discretion.

Absolute sobriety, persistency, grit and integrity.

The proper advertising of the proper thing at the proper time.

Attention to details, for these are the components of greater things.

Unremitting study of everything that pertains to or influences your business.

Personal supervision of your business. Depend upon no one but yourself.

Willingness to learn. The man who imagines himself a universal genius impairs his receptive capacity.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

August is the month in which to bud peach trees.

In selecting trees give preference to those with smooth, healthy looking bark.

Apples and peaches should not be picked or handled when wet with dew or rain.

Sulphide of potash is death to all kinds of plant mildew. Use one ounce to four gallons of water and apply in the form of a spray.

Before going into fruit culture find out what varieties your land is best adapted to produce and give those varieties the preference.

"PE-RU-NA NECESSARY TO THE HOME,"

PROF. TALFOURD SMITH.

Professor Talfourd Smith, Principal Siloam High School, Siloam, Ga., writes: "With much pleasure I recommend Peruna to all who may be suffering with any trouble of the respiratory organs. I have been using it in my family for the past five or six years and find it to be almost a household necessity. Peruna is truly a grand catarrh remedy and general tonic and will do all that is claimed for it by the manufacturers." ---PROF. TALFOURD SMITH.

Catarrh is inflammation of the mucous membrane. It may be in the mucous membrane lining the eyes or the pelvic organs, throat, stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys.

Catarrh is catarrh wherever located. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is an internal remedy; not a local application.

Catarrh is a systemic disease, not a local disease. If Peruna will cure catarrh in one place it will cure it in any other place, because Peruna is a systemic remedy. It reaches the disease through the circulation in each organ. It eradicates the disease by eradicating it from the system.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

RELIGIOUS REVIVALS

Various Meetings Yesterday Conducted by Men Prominently Identified With This Branch of Church Work. Subjects of Addresses.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 20.—Yesterday was evangelist day at the National Winona Bible conference, the various meetings throughout the day being conducted by men prominently identified with that branch of work. At the opening session yesterday afternoon Fred B. Smith, of New York, spoke on "Evangelistic Work for Men." Rev. H. H. Wharton gave an interesting address on "Soul Winning," and "Doctrines to be Emphasized in Evangelistic Meetings" was the topic handled by Rev. W. E. Biederlwf. Dr. W. L. Munhall spoke on the "Art of Bible Teaching in Evangelistic Services." "Results to be Expected in Evangelistic Meetings" was handled by Rev. E. Stucker, of Chicago. Prof. R. R. Lloyd, of the San Francisco Congregational seminary, conducted the "hillside services." Rev. R. S. McArthur of New York, spoke last night on "The Pre-eminence of Christ." For the first time in the history of the church several hundred evangelists of all denominations are gathered.

Among these men of international reputation are Rev. L. W. Munhall and Rev. H. M. Wharton, of Philadelphia; Rev. S. H Hadley and Fred E. Smith, of New York; George B. Stewart, of Cleveland, Tenn.; Henry Varley, of England, who for 40 years has been doing evangelistic work, and Rev. W. A. Sunday, of Chicago. These men are holding private conferences, and at the first meeting yesterday was considered the preparatory work for a series of revival services throughout the United States. At this meeting some expressed themselves in favor of thorough organization, while others believed little or no organization is necessary.

A STEP TOWARD REUNION.

Methodist Publishing Interests, North and South, Enter Into an Agreement.

New York, Aug. 20.—A joint committee of publishing interests of the Methodist Episcopal church, and of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, recommend a plan for the union of all the publishing interests of the two churches in China and Mexico. It is the policy of the two denominations to avoid in the future all interference of duplication of equipment in the foreign missionary work.

No such harmony of interests between the two denominations of Methodism has been seen since the church was divided in 1844, and may be the first step in a reunion. Bishop Charles H. Fowler is opposed to this, but there are others strongly in favor of it.

REV. DR. LYNCH DEAD.

Pioneer Methodist Preacher Died In Tarentum, Pa.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—The Rev. William Lynch, one of the oldest members of the Pittsburg Methodist Episcopal conference, and pastor of the Eames Methodist Episcopal church at Creighton, died yesterday morning in Tarentum at 5 o'clock from a stroke of paralysis.

He had filled all the leading pulpits in the Pittsburg conference, and was an exceptionally strong preacher. He was in vigorous health until his fatal illness and was on the program to preach the closing sermon at Tarentum camp meeting next Sunday, Aug. 24.

CATHOLIC AUTHORITIES' IDEA.

Use of Free Teachers Might Increase University Attendance.

Rome, Aug. 20.—The church authorities have received information that 4,085 Catholic students are attending secular universities in the United States, 500 of whom are at the University of Pennsylvania, while the Catholic university at Washington has only 100 students.

It is believed here that the discrepancy is due to the fact that the Catholic university at Washington undertook instruction in other branches of education in addition to theological studies without having means, apparatus or professors to compete with the great American colleges. The representative here of the Associated Press is authoritatively informed that the church knows no remedy for this lack of religious teaching of Catholic students attending secular universities in the United States except through the efforts of the bishops to induce the governing bodies of these universities to allow free teachers to lecture upon Christian history, science, religion, etc., as is done in the cases of other sects attending the same colleges.

ROBERT BURNS' BIRTHPLACE, RECENTLY RESTORED BY THE AID OF AMERICAN DOLLARS.

The 40,000 persons who annually visit Ayr, Scotland, for the purpose of seeing the cottage in which the poet Robert Burns was born, will hereafter find the humble dwelling restored to exactly the condition in which it was at the time of the interesting occurrence which was destined to make it famous. American dollars played a large part in bringing about the restoration. The wing in which the relics were formerly kept, and which formed no part of the original building, has been removed and the mementos of the poet are now kept in a separate structure.

A Hasty Conclusion.

A former Princeton man now living in Philadelphia tells of his only unpleasant encounter with Jimmy McCosh as an illustration of the beloved old tutor's innate kindliness. When a student, he was lounging on his bed one afternoon, smoking. In response to a knock on the door he called out:

"Who's there?"

"It is I—Dr. McCosh," came the reply.

"You're a liar!" answered the student, thinking one of his chums was trying to joke with him. "If you were really Dr. McCosh, you'd simply say, 'It is I.'"

After a second's silence the student heard retreating steps, rushed to the door and looked out—to see Dr. McCosh himself scurrying down the corridor and around a corner in an endeavor to avoid recognition.—Philadelphia Times.

Napoleon's English Letter.

Napoleon began the study of English during his imprisonment in St. Helena. His instructor was Count Las Cases, to whom Napoleon wrote the only letter he is known ever to have written in English. It is somewhat of a literary curiosity and not well known, so it may be quoted here:

Count Las Cases—Since sixt week y learn the English and y do not any progress. Sixt week do fourty and two day. If might have learn fivty word, for day, I could know it two thousands and two hundred. It is in the dictionary more of fourty thousand; even he could most twenty; bot much of tems. For know it or hundred and twenty week, which do more two years. After this you will agree that the study one tongue is a great labor who it must do into the young aged.

A Bird That's Hard to Kill.

Penguins have an extraordinary amount of vitality and are harder to kill than any ordinary cat. I once had occasion to kill a large bird aboard our ship, the Southern Cross, and, making use of the weapon next my hand, I drove a large spike squarely through the creature's head and finished the operation by nailing it fast to the deck. That seemed to make the job very complete, and I went below decks for dinner. Coming up an hour later, my astonishment was prodigious on beholding the penguin, head erect, flippers out, waddling about, apparently without thought of the spike, which still remained transfixed in his cranium.—C. E. Borchgrevink in Leslie's.

Just the Thing.

"I don't know what to use to raise my bread," said the young wife petulantly. "I've tried everything."

"Judging by the samples I have seen," suggested her inhuman husband, "I should think a couple of jackscrews or a derrick ought to do it." And he wondered why he got a cold supper that night.—Portland Oregonian.

His Friends.

Jinks—I tell you what it is, there is nothing like having lots of friends.

Winks—I presume not.

Jinks—No, sirree. As quick as I lose a job my friends go all round hunting a new place for me so as to save me the trouble of borrowing money from them.

Longs No Longer.

Once upon a time there was a man who thought he wanted the earth. Then he had a vision and he dreamed he did own the earth. He thought the assessor came around, and he woke up with a groan. He has never wanted the earth since.—Hudson Register.

Meddle once signified "to concern oneself with." It is so used in the Scriptures, where the expression occurs, "Meddle with your own business."

Keeping Friends.

There is nothing so very difficult in making friends; the trouble is to keep them. Pleasing manners and a taking way will always win admirers, but a lasting friendship must be built upon a firmer foundation than a transitory smile, an hour of high spirits or even great physical beauty. Of course it is a pleasure to feel that one is favored by some radically beautiful woman, but unless there be genuine congeniality between the two concerned the time will come when passive loveliness will cease to be attractive. To retain friendship one must be continually on the watch and not let the familiarity that comes from a lengthy knowledge of the other's life breed the contempt that so often follows a close intimacy.

To retain either friendship or love the illusions must not be dispelled. Do not, because you feel sure of your ground, let the commonplace enter in and monopolize the everyday affairs. Let the halo of sentiment hover over even the prosaic affairs of daily life, for, once dispelled, they can never form again, and in the one glimpse of the material side of the intimacy may be utterly destroyed a relation at one time thought to be eternal.

A Snug Fit.

An English tourist in the highlands tells the following amusing story: He was traveling one day last summer by rail in the north of Scotland, and at one of the stations four farmers entered the train. They were all big, burly men and completely filled up the seat on the one side of the compartment.

At the next station the carriage door opened to admit a tall, cadaverous individual with about the girth of a lamp post. He endeavored to wedge himself in between two of the farmers, and finding it a difficult operation he said to one of them: "Excuse me, sir; you must move up a bit. Each seat is intended to accommodate five persons, and according to act of parliament you are only entitled to eighteen inches of space."

"Aye, aye, my friend," replied the farmer; "that's a' very guid for you that's been built that way, but ye canna blame me if I ha'na been constructit according to act of parliament!"

Addenda.

She—Oh, no; I admit you can't believe one-half the things you hear.

He—No, nor one-third even.

She—I guess that's so.

He—But you can usually repeat four-thirds, can't you?—Philadelphia Press.

THE BELT OF FIRE

CHAIN OF VOLCANIC MOUNTAINS SURROUNDING THE PACIFIC OCEAN.

[Special Correspondence.]

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—Recent volcanic eruptions in Oregon, Washington and Alaska show that there is a "sympathetic feeling" in these vents which surround the Pacific ocean as a chain of fire. According to a local geologist, this chain begins in Tierra del Fuego (the land of fire), extends along the west slope of South America and Central America, only twenty or thirty miles wide, and broadens in Mexico to about 800 miles. The belt of fire then touches the gulf coast. From Mexico the belt extends northward to California, Oregon, Washington and follows the coast of British Columbia and Alaska, extending through the Aleutian islands, New Zealand and the Hawaiian Islands. The burning craters in Alaska, one of which recently began work, unites the chain of fire of the new world with the old, including Japan, Korea, Formosa and the Philippines, which latter perhaps may now be considered as of the new world. In Alaska this chain of slumbering fire contracts to about the width at the narrowest point in South America. In California and the northwest the belt of fire vents broaden to nearly 1,000 miles. The southern extremity of this belt line curves eastward, and the northern extremity curves westward, giving this 25,000 mile chain the shape of a huge S.

On the northwest coast of Oregon and Washington the chain widens into what is called the Cascade range, and all of these mountains have craters either at the summit or on the sides. There are seven in Oregon and five in Washington, ranging from 7,000 to 14,000 feet in height, Mount Ranier, in Washington, being the highest. One of these, Mount Mazama, 8,223 feet high, is one of the most remarkable extinct volcanoes on this continent. It is thirty miles north of Klamath lake and contains another lake, known as Crater lake, which is about 2,000 feet deep and is surrounded by nearly vertical walls of about the same height above the surface of the lake, which gives the crater a depth of about 4,000 feet. An eruption blew the mountain's head off, and the theory is that the melting of the glaciers caused the lake.

These mountains are of volcanic origin and are likely at any time to alarm the natives, as their activity is no doubt more or less affected by the others in the endless chain which circles the Pacific ocean.

Mount Hood, which has of late been emitting sulphurous fumes, like other extinct volcanoes, retains only a part of its original walls. In short, it has also blown its head off, like the others. It forms a picturesque background to Portland and no doubt would endanger that city if an eruption should occur.

Mount St. Helens, about 10,000 feet high, has been in eruption only once during the past half century, according to the statements of early settlers. The trappers who witnessed the explosion stated that the light was as bright as day, but they did not remain long enough to gather particulars.

Mount Ranier, the highest mountain, is considered to be the grandest and most picturesque single peak in the United States. Lovers of mountain scenery say that it is not so much because of its height, but from its isolated position and because it rises almost straight from the level of the sea. The crater of Mount Ranier is bowl shaped, of almost exact circular form.

Mount Shasta, in the northern part of California, is a typical volcanic formation. It has a double cone. The second, known as Shastina, or Little Shasta, is 2,000 feet below the summit. One of the immense lava streams extended fifty miles down the Sacramento canyon before cooling and displaced the Sacramento river. The eruption is of a very ancient date, and geologists are divided in opinion whether or not this eruption was so great as to cause the blowing out of the smaller vent, or Shastina.

HERE'S A GOOD THING

Mr. H. Rushton, of No. 387 West Market street, East Liverpool, O., says: 'Before I used Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkins' Drug Store, I was bilious, head felt achy and dull. The effect of the medicine was to clear the head—give a feeling of strength, energy and new life. This I think justifies a recommendation."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

Life Plant

Gives You Strength, Drives Away That Tired Feeling and Makes Your Mental Qualities Active.

Many people become tired and get played out so easily in hot weather that they give up and blame it all on the weather, where, in fact, its nothing more than your blood being out of order. Under such circumstances you should take a good tonic for your blood. LIFE PLANT is the best medicine on the market. Thousands are taking it and just as many are getting well. You don't have to go miles and miles away to find someone who has been cured by LIFE PLANT, they are all near here, in fact, some are your neighbors. If you cannot sleep well, if you are losing flesh, if your stomach is out of order, if you are constipated, if you have headaches, if your health is not satisfactory you should get a bottle of LIFE PLANT and you will be very thankful that such a good medicine is where you can get it.

The following letter from Geo Farnworth, of Cambridge, Ohio, is assurance as to the merits of LIFE PLANT:

"I have tried all kinds of Headache medicine but could get no relief. I also had Stomach trouble and could not sleep well. LIFE PLANT did more good than all the rest. LIFE PLANT is truly a medicine of merit."

Also a letter from C. T. Farnworth of Cambridge, Ohio, proves for LIFE PLANT what no other medicine will do:

"I was suffering from extreme prostration; was tired and run down, was nothing but skin and bone, and my trouble was thought to be Consumption. I took two bottles of LIFE PLANT and it cured me sound and well."

Ask for and get LIFE PLANT and you will make no mistake.

Peculiarities of Russian Winters.

There is one curious thing about a Russian winter—in the latter part of October or the beginning of November the weather will be as mild as it is here in September. Not a sign can be seen of an approaching change, when suddenly, without any apparent warning, a light haze will be seen in the northern sky, and in twenty-four hours the thermometer may fall 50 degrees. The change is so sudden and violent that travelers are frequently frozen to death before they can gain shelter.

It has occurred that farmers out looking after their flocks have been caught in one of these blizzards and, missing their way home, have lost their lives, their bodies remaining under the snow until the following spring. The suddenness of a Dakota blizzard is well known in the northwestern part of our country, but it is tardiness personified when compared with the rapidity with which a Russian winter storm comes on.

TWO WORKMEN SHOT.

Wounded by Unknown Person at a Washery, Near Scranton, Pa.

A DYNAMITE OUTRAGE OCCURS.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 20.—At the Edgerton washery of the Temple Iron company, at Edgerton, 16 miles north of this place, at a late hour Monday night, James Connolly, foreman of the washery, and Forest Crossman, a workman, were shot and seriously wounded by some unknown person. Connolly will lose the sight of one eye and Crossman had to have his left leg amputated above the knee.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 20.—Warrants were sworn out yesterday afternoon for the arrest of Charles Thain and John R. Mullery, editor and business manager respectively of the Courier Herald, of this city, the official organ of the striking miners of the Wyoming region. The prosecutors are men employed by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, who allege that the Courier Herald called them unfair workmen and held them up to ridicule. Thain and Mullery had already been under $11,000 bail on the same charge.

Thain and Mulery were taken before Magistrate Pollock yesterday afternoon and held in $12,000 bail for a further hearing on Friday. The bail was furnished by County Commissioner Finn and others.

A Dynamite Outrage.

Unknown parties exploded a stick of dynamite under the front door of John Workis' house, in Pittston township, early yesterday morning. The door was wrecked and the inmates of the house were badly frightened. Six men were lodged in the dwelling, and two of them are working in the mines. It is said that the two men, who continue to work, were warned that if they did not remain at home harm would come to them.

Tamaqua, Pa., Aug. 20.—General Gobin, who is in command of the battalion of the Twelfth regiment, national guard of Pennsylvania, sent from Shenandoah to the Panther Creek valley yesterday morning, opened temporary headquarters in the town last night.

The funeral of Patrick Sharpe, the strike leader who was shot and killed at Nesquehoning Monday night by a deputy, will take place Thursday. All the miners' local unions in the region are making arrangements to march to Lansford and attend the funeral, and General Gobin will probably station troops along the route to be taken by the funeral.

Yesterday afternoon Thomas Duffy, president of district No. 7, and Peter Gallagher, member of the executive board, went to Mauch Chunk to engage counsel and to make arrangements to push the prosecution of the deputy charged with the shooting of Sharpe.

Protests Against Presence of Troops.

Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 20.—President Thomas Duffy, of District No. 7, United Mine Workers, has sent a formal protest against the presence of the Twelfth regiment at Manile park, near Coaldale. The note to Governor Stone declares that the situation does not require the troops and that an investigation by the governor would confirm the truth of the statement.

New York, Aug. 20.—The presidents of the anthracite coal roads had their usual weekly conference here yesterday. Before going to the meeting Mr. Truesdale, president of the Lackawanna Railroad company, said:

"There is no foundation in fact for the rumor that the anthracite coal operators will make concessions in order to end the strike. I think work will be resumed in time to produce plenty of coal for the fall demand. The operators are ready, as they always have been ready, to adjust with their men any grievances that they may have and they have never discriminated against any of their men because they have belonged to the union. What the operators will not do is to discuss their business affairs with outsiders."

AGED WOMEN ASSAULTED.

Received Terrible Injuries From Negro, Who Plead Guilty to Burglary and Felony.

Ashtabula, O., Aug. 20.—John Crooms, a negro, is in the Ashtabula county jail at Jefferson, charged with a serious offense. Shortly after midnight yesterday morning it is alleged that he entered the residence of two aged women, who reside alone in East Ashtabula street, Jefferson, and attacked them in a most brutal manner. One of them the assailant attacked with his teeth, lacerating her arm and nearly severing one ear. The women are the Misses Sabrina and Harriet Hotchkiss. Sabrina is 70 years old and Hariet about 76.

One report is to the effect that the fellow was after money.

At noon yesterday Crooms was arraigned and pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary and felony, and was bound over to appear before the grand jury under bonds of $500.

Sabrina was the one bitten and last night it was feared she was internally injured from a blow on the chest.

SOME TRI-STATE EVENTS.

The smallpox epidemic has been wiped out at Marion, O. In all there were about 30 cases and six deaths.

D. Hoy, of Marion, O., a relative of the late Archbishop Corrigan, is co-heir with Nashville (Ind.) people to the millions left by a relative in Ireland, who operated the largest linen factories there.

At Findlay, O., while in apparent good health, Mrs. Rebecca Carr told her children she was going to die soon. A short time later she lay down on a couch and was soon a corpse.

At Springfield, O. Henry Eisenmenger, a well-known citizen, bled to death. For several months he has been suffering from glandular trouble and the glands burst.

J. F. Bash, aged 48, of Roseville near Zanesville, O., died of lockjaw. A week ago Mr. Bash ran a nail into his foot, which resulted in gangrene and finally lockjaw.

The Ohio Fuel Supply company drilled in a 3,000,000 gas well near Lancaster, O. The company is connecting Zanesville with the Licking county field.

Harley Goss was brought to Circleville, O., with one side of his head crushed in and one of his ears missing. He says he fell from a bridge.

At Columbus, O., Mayor Hinkle appointed Clarence Sutphen, E. L. Pocock and G. J. Marriott to investigate the affairs of the city workhouse.

At Springfield, O., the divorce suit brought by Edith Snyder from Charles Snyder, a wealthy farmer, was dismissed at her request.

The local option election at Raymond, near Marysville, O., under the Beal law, resulted in a victory for the "drys" by 315 to 90.

At Circleville, O., Ollie Richards fell from a train. Her skull was fractured and her condition is serious.

Roy Perrine, aged 24, of Orangeville, near Warren, O., was drowned. He fell from a boat.

At Loudonville, O., local capitalists have formed a stock company to build a new hotel at a cost of $20,000.

At Morgantown, W. Va., Thornton Pickenbaugh, aged 65, died of heart disease. He left an estate valued at $300,000. Two children, Mrs. J. L. Roemer, of Chillicothe, O., and J. C. Pickenbaugh, of Morgantown, with his widow, survive him.

William Douglass, who shot and instantly killed William and Fred Johnson, brothers, at Anderson, is now in the county jail at Fairmont, W. Va. Douglass says he shot in self-defense.

George Callaway, who, it is charged, attempted to kill Ike Johnson near Fayetteville, W. Va., was lodged in jail at Fayetteville.

The strike at the Central Glass works, at Wheeling, W. Va., involving 700 employes, was settled. Work will be resumed.

At Greensburg, Pa., W. S. Byers filed his affidavit of defense in the suit of his uncle, Jacob Byers, in the prothonotary's office. The concluding statement of the affidavit contains a general denial of his indebtedness to his uncle in the several items that were set forth by the latter or for any other sum whatever.

Christopher Ennis, of McKeesport, the Pittsburg and Western brakeman whose head was severed last Friday night at New Castle, Pa., junction by a shifting engine, was probably murdered, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury. There was a long clean cut on the top of Enis' head and the jury think he was murdered and his body placed on the track to be mutilated.

LOOKED LIKE A NIGHT ATTACK.

Torpedo Flotilla Engaged In Some Sort of Manoeuvres, Ships Apparently Watchful.

Rockport, Mass., Aug. 20.—The torpedo flotilla which yesterday was attached to the fleet commanded by Rear Admiral Higginson executed manoeuvres last night which somewhat resembled an attack under cover of darkness. The fleet did not put out its anchor lights at dark, and the vessels were scarcely discernable from shore all the evening. It was supposed that the fleet was making ready for sail, for an incoming craft reported that the funnels of all the vessels were belching forth smoke, as if fires were being raked up to quick steaming heat. The torpedo boats which had proceeded southward about four miles during the afternoon and anchored off the Gloucester shore also were lost to view at dark.

Just after 10 o'clock last night observers on shore saw a rocket go up far out to sea. Then another went off to the northward, and quickly others went up, seemingly from vessels sailing on an arc. The instant the first rocket was seen all the searchlights of the fleet were turned on and, as if by magic, the vessels were ablaze with lights, where an instant before they were in darkness. The rocket display lasted 20 minutes, and it could be seen that the incoming craft were converging as they neared shore. At midnight the torpedo flotilla came into the bay and anchored near the flagship Kearsarge. Signalling continued for some time among the vessels of the fleet and the searchlights were used for some minutes. After the torpedo boats anchored the fleet resumed its normal night appearance.

MOROS FIGHT MOROS.

Inter-Tribal Battle Occurred Near Camp Vickers, Mindanao.

THIRTY-FIVE MEN WERE KILLED.

Many Others Wounded—No Americans Concerned In the Trouble—Believed Chaffee Will Increase Force and Issue an Ultimatum.

Manila, Aug. 20.—There were no developments yesterday in the Moro situation on the island of Mindanao. General Chaffee was expected to reach Cebu on the transport Ingalls yesterday morning, but the vessel's arrival at that port had not been reported. It is possible that General Chaffee has decided to shorten his trip to the southern islands and return to Manila direct. An order received from the war department at Washington leaving action in the Moro situation to General Chaffee's discretion has been transmitted to him in the south, but has probably not yet reached him.

It is believed here that General Chaffee will increase the American forces on Mindanao and issue an ultimatum to the hostile Moros. There are at present 27,000 American troops in the Philippine islands, a goodly portion of which could be spared for active service.

Captain John J. Pershing, of the Fifteenth cavalry, who is in command of the American column at Lanao, Mindanao, has reported a fierce Moro inter-tribal fight near Camp Vickers, Mindanao. The contending factions met at Webding. Thirty-five men were killed outright and many others were wounded. No Americans were concerned in the trouble.

R. R. REMINGTON NOT INSANE.

His Business Associates Declare It Impossible—Body Taken to Williamsport, Pa.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20.—Edward D. Remington, brother of Robert Reading Remington, who killed himself at the Newport reading room Monday, arrived from Pittsburg at 7 o'clock last night and two hours later left for the former home of the family at Williamsport, Pa., where his brother's body will be buried. With Mr. Remington were two clerks from his Pittsburg office, who were prepared to take down any statements which were made concerning the death of Robert Remington.

Mr. Remington said he was extremely surprised at what he had read in the papers ascribing the suicide of his brother to mental derangement. The last time he saw his brother, he said, was in April, just prior to the announcement of his engagement to Miss Van Alen, and there was then no evidence of any mental change whatever. On passing through New York yesterday he said he stopped at his brother's office and closely questioned business associates, who all declared that it was impossible that Robert Remington's mind was unbalanced.

Two Other Persons Badly Injured In New York Tenement Fire.

New York, Aug. 20.—Something exploded in a furniture store on the ground floor of the double tenement at No. 35 Essex street yesterday, and before the tenants could escape the building was a mass of flames.

Before the flames were under control, two women and four children had burned to death, and a man and a woman were carried to Gouveneur hospital, suffering painful injuries. Several others were badly burned.

The dead are: Mrs. Annie Bolochin, 32 years old; Mrs. Joseph Knott, Sallie Leibwitz, 8 years old; Louis Leibwitz, 6; Jules Leibwitz, 5; Morris Leibwitz, 3.

The persons seriously injured were Mrs. Rosa Mieses, who was burned about the body and face, and Jacob Muscovitz, who suffered three broken ribs by jumping to the pavement.

The money loss by the fire was $5,000.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Baptist Social—The ladies of the Baptist church gave a very pleasant ice cream social last evening. It was quite largely attended and greatly enjoyed.

Entertained Friends—Master Carl E. Berg entertained his Sunday school class of the M. P. church and a number of his friends at his home on Jefferson street yesterday from 4 to 7 o'clock. It was a most enjoyable affair.

Met With a Mishap—Miss Ira Bence, stenographer for the American Tin Plate company, Chester, met with a very painful accident Monday noon on Washington street, spraining her ankle. She will be unable to walk for at least two weeks.

Papers Were Late—Owing to trouble with the machinery the News Review was late in reaching its subscribers last evening. Arrangements are being effected whereby in a few days all patrons will be able to secure their papers even earlier than usual.

No More Packets—There will be no Pittsburg packets until there is another rise in the Ohio. Wheeling is now the practical head of navigation upon the Ohio. The Queen City could get up no farther than there yesterday. There are less than three feet of water here.

Child's Arm Broken—Olga Bowman, aged five, residing with her parents on May street, while playing about her home last evening, accidentally fell and broke her left arm an inch above the elbow. The child was assisted to her home where her injury was dressed by a physician.

Sirius Club Foot Ball Team — The Sirius club, of this city, will have a foot ball club in the field this fall, and the first steps toward organization have been taken. A meeting was held Monday evening when it was decided to form a club, and at the next meeting a team will be selected.

Resigned Her Position—Miss Mercedes Gladden, who for the past four years has been employed as toll operator at the Bell Telephone exchange, has resigned her position and will go to Connellsville with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Gladden, who will remove to that town soon. The position made vacant by this resignation has been filled by promotion.

Respected in Steubenville—It appears that Al. Bougher, arrested here on the charge of stealing money from Terry Carman, and later released, is very highly thought of in Steubenville. He was formerly in the employ of the Adams Express Company in that city and while with the company handled thousands of dollars and no complaint was ever made.

CROWDS OF DAWSONS

Two Deaths of Expected Visitors Mar the Pleasure of the Rest.

The Dawson family reunion is being held at Rock Springs today. The usual large crowd is expected, and they began to arrive at an early hour. The family and its connections are scattered through the three states, Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, and the officers began to arrange for the business meeting early this morning. The officers are: President, W. F. Dawson, East Liverpool; Vice-President, J. H. Dawson, East Liverpool; Secretary and Treasurer, Harry Boyde, Beaver. It has been customary in former years to hold the business meeting in the forenoon, and after that the remainder of the day is given over to the various amusements provided by the park management.

A death in the family will affect the attendance to some extent. Mrs. George Dawson of Beaver, died at her home in that city yesterday. She was past 60 years of age, and her death was quite sudden. She is mourned by her husband and four children, three daughters and one son, all residing in Beaver. The funeral will be held there tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Dawson was a cousin of Mrs. Senator M. S. Quay.

Another death, which occured at Chillicothe prevented about ten others from attending the reunion. It was that of Mrs. Stella Carothers. She died suddenly last Saturday, and was buried yesterday. She was one of the Dawson connections, and her death prevented quite a number from this part of the state from attending the reunion. Another person absent from the reunion was R. D. Carothers, aged 84 years, and who resides at Marietta. It was expected that he would be present at the gathering today, but this was prevented.

SMALLER CITIES

JUDGE SHAUCK WOULD HAVE THE DIVIDING LINE 5,000.

His Opinoin of the Nash Code Bill And Needed Legislation.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—Justice John A. Shauck, of the supreme court of Ohio, in discussing Governor Nash's code, gave it as his judgment that it should be amended so as to place all municipalities with a population of 5,000 or more in the city class. He regards the code upon the whole as being satisfactory.

"There is no trouble about registration in cities," said he. "Registration laws do not confer corporate powers and there is nothing to prevent the legislature providing that there shall be registration in all cities of 15,000 or more. Were I governor I would advise the legislature to pass the code bill and then provide for the appointment of three non-partisan commissions—one to draft a complete new election law for the state, another to codify and prepare a draft for a school code and a third to take up the question of county officers' salaries and prepare a complete county law for the state."

Clyde Blazier Promises to Provide for His Minor Child Hereafter.

Clyde Blazier was arrested yesterday by Constable Powell on an information made in the court of Justice Rose by his wife, charging him with the non-support of a minor child. Blazier was arraigned, pleaded guilty, and was bound over to court in the sum of $100.

A compromise was effected later, the provisions of which were that Blazier should pay $5 per week toward the support of his child. He also paid the costs.

Quarantine Raised.

For the first time in many months the city is absolutely without contagious disease. Health Officer Burgess reports the last two cases which he had under his direction, and he has them all recovered sufficiently to warrant the raising the quarantine from the houses where families were afflicted. They were Thomas Jackson's, in Grove alley, and Jefferson Green's, in the East End.

Notice to Teachers.

The city board of school examiners will hold an examination in high school room of Central school building East Liverpool, Ohio, Thursday, August 28, 1902. The examination to begin at 8 o'clock, a. m., city time.

GUADALUPE SHRINE

THE MOST DEARLY BELOVED SPOT IN OLD MEXICO.

Thousands From All Over the Country Make Pilgrimages to the Little Village Each Year—The Story That Is Handed Down by Tradition.

There is no spot in all Mexico as dearly beloved as the little town of Guadalupe, which is two and a half miles north of the City of Mexico.

The little village has only 3,000 souls, but many more thousands visit the place on certain days in the year when pilgrimages are made to the holy shrine of Guadalupe.

The 1st of January and the 12th of each month the faithful visit this place and toil up the hill on which it is said that the virgin Guadalupe appeared to Juan Diego, an Indian boy.

According to tradition, Juan was trudging over the hill of Tepeyac on his way to the city on the morning of Dec. 9, 1531, and as he reached the eastern slope of the hill he heard sounds like music. He stopped to listen, and at that moment a cloud appeared and in the midst of it a beautiful lady. She told him to go to the bishop in her name and to tell him that it was her wish that a church should be built on that spot, where she would always be found to give aid to all in trouble. Juan Diego hurried to the bishop with the story of the virgin, but no attention was paid to it. Upon his return home the lady appeared again in the same spot and urged Juan to go again to the bishop.

The following day was the Sabbath, and after mass Juan found the bishop and repeated the message once more. The bishop told him to bring a sign from the virgin. Juan saw the virgin again upon his return home, and she promised to give him a sign, which she did on Dec. 12 as he was going to confession. He passed this time near the foot of the hill, where she appeared once more, and while in conversation with Juan she stamped her foot by way of emphasis, and water flowed at once from the dry, barren hillside, and two holy wells mark that spot today.

The virgin then told Juan to climb to the summit of that barren rocky hill and he would find roses growing there, which he was to gather and carry in his "tilma" to the bishop. Juan did as he was told and found the loveliest roses growing just where she had told him to search for them. He gathered them all and placed them in his "tilma," a sort of blanket.

When he arrived at the house of the bishop and opened the blanket, the roses fell to the floor, and a picture in colors appeared on the blanket representing the virgin as she had appeared to Juan. The bishop fell on his knees in prayer and arose with a promise to build a chapel on the spot the virgin had designated.

That little chapel has since been replaced by the magnificent church to be seen today. There are also two other churches to mark the spot on which the roses were gathered on the summit and at the holy well where the virgin last appeared to Juan. This miracle was recognized in 1663, and in 1754 it was fully sanctioned and confirmed by a papal bull. Later, in 1824, congress decreed Dec. 12 to be a national holiday.

Hidalgo took a picture of Guadalupe for his standard, around which rallied the first army of the revolutionists, and the happy issue that her assistance gave to that war endeared her still more to the people. This picture on the "tilma" is a wonderful piece of work. Artists from all over the world have examined it and have testified that it is of no known style of painting. The Indian garment of ixtli fiber is of a course weave. The picture appears on both sides of the cloth and is as bright as new, although said to be over 300 years old. The Church of Nuestra Senora de Guadalupe, in which this marvelous picture hangs, is said by experts to be one of the richest and handsomest on earth today. Its treasures can be counted by millions. It was dedicated May 1, 1709, and is 184 feet long by 122 feet wide. It has a vaulted roof, supported by Corinthian columns. The whole is surmounted by a dome, the lantern of which is 125 feet above the floor. The building cost $1,181,000. The jewels, gold and silver plate and other rich belongings nearly all belong to the government and are estimated at $2,000,000 more.

The church possesses a very costly crown for the virgin. It is of solid gold and weighs many pounds. There are six shields on the crown for the six archbishops of Mexico, and they are all surrounded by diamonds. There are a number of angels, each having an immense ruby on the breast, while the rest of the surface of the crown is covered with sapphires and emeralds. This crown is surmounted by the Mexican eagle, holding aloft a large diamond cross.

The poor pilgrims are not able, many of them, to form an idea of the richness of this church, with its communion rail and balustrades from the sanctuary to the choir of solid silver. They are three feet high, with a top molding a foot wide and a still more massive base. The sacred vessels are all of pure gold embedded with precious stones. The choir has some fine carvings done in ebony and mahogany. The finest is a basso relievo above the stalls, illustrating the litany of the virgin.

Artists were brought from France to paint the frescoes on the walls, and the paintings and statues were the work of the best European artists and sculptors. The organ in itself represents a small fortune.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A HARD HEADED FARMER.

The Way He Held Up a Prince With a Pitchfork.

When Edward VII. of England was an undergraduate at Oxford university, he had an adventure which led a newspaper of that time to describe the prince as a prisoner. It said that "not very far from Oxford, at a place called Steeple Barton, there was a farmer named Hedges, a man of much independence of character, commonly known as 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges.'

"On one occasion the prince and his friends were out with the South Oxfordshire hounds, but, meeting with indifferent sport, they resolved on riding home across country. This they did, galloping over the lands of Farmer Hedges and presently riding into his farmyard. There they were confronted by the farmer himself, armed with a fork. He closed the gates and informed the party bluntly that they had been trespassing on his ground and trampling on his young wheat and that he would not allow one of them to leave his farmyard until he had paid a fine of a sovereign for the damage done.

"They whispered that the prince himself was of the party. 'Prince or no prince,' he replied shortly, 'I'll have my money.' There was little glory to be had by fighting a resolute farmer armed with a fork. They therefore made up their minds to pay, prince and all. When he had the money in his pocket, and not till then, 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges' opened the gates and let them go."—Philadelphia Times.

He Was Dead.

The English papers tell this story of an incident in a revision court:

A certain person who figured on the register was objected to by one of the agents on the ground that he was dead. The revising barrister declined to accept the assurance, however, and demanded conclusive testimony on the point.

Thereupon the agent of the other side rose and gave corroborative evidence as to the decease of the gentleman in question.

"And pray, sir, how do you know the man's dead?" demanded the barrister.

"Well," was the reply, "I don't know. It's very difficult to prove."

"As I suspected," returned the irate barrister. "You don't know whether he's dead or not."

The barrister glanced triumphantly around the court. His expression gradually underwent a change as the witness coolly continued:

"I was saying, sir, that I don't know whether he is dead or not, but I do know this—they buried him about a month ago on suspicion."

Donkeys In Mexico.

There are two classes of donkeys in Mexico—one with four feet and the other with two. Each is a kind of competitor of the other. Sometimes they are partners. They are both bearers of burdens and the subjects of brutality. Everywhere you see the donkey loaded down with sacks of ore, baskets of dirt, cans of milk, sacks of water, and you find his driver very often loaded in the same way. These combinations sometimes go two by two, and sometimes there will be a band of ten to fifty thus loaded, coming down the mountains with ore, charcoal or wood, corn or whatever may be needed in the villages or cities. It is indeed a mediæval life in middle and southern Mexico.

Attention to the Children.

THE WHISTLE WAS SILENT.

Why His New Set of Teeth Didn't Help the Blower.

A small town in Posen, near the Silesian frontier, still keeps that relic of other centuries, the night watchman who calls the hours. One night—the London Telegraph tells this remarkable story—one of these watchmen, an old worthy long in service, failed to blow his whistle when the clock struck the hour.

The burgomaster summoned the delinquent to account for his negligence. After some hesitation he declared that his last tooth had dropped out and that he could not hold in his mouth the official flat tin whistle.

A council was called, and the subject was gravely discussed. Finally one of the members said that he had heard of a dentist at Breslau who supplied artificial teeth. After long debate the council appropriated money to send the aged watchman to Breslau to get a set of new teeth.

In due time the watchman reported that his teeth had arrived. That night the burgomaster sat up to hear the result. To his astonishment there was no whistle at 10, at 11 or at midnight. The next morning he summoned the watchman.

"You have got your teeth," he said indignantly. "Why do you not whistle as before?"

"Yes, I've got a new set of teeth," replied the old man, "but the doctor told me to put them in water at night."

HIS FRIENDS ARE ANXIOUS

Fletcher Massey, of Sunnyside, Has Been Missing For Ten Days.

By His Wife, But Failed to Reveal Any Trace of Him Since He Left.

ABSENCE UNEXPLAINABLE

It has been ten days since the family and friends have seen or heard from Fletcher Massey, and his wife has became very anxious and greatly alarmed at his continued absence.

Mr. Massey left his home on Sunnyside one week ago last Monday, and has as completely disappeared as though the earth had swallowed him up.

Massey was of a quiet disposition, and not given to talking; therefore it was not thought strange that he would leave his home without explaining where he intended to go.

The family, however, believed he was on his way to work, and gave the matter no further consideration until evening. He did not return to supper; still the wife was not alarmed, as he had often been detained before. Mr. Massey did not return that night, nor the next, and his whereabouts at present is a mystery.

Mrs. Massey is a very level headed woman, and without mentioning the occurence, began making inquiry at the shop where her husband is employed as a dishmaker, and among his more intimate friends. Not a single clue could be found that would throw light upon the sudden and mysterious disappearance. The lady grew alarmed at last and caused a thorough investigation to be made, but nothing has came of it. Mr. Massey is one of the best known potters in this section, having worked at the dishmaking trade since he was a small boy. He is a man of exemplary habits, and was a steady and efficient workman.

The friends of Mr. Massey are at a loss to account for his strange actions. They are loath to believe that he has met with foul play, and still they can find no other way to account for his continued absence. His family relations were of the most pleasant nature and his wife is almost heartbroken. They have one child. The police have been asked to aid in the search.

UNHAPPILY WEDDED

Deserted Leetonia Wife Seeks Divorce and Salem Woman Wants Alimony.

Lisbon, Aug. 20.—(Special)—Mrs. Annie H. McCloskey, of Leetonia, has applied for a divorce from James McCloskey, and custody of her two minor children. She also asks alimony. The couple were married in Pittsburg seven years ago, and the wife charges neglect and non-support ever since. For three years she has been dependant upon the care of friends, although her husband is able to support her.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bilger asks for alimony from Ephraim Bilger. They were married at Salem seven years ago, and resided there till last month when she says her husband deserted her and has since sent word that he will neither live with her nor support her. Bilger went to Youngstown and is now in the employ of the Union ice company, receiving $15 a week. She represented to Judge Hole that the company was indebted to her husband, and a restraining order was issued yesterday to prevent the company paying him money until the suit is disposed of.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE

Winters will pitch for East Liverpool on Friday and Maley on Saturday.

HIS SHARE OF TROUBLE

A Young Man Who Was Kicked By a Horse Gets Badly Scalded By Water.

James McFadden, residing with his parents on lower Walnut street, is having considerably more than his share of hard luck. Last week he was kicked by a horse belonging to John Rinehart. The animal struck over the dash board, and inflicted a bad wound upon McFadden's right leg below the knee. This morning, while preparing boiling water to bathe the leg, he accidentaly spilled a quantity upon his left hand scalding it badly. The wound was hastily dressed, and though the skin was burned off the hand, the young man is not expected to suffer any lasting injury.

NEW OFFICERS

The Lisbon Railroad Is to Have Officials Like Other Railroads.

Lisbon, O., Aug. 20.—(Special)— A change in the management of the Pittsburg, Lisbon and Western railroad office was announced today to take effect September 1st.

Officers of traffic manager and superintendent are created. K. E. Barringer, the former auditor, has been elected to the former office and R. W. Billingsly, son of Judge N. B. Billingsly, to the latter. W. B. Johnson was made auditor in charge of the accounting department. Mr. Johnson has been station agent.

LOCAL OPTION FIGHT

Anti-Saloon League Proposes to Wage a Strenuous Campaign.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—The Anti-Saloon league will soon begin a systematic local campaign. It is proposed to hold elections under the Beal law in 45 municipalities, with populations ranging from 5,000 to 15,000. The usual Sunday services will be held in the churches and outdoor meetings will be held on week days.

The best speakers of the league will be sent out to prosecute the campaign. The league is planning to carry its present crusade into the smaller towns first, after which the larger cities will be taken up.

YOUNG LAWYER AND OLD JUDGE

Attorney R. S. Ramsey Tells of His First Experience With Justice Jackson.

ACTED FOR THE MINERS

And Finds Excuse for the Actions of the Venerable Jurist — Marquet Mines at New Cumberland Sold to a Syndicate.

Attorney Robert L. Ramsey was here from New Cumberland yesterday, where he came on business connected with the settlement of the estate of Margaret Fox, of this city.

Attorney Ramsey was associated with a Wheeling lawyer in defending the employes of the Marquet mines at New Cumberland and other mines in West Virginia against the alleged unjust injunction granted by Judge Jackson, of the United States circuit court of West Virginia. Mr. Ramsey has been actively engaged in behalf of the miners ever since the strike at Marquet collieries was instituted, and his good work in their behalf has been appreciated throughout the entire West Virgina coal district.

The attorney is a young man, having graduated from the law department of the West Virginia university at Morgantown two years ago. He was admitted to the West Virginia bar a short time later, and though young in experience has conducted successful suits not only in other county courts in the state, but before the higher tribunal in West Virginia.

Attorney Ramsey felt an interest in the cause of the laboring people, and was a willing champion of their side of the case from the time he was first permitted to practice within the state. This feeling was but natural, since he had arisen from a humble station himself, and felt, as he says, that their interests were his own. Respecting the celebrated Jackson injunction Mr. Ramsey says:

"At the time the notice was served we were not aware that a petition had been made, and though there was not sufficient time to prepare an answer before the order became effective, we took steps to make a formal request that we be allowed to do so.

"You have never seen Judge Jackson, I take it. Well, you have no idea what my feelings were, then, when I appeared before his majesty with my humble request. He frowned upon me, wandering perhaps what boy was attempting to practice in his court. He informed us there would be no change in the proceedings, as they had been outlined in the injunction. Mind you, we had not at that time, been furnished with a copy of the bill, and knew nothing whatever of its contents. The judge said we would have until September 30 to prepare an answer, and at that time, unless we showed clearly there was no cause for the complaint, the injunction would be made permanent. We have the documents prepared, but I doubt if it will be necessary to present them, since things have transpired recently which will have the effect of making the court's order imperative."

During the past few days the Marquet interests have been disposed of to a Cleveland coal company, which is to take charge of the mines today. Stewart Bros., of Pittsburg, held an option on them, but it was allowed to lapse. Mr. Ramsey said further:

"There are several reasons why Judge Jackson's actions are excusable. In the first place, his sphere has been small, and few if any questions have been brought before him for settlement that involved interests outside the state. When you take this into consideration and couple with it the knowledge that he has been on the bench for over 40 years, some excuse can be found for his peculiar attitude. Judge Jackson was elevated to his present position by Abraham Lincoln, and has grown old in the service. He is now past 70."

AN INCORRICIBLE

From East Liverpool Who is Booked For the Delaware Girls' Home.

Lisbon, Aug. 20—(Special)—Ethel McMillen, aged 12, an incorrigible, from East Liverpool, was brought into probate court today by her grandfather. An effort will be made to send her to the girls' industrial school at Delaware.

FUSION IDEA IS NOT POPULAR

THE BURNING QUESTION

Is Whether There Shall Be a Labor Candidate for Congress Placed in the Field—Lively Discussion of the Proposition Expected.

Trades Council will meet in regular session this evening, and it is likely the attendance will be large, as several matters of extraordinary importance will be up for consideration.

The one question which is just now agitating the minds of the local working people is the move started in Stark county to place a labor candidate in the field for congress in the Eighteenth district.

The proposition from Stark county asking for representatives to be selected to represent the workers of this section in a convention to be held at Alliance Saturday, has received a great deal of consideration here. Several of the local unions have already discussed the question and when it is brought up in the council tonight, there will be many who have posted themselves sufficiently to talk intelligently upon the subject.

There are a large number who are opposed to any fusion idea, and say if there is to be a labor candidate let him be from that element, selected by them and no trimmings. It is understood that the Democrats propose to place a labor man on their ticket, and while there is nothing the working people can do to prevent this, they cannot but feel that it is a scheme to induce the workers to support that ticket.

The membership of the local labor organizations is made up of men of all political beliefs, and while many might not have any hesitancy in supporting an out-and-out labor candidate, the majority of them are strictly opposed to fusing with any of the old parties.

The question, if it is brought up at the meeting tonight, is bound to call forth great discussion, and there will doubtless be many differences of opinion as to the proper course to pursue.

WITH A MILLMAN

The Daughter of a Wealthy Merchant Eloped From Niles And Married.

Niles, August 20.—A startling elopement case was reported in this city yesterday, the principals being Miss Annette Bowden, the daughter of a wealthy shoe merchant, and Charlie White, a mill worker. Saturday evening, when Miss Bowden's folks were away from home, she hastily collected some of her clothes and jumped in a buggy which White had waiting. The couple drove to Youngstown, where they were made man and wife.

A GIFT FOR CAREY

East Liverpool Admirers Have a Handsome Present for the Ball Player.

George Carey, who has been playing first base for the Washington American league team, and who during a recent game accidentally broke one of the small bones of his right wrist, will be with the team in Cleveland next week. A number of the friends of Carey will go to Cleveland to visit him. He will be presented an imported pitcher, representing the face of an old German, and handsomely decorated. The handle is finished in gold, and is one of the best clay novelties that has been seen in this city for many months.

COMING STATE FAIR

Will Open First Week in September And Last Five Days.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—The state board of agriculture has completed most of the arrangements for the state fair which will be held in this city the first week in September. The attraction will last five days and will probably be largely attended if reports received from over the state are any criterion. On Woman's day women and girls will be admitted free of charge. The railroads grant low rates while the fair lasts. The fair lasted two weeks last year, and was a success in every way save financially. No more such experiments will be repeated.

The superintendents of the several departments will report for duty on August 28. Exhibits will be received on and after that time, but everything must be in place for public inspection on the opening day, September 1. The buildings will be decorated elaborately.

STREET CAR FENDERS

A Device Made By Home Talent Pronounced a Successful Life-Saver.

It is probable that the management of the East Liverpool railway company will order fenders placed on all cars. The matter is now being given a trial and has proved a success in every particular. The idea of placing fenders on the cars has been considered for many months, and instead of ordering several sample fenders, plans were drawn by Supt. Thompson, of the United Power company, and the first fender was made by Engineer Paxter, of the power house.

The fender was completed a day or two ago, and was placed on summer car No. 39. The fender is pronounced a life saver in every particular, and this is all that is required. The fender is an automatic arrangement, so constructed that by even the least touch of the hand it drops from its suspended position to the track, and nothing can get under it. It is reported very tedious to make, but when the fact that it is a successful life saver is taken into consideration, it is surely worth the while to make.

PRAYED FOR DANCERS

UNUSUAL SCENE AT ROCK SPRINGS PAVILION.

Mrs. Logan Asked for the Salvation of the Merry-Makers.

Those who attended the dance at Rock Springs park last night were treated to something out of the ordinary program, for during the evening a Mrs. Logan walked out on the dance floor and there offered a prayer to the Lord for the salvation of the dancers. While this was being done extreme quiet prevailed, but after the woman completed her self-imposed task the dance continued.

Mrs. Logan is said to reside near the Grant street school, and to be a member of the Free Methodist church.

NOT A CANDIDATE

General Dick Reported Not to Be in the Race for the Governorship.

Columbus, August 20.—"General Charles Dick will not be a candidate for governor next year," said Representative Seese, "and what is more I believe that Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, of Columbus, will be the nominee of the party."

Representative Cain, of Noble county, not only agrees with his colelague, Mr. Seese, in both statements made, but goes further and says positively that negotiations are now on looking to Mr. Daugerty's nomination. What is more Mr. Cain believes that these negotiations will be successful.

In a recent conversation Eli M. West, who is one of the prominent Foraker leaders at the state capital, also made the predictions that Mr. Daugherty would be a candidate of the party for governor next year.

ABUSED HIS MOTHER

An Unfaithful Son at Lisbon Fell Into the Hands of the Sheriff.

Lisbon, Aug. 20—(Special)—Sheriff Leonard today arrested Charles Feasline at his home here. He was abusing his aged mother. He was taken before Mayor Farrell and fined $20 and costs and committed to the Cleveland workhouse.

Fireproofing Factories Busy.

Lisbon, August 20.—The United State Fireproofing Corporation is putting many men to work in Columbiana county, where it has three large factories. The fireproofing and conduit works at Coleman, near Lisbon, were put in operation a few days ago and are running full handed. Officials state that another large factory will soon be constructed in this vicinity.

THE RAILROAD MAY BE SUED

Alleged Breach of Contract With the P. H. C. For the Excursion Today.

The Company at the Last Moment Reported Itself Unable to Supply More Than 12 of the 24 Coaches Promised.

About 900 excursionists left the city this morning for Cascade Park and perhaps 250 were unable to make the trip because there were no tickets nor accommodations for them.

When the arrangements were being made by the local officials of the Protected Home Circle, 18 cars were ordered. Pennsylvania railway men asserted at the time they would not require so many, but took the order. A few days later it was found that even 18 would not accommodate the crowds who had applied for tickets, and J. K. Dillon, passenger agent, was summoned to the city. Arrangements were made for 24 coaches, and not until yesterday afternoon were the local men informed they could not have the desired number of coaches. This was a sore disappointment to the officers of the organization, since everything pointed to an excellent patronage for the outing.

The word received from the railroad authorities was to the effect that only 12 coaches could be provided, and that meant only about half the number who desired to go could be accommodated.

It is said this is not the first time the same trouble has been experienced with the railroad company, and it is attributed to the fact that the owners of Cascade Park have a fight on with the Pennsylvania, and they do not work in harmony.

It is argued by the officers of the local lodge, however, that this has nothing to do with their excursion, and they propose to enter suit and make an effort to recover damages. They think since they put up a substantial guarantee to make the railroad people safe, they should have had the benefit of all fares that could be secured. It may be that the railroad people will make good the difference between what they were able to handle and those who desired to go.

TROLLEY LINE INSPECTOR

Legislature May Be Asked to Take Up Question of Such an Officer.

Columbus, August 20.—The special session of the legislature may be asked to take up the question of the creation of the office of "state inspector of electric railways."

The building of many electric traction lines throughout the state, has raised the question whether it will not be wise for the state of Ohio to regulate these traction lines, their operation, etc., in a manner similar to the regulation of the steam roads in Ohio.

Behind the movement to have such an office created are the officials of the interurban roads which enter Columbus, and, almost to a unit, they are in favor of placing proper restrictions upon their various roads for the benefit of the public. Not that the roads are being operated in a manner which is not satisfactory to the patrons, but to prevent employes from becoming careless and endangering the lives and health of their passengers.

The state of Massachusetts has such an officer, and it is said the interurban and electric roads in Massachusetts cities are first-class in every respect, and the safety of passengers is closely looked after.

Goes to the Infirmary.

Lisbon, Aug. 20—(Special)—Miss Jessie Wallace, who was taken ill while in the county jail Sunday, has grown steadily worse. Her condition is serious. She has pneumonia. She was taken to the infirmary today. Her arrest resulted in a sentence to the Cleveland workhouse.

Nothing Doing Today.

Business in Mayor Davidson's court this morning was nothing but a blank. No arrests were made last night, and none were put in jail this morning. It has been some days since matters have been so quiet as at City Hall this morning.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

NEWS FROM WHEELING

All the employes of the Riverside pottery have returned to work, and both men and firm are feeling good over the settlement of the short strike. The old clay carrier has been put back to work, doing chores for the men, and the firm has placed a clay carrier in the shop, whom it pays. This is operating the shop on the uniform scale recently signed by the firm and adopted at a convention of manufacturing potters making sanitary ware at Trenton a few months ago.

Within the past few days two new men have been added to the pressers' shop. They are John Connors, making No. washouts, and Frank Birch, who is making loppers and traps. They are both former employes of the shop at Tiffin.

Pete Gollner came to the Riverside shop a few days ago from East Liverpool, but will remain here but a few days. He states that he is going to Camden, N. J., where he has secured employment in the sanitary shop in that town.

Everything is moving along smoothly at the LaBelle and Wheeling potteries. The jiggermen at these shops are having all the work they can handle, and the outlook for a long run is very bright.

SCOTT SECURED OPTION.

John Scott, one of the best known pottery machinists in the city, in his opinion some day will be a rich man. His friends only hope he will make such an achievement. A few months ago Mr. Scott went to Tennessee and while there made a tour of the country for the purpose of finding a good quality of clay. He located a valuable tract of ball clay, said by manufacturing potters of this city to be far superior to any now in use here, and after securing a long option on the property returned home. The clay was recently tested—that is, a piece of it was fired in its rough state, and the results obtained are said to be little short of wonderful. It is said a large supply of this clay will be shipped to the city soon, and all the manufacturers will be asked to give it a thorough working test. If the results are obtained that are claimed Mr. Scott indeed has a large fortune in sight.

BACK FROM THE FARM.

It was a jolly crowd that visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Derringer, near Blackhawk, last Saturday. A party composed of 18 employes of the decorating department of the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery went to Blackhawk, or near there, and spent the day on the Derringer farm. Mrs. Derringer, before her marriage a few months ago, was one of the popular decorators at the Wallace & Chetwynd plant, and then Mr. and Mrs. Derringer went to the farm to reside. Last Saturday Mr. Derringer drove a large hay wagon to the East End and then the employes of the decorating department, former shopmates of Mrs. Derringer, were driven to the farm. Dinner and supper were served to the crowd in excellent style and before their return home in the evening all voted Mr. and Mrs. Derringer a host and hostess hard to beat.

MAMMOTH STRAW SHED.

The largest straw shed in the city will be that which is now in course of erection at the Laughlin potteries in the East End. Although it will be but one story in height, its dimensions will be 75 by 48 feet and having a capacity of not less than 20 cars of straw, baled. This is the largest building of the kind in the city, and without doubt in this part of the country. It is being erected by Contractor Harvey McHenry and will be frame throughout. The new building will not be completed for three weeks at least. The old straw shed, which has been located near the packing department of plant No. 2, will be discontinued after the new shed is completed.

A FEW CHANGES.

Charles Llewellyn, who for many months has been employed as a decorating kiln foreman, has resigned his position, and in the future will be located at the Goodwin pottery. Mal Smith, who has been filling a similar position at Goodwin's, has resigned there and will go to the Taylor, Smith & Taylor shop at Chester. Harvey Crawford, who was formerly a resident of this city, but more recently employed as a teamster at Sebring for the several potteries there, has returned to this city and will be located at Laughlin No. 2.

BACK TO WORK.

Walter Owens, a jiggerman at the East End pottery, who has been idle for several days, has returned to work. Some person, with an eye to making mischief, went to the jigger operated by Owens some time between Saturday afternoon and Monday morning and broke the set screw which holds the die. This could not be repaired at once and Mr. Owens was compelled to loaf until repairs could be made.

COMPANY WILL ENLARGE.

By handing additions to its already good sized plant, the Salem pottery will soon be operating a nine-kiln pottery. One and possibly two new kilns are said to be contracted for at this plant, and work upon them is to commence soon. Since this company began business there has not been a dull moment in its life, and the outlook for business for the future is exceedingly bright.

A COLORADO SHOP.

After working for several months, workmen have completed the two new kiln plant for the Denver China and Pottery company, located at Denver, Col. The company is now installing the machinery and the work of making clay is expected to commence shortly. A small number of men will be employed at the start, but this number will be increased as the business justifies.

NOW RUSHING WORK.

At the Dresden China plant at Salineville, being built by William H. Deidrick and others of this city and Salineville, work is now being rushed as fast as possible. The bricklayers are about through with their part of the contract. The brick work on the main building is reported completed, and the other buildings will be rushed to completion with lightning speed.

FOR THEIR DEMONSTRATION.

At a meeting of local No. 32, Printers and Transferers, held Monday evening, matters concerning the demonstration on Labor day were considered. This local is bent upon winning the prize flag for the best display in the industrial parade and will leave no stone unturned to carry its plans into effect.

BACK TO WORK.

Jeff Green, one of the popular saggermakers at Laughlin No. 3, who has been compelled to quit work on account of his little children having scarlet fever, will return to work in a day or so, the quarantine having been raised from his house.

AFTER BUSINESS.

John Sant, the well known clay salesman, who has been spending a few days calling upon the manufacturers in the out-of-town districts, is expected to return to the city this evening. He spent last Monday at Sebring.

INCREASING CAPACITY.

The Oliver China company at Sebring is increasing its capacity by the erection of a new kiln. The kiln will be completed soon, as it is now being topped out.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Miss Gertrude Golding, a popular transferer of this city, has arranged to spend her vacation in Wheeling. She will leave for that city in a few days.

The new dinner shape which was recently placed on the market by the East Liverpool Potteries company, and which is being made at the Globe, is meeting with much popular favor, and is having a large sale.

Miss Lucy Todd, a rubber at the Wallace & Chetwynd plant, has resigned her position and tomorrow will leave for an extended trip to Niagara Falls. After remaining there for a few weeks she will return to this city, but will not return to the decorating shop for some time.

WRITING A BOOK

Cadiz Man Aged 81, Once Owner of 50,000 Acres, Tells of Early Days.

Cadiz, August 20.—Walter Craig, of Cadiz, who is now in his eighty-fourth year, is engaged in writing a history of his life. He was born July 4, 1819, near Cadiz, where he has always lived, except when looking after his business interests in the west and travel-ing in Mexico. During the civil war he owned 8,000 head of sheep and sold wool in 1864 at $1 a pound.

At one time he was probably the largest owner of land in Ohio, having about 50,000 acres, mostly in the west. He originated the idea of having the Harrison county fair grounds on his farm, and spent $10,00 in making the best half-mile track in eastern Ohio, it being necessary to make fills and cut away the side of a hill. In his book he tells of pioneer days in Ohio when salt was worth $56 a barrel.

WON'T RESIGN, SAYS SCHWAB

Declared He Needed a Rest and Would Take One—Going to Europe.

New York, Aug. 20.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, arrived here last evening. He was accompanied by his brother, Joseph Schwab, and his private secretary. He stepped briskly from the car, and as he did so he said to a number of newspaper men present:

"Now, gentlemen, I am going to tell you three things, and I don't want you to ask me any further questions. In the first place, I don't look like a sick man. In the second place, I feel the necessity of a rest, and I am going to take one. In the third place, I am not going to resign and have no intention of retiring from the presidency of the United States Steel corporation."

"Are you going to Europe?" was asked Mr. Schwab.

"Yes," he replied, "but don't ask me any more questions; that's all I have to say."

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 20.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, passed through here yesterday on his private car "Loretto," en route to New York, whence he will sail for Europe. He disclosed his destination to an old Altoona friend, who talked with him since he has been at Loretto. He said that he was going to France, where he will take a course of treatment at the mineral springs of that country. His chief ailment is an affection of the nerves.

The steel president's stay amid the scenes of his boyhood has evidently done him good. He told his friend, F. D. Saupp, of this city, that he never felt better in his life, and Mr. Saupp emphasized this by stating that he had never seen him looking better.

Mrs. Schwab is not with her husband. She will remain at Loretto during his absence.

PRESIDENT HEARNE RESIGNED.

Schiller Head of National Tube Co. Other Officers.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—Colonel Frank J. Hearne, of 4901 Fifth avenue, yesterday resigned the presidency of the National Tube company, an affiliated concern of the United States Steel corporation. William Bacon Schiller, of 1019 Bidwell street, first vice president, was elected the successor of Colonel Hearne.

The resignation of Colonel Hearne was presented at the annual meeting of the National Tube company at Jersey City yesterday, being voluntary on his part. After the election of Mr. Schiller to the presidency of the company W. H. Latshaw, second vice president, of 6100 Stanton avenue, became first vice president; John D. Culbertson, second vice president and A. S. Matheson, third vice president.

Edward Worcester, general sales agent of the company, was elected a director to succeed Colonel Hearne, and William Nelson Cromwell was succeeded by Mr. Murray, at present employed in the treasurer's office. The other directors of the National Tube company are: E. C. Converse, William H. Latshaw, A. S. Matheson, John D. Culbertson, William J. Curtis, William B. Schiller, the new president; Charles Steele, C. M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, and Judge E. H. Gary.

Colonel Hearne resigned on the advice of his physician and to look after private interests.

DROWNED HIS 4 CHILDREN.

Despondent Farmer Shot Himself With a Revolver, In Kansas.

Salina, Kan., Aug. 20.—Joseph Anderson, a farmer living east of Salina, in a fit of despondency yesterday, drowned his four children, three girls and a boy, in a cistern and then shot himself with a revolver.

Anderson is still alive, but probably will die. Financial matters had affected his mind. The crime was committed during the absence of the mother. The oldest child was 6 years old and the youngest a baby of 4 months. Anderson left a note on a table notifying the mother that the children could be found in the cistern.

EAST END

Is What the Foot Ball Club Now Forming in the East End Expects to Be.

The East End will have a foot ball club this fall, and the officers of it expect to end the season undefeated. They were not defeated last season, and they propose to hold the same record this year. The team will represent the Laughlin potteries in the East End, and will commence to practice at once, a ball having been ordered from a Chicago firm yesterday. A meeting of the promoters of the club was held yesterday afternoon and the following are some of the players that have been selected: Robert Wheatley, F. Kent, Harry Foster, Mike McCullough, George Tucker, Mark Brown and William Chandler.

The following are the officers: Chairman, Harry Thompson; treasurer, Mark Brown; secretary, Peter B. Speakman; captain, Mr. Challinor; assistant captain, George Tucker.

The club will play during the season under the name of the Laughlin Foot Ball club. Another meeting will be held soon for the purpose of considering plans for the formation of a league of foot ball clubs in this city to play scheduled games. This plan is a popular one and is sure to meet with success.

More Would Have Gone Could They Have Got Tickets for P. H. C. Excursion.

While the annual picnic of the Protected Home Circles of this city and the East End was a success, more money would have been made had not the railroad company refused to provide the number of cars desired. A freight engine from the Panhandle road and about 14 coaches, including a baggage car left the East End station shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, and all cars were filled.

Tickets were sold at from $1.25 to $1.75. Almost any price would have been paid for tickets could they have been obtained. The fact was that all tickets were sold and then speculation commenced. The Phoenix club desired 50 tickets last evening, but they were not to be had. It is estimated that from 1,300 to 1,500 people took the trip to New Castle.

Laborers Are Scarce.

According to statements made by Alex Chafin, of the East End, today there is a scarcity of help of all kinds in the East End just now, all on account of the river boats not being able to run. "I will have to make out another order and send it down south for more help," said Mr. Chafin today, "Laborers are scarce, and this is what we need. We must have this sort of help, and I will get them."

An Even Dozen Initiated.

There were to be 32 new candidates initiated into the East End circle of the Protected Home Circle last evening, but only 12 of this number appeared at the hall. The attendance at this meeting was very large, and the session most interesting. The membership of the circle is now nearing 375, making it the sixth largest circle in the order.

Frank Chambers was a Pittsburg visitor today.

T. F. Anderson was in Pittsburg on business today.

Four coons were captured by Levi Boulton and Henry Heckathorn while out coon hunting last night.

Mrs. E. M. McCain, of Rochester, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zed T. Smith, in the East End.

Dr. D. O. Main, wife and two children, of Toledo, are visiting friends in the East End for a few days.

R. C. Howard, who has been spending a few weeks at Chautauqua, has returned to his home on Mulberry street.

A valuable rabbit owned by George Martin wandered from the home of its owner last evening and is now considered lost.

Owing to the severe illness of his wife, C. Y. Rose, who has been driving a team for John Bell, of the East End, for some months, removed yesterday to his former home at Skull Run, Jackson county, W. Va.

Word was received in the East End today of the serious illness of Mrs. Eck Allison, formerly a resident of the East End, but now living on a farm with her husband, out the Lisbon road. It is said that Mrs. Allison suffered a slight stroke of paralysis.

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of a Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery), says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

CLARKSON

Clarkson, August 20.—Mrs. Nancy Rowe has been visiting her parents here for a few days.

Attorney W. K. Gaston and wife, of East Liverpool, spent part of their vacation with relatives here.

George Moore and the Misses Inez Moore and Florence Shannon were the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Maria Fennis, and family, East Palestine, Saturday and Sunday.

Elmer Warrick has been engaged to teach the New Harmony school this winter.

The current of electricity which struck the house of W. C. Warrick, leaving traces here and there of its presence, knocking down the telephone and not doing much damage after all, save giving the family a thorough consciousness of its presence and power and creating an anxiety for fear of fire, burned out the telephone in the dwellings of W. H. Owens and C. V. Warrick's store also.

Frank Radebaugh, Jr., carried one of his homing pigeons with him on a recent excursion to Cleveland, releasing it on arrival there. It reached home toward evening about the time the excursionists returned.

The programs are out for the twelfth annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union of Columbiana county, to be held in the Presbyterian church, East Palestine, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 2 and 3.

Beginning Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m., a welcome address will be given Tuesday evening by Mayor Foley; response, Miss Alice O. Bunn, Salineville; Wednesday will be taken up with devotional exercises and business reports of the different departments of work of the W. C. T. U., and in the evening an address by Mrs. Annie W. Clark, Columbus, late president, on "Franchise."

Attorney Lones and wife, of Wellsville, and sisters, the Misses Lones, of Cream Ridge, visited their brother, Jesse Lones, and family.

The New Harmony school house was the hub of St. Clair township Monday when the law suit between Mr. Knepper and stepson, Ed Fanks, came off.

ENGLAND'S PREMIER

The Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, who has just succeeded Lord Salisbury as premier of England, is a nephew of the venerable marquis whose place he takes and for several years has been the government leader in the house of commons.

Mr. Balfour is the head of a cadet branch of the old Scottish family of Balfour of Balfour, which derives its name from Balfour castle, in Fife. The earliest recorded Balfour ancestor was a certain Siward, who met his death at the hands of a misguided nobleman named Macbeth several hundred years ago.

Mr. Balfour is fifty four years of age. His mother was Lady Blanche Cecil, who married James Maitland Balfour, a member of a well known Scotch family. He is the eldest of a family of eight and was left fatherless when barely nine years old. His mother was a woman of great force of character.

Mr. Balfour entered parliament in 1874 and represented Hertford until

ARTHUR J. BALFOUR.

1885, when he was elected for East Manchester, which constituency he still represents.

He acted as private secretary to his uncle, the Marquis of Salisbury, at the foreign office during 1878-80, when the Berlin treaty was negotiated. In June, 1878, he accompanied a special mission to Berlin.

In 1879 he published his first book, which gave the public the knowledge that he was a scholar and thinker. It was called "A Defense of Philosophic Doubt."

From July, 1886, to March, 1887, he was secretary for Scotland, with a seat in the cabinet. He was appointed chief secretary for Ireland in 1887, succeeding Sir Michael Hicks-Beach. His treatment of political prisoners and his extreme eviction policy made the Irish people hate him.

A distinguished Irish clergyman once remarked to him, "If the people only hated the devil half as much as they hate you, my occupation would be gone."

Five years after his appointment as secretary for Ireland he succeeded the late W. H. Smith as leader of the house of commons and first lord of the treasury.

Mr. Balfour is a cyclist and is president of the National Cyclists' union. But he is best known as a golfer.

built by his grandfather, John Balfour, in 1817. But the demesne itself, which that gentleman purchased on his return from India with a large fortune, has a much longer history. Whittinghame is celebrated indeed in Scottish annals as having been at one time the home of the great Douglas family, while tradition has linked it with the tragic fortunes of Mary, queen of Scots. Having been given Whittinghame castle by the queen in 1564, it was there, it is related, that the Earl of Morton planned with Bothwell the murder of Darnley.

Besides its historic interest Mr. Balfour's home has the charm of some of the prettiest scenery of the south of Scotland—the wooded banks of the Firth of Forth on the one side and the picturesque features of the Lammermoor country, as Scott describes them, on the other. Here Mr. Balfour, who is a bachelor, lives during the parliamentary vacations.

The proposition to put fenders on the street cars in this city is one that cannot be too strongly commended or too zealously encouraged. The safety fenders do not always save the lives of persons whom the cars strike, but they frequently do. One life saved is worth more than it would cost to equip all cars with the fender; even one damage suit against the street railway company may result in costs and a verdict for an amount that would more than supply the needs. In many parts of the country the traction companies are compelled by law to provide fenders for all cars. That there is no such law in force here is certainly a grave oversight. The railway companies are granted valuable privileges, in return for which they should take every precaution to secure the utmost safety for their patrons and for the public. Their privileges give them no monopoly of the use of the streets, and they ought to neglect nothing that will contribute to the safety of pedestrians. The street railroads abound in curves and danger spots where the motorman can see the track but a short distance ahead. At one point near the Thompson pottery there have been two fatal accidents, for which the motormen were not blamed, because they could not stop their cars. A fender might have prevented both these tragedies. By all means let all the cars in the city be promptly equipped with the best safety fenders obtainable.

London has a "betterment association," whose avowed object is to suppress street noises, gambling, pauper immigration, child labor, spitting in public places, the sale of impure ice cream, betting, tearing up the streets and a few other minor nuisances. There is work for such a society in every city.

The learned professors of the western metropolis are just now very busy in trying to discover whether the name Chicago means skunk or wild onion. None of them have suggested that either meaning is inappropriate when applied to the Windy City.

If J. Pierpont Morgan would let a few of his pending deals wait and take a day off to settle the coal strike he could earn the gratitude of several hundred thousands of his countrymen.

New York and East Liverpool have both suddenly awakened to the necessity of providing new street signs so that visitors from Slab City and Kalamazoo won't taunt them for not being up to date.

C. M. Schwab says he is not going to stop work. He can't if he carries out his reported intention of becoming J. P. Morgan's partner and holding up his end of the alliance.

The fifty-seventa congress has thus far appropriated only $800,000,000 for 1903. But it has another session in which to make up for small items overlooked.

Texas will have a $125,000,000 cotton crop this year. If Texas doesn't watch out it will presently become rich enough to attract Morgan's attention.

Those who are so poor that they have to keep out of automobiles can console themselves. They are keeping out of a good deal of danger.

Miss Bird House.

Miss Bird House, aged 27, died at her home on Mulberry street last evening at 6 o'clock, after a lingering illness. Consumption was the cause of death. Miss House was one of the most popular young ladies of the East End. She was a life-long member of the Erie street M.E. church, and always took an active part in church work, especially the work of the young people's societies. Her death was a shock to her large circle of friends, who loved her well. Miss House was also a member of Crystal chapter, order of the Eastern Star, Masonic. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being in charge of Rev. Geo. W. Orcutt. Interment will be in Riverview cemetery.

Mrs. Tillie Allison.

Miss Tillie Allison, aged about 55 years, wife of "Eck" Allison, for many years an employe of the East Liverpool Street Railway company, and residing in the East End, died at her home, about 3½ miles out the Lisbon road, about noon today. Paralysis was the cause of death. Mrs. Allison is survived by her husband and four children, three sons and one daughter. She was born in Hancock county, and her maiden name was Mercer. The arrangements for the funeral are not completed.

Robert Tommins.

Robert Tommins, aged 71, died at Salem. He was born in England and formerly lived at New Waterford where the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Children's Party.

The Peterson home on Fifth street was the scene of a very pleasant children's party yesterday between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock. Ruth and Gretta, the little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Chal Peterson, were the hostesses, and their young friends, Florence and Mildred Aylin, of St. Louis, Mo., the honor guests. The decorations and the refreshments were elaborate and the games most enjoyable. About 65 were present.

PRECOCIOUS AUTHORS.

Was a successful play ever written by a boy of fourteen? asks a correspondent. Yes. This seeming miracle has happened at least three times. The best known example of the precocious playwright is the celebrated Lope de la Vega, the most prolific dramatist known to history. He produced his first play, a comedy, entitled "La Pastoral de Jacinto," before he had completed his fourteenth year, and this was considered such a marvelous performance that he is known to this day in Spanish literature as "the Prodigy of Nature." Another Spaniard and contemporary of La Vega, Pedro Calderon, wrote his first play when he was thirteen. Metastasio wrote his tragedy "Giustino" and had it produced when he was fourteen on the stage at Bologna.

Of English playwrights Douglas Jerrold, the famous author of "Black Eyed Susan," also furnishes an answer to the question. In 1818, before he had completed his fifteenth year, he wrote a very well known farce entitled "More Frightened Than Hurt." It was very successful on the English stage, and the French considered it good enough to steal. Curiously enough, this French translation was retranslated into English and again produced on the English boards under the title of "Fighting by Proxy." Another very remarkable instance of a different sort of precocity was that of William Henry Ireland, who when he was about fifteen actually produced some plays which he attributed to Shakespeare and which, although afterward proved to be forgeries, were accepted by the experts of the time as genuine.—Pearson's Weekly.

Sympathetic.

Recently a lithographic firm received a circular announcing the death of the head of a well known business house. In reply they wrote:

"We regret to learn the loss sustained by your firm in the death of Mr. —— and beg to express our heartfelt sympathy.

"We notice your circular is printed by Messrs. ——. We are confident that had you asked us we could have quoted you cheaper and better than any other firm in the market, and in the event of a future bereavement we hope you will afford us an opportunity of making you an offer."—London Tit-Bits.

Don't Be Foolish.

Look at your friends and acquaintances. You see them deliberately acting the fool every day. Possibly you can look your friends over with less prejudice than you can look yourself over. Are you acting the fool and causing yourself unnecessary annoyance? There are so many foolish people in the world that you often find startling things in looking yourself over with candor and fairness.—Atchison Globe.

Thursday is Hosiery day at The Leader store, Washington street.

ALMANAC VAGARIES

AN INTERESTING COLLECTION IN THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

One of the most curious collections at the library of congress is that of almanacs. These publications, which as advertising mediums are left at the door, often to be at once thrown carelessly into the wastebasket, have a striking and venerable history.

It is still contended by many authorities that the almanac of 1457 was the first specimen of printing, and it has been variously credited to Gutenberg, Schaeffer and Pfister of Bamberg. Dr. Faustus, celebrated in legend, whose strange story has been immortalized by Marlowe and Goethe, was the accredited author of almanacs containing astrological signs (retained at the present day) and necromantic secrets. "Poor Richard's Almanac," the production of Benjamin Franklin, is well known as a treasury of homely wit and wisdom. One of the greatest of modern German authors, Auerbach, first won his way to popular esteem by using the almanac as a vehicle for his talents.

Regiomontanus, a famous German mathematician, under the patronage of Matthias Corvinus, king of Hungary, published a series of almanacs from 1475 to 1506, and yearly almanacs became an established custom in the sixteenth century. Henry III. of France in 1579 enacted that the almanac should not be made the instrument of partisan politics by the introduction of prophecies against parties and individuals in the state.

The first almanac in the modern shape appeared in England in 1673. It was compiled by Maurice Wheeler, canon of Christchurch, Oxford, and was printed in that city. The sale was so great that the booksellers of London bought the copyright in order to monopolize its subsequent sales. The "Almanac Royal" of Paris, 1697, contained notices of pastimes, court reception days, fairs and markets, to which were added soon afterward the genealogy of the reigning house, etc.

In England James I. granted a monopoly of the trade to the universities and the Stationers' company, subject to the censorship of the archbishop of Canterbury and the bishop of London. The universities accepted an annuity from their colleagues, and resigned the active exercise of their privilege into the hands of the Stationers. Under their supervision were conducted the popular almanacs known as "Moore's" and "Partridge's," the latter of which was humorously attacked by Swift. "Poor Robin's Almanac," published from 1652 to 1828, may have furnished a model, at least in title, for Franklin's "Poor Richard."

Popular superstitions and the extravagances of astrology found room in these almanacs, the Stationers, like a genuine corporation or "trust" of the time, having no personality of their own, and exhibiting no special bias except for what would sell, as was particularly proved in 1624, when they issued a set of predictions in one almanac and bitterly contradicted them in another.

The famous "Moore's Almanac" purported to be edited by Francis Moore, physician. The original Francis Moore died in 1724, but the publication was still isued as if under his supervision, and in 1775 a vigorous rival arose in another almanac claiming to be the genuine Francis Moore. A great lawsuit followed, which was decided against the monopoly of the Stationers' company. A bill to renew and legalize the privilege was brought in the house of commons by Lord North in 1779, but Lord Erskine, the great barrister, most brilliantly exposed the absurdity and even indecency of the publication, and the bill was defeated. Although the privilege was thus destroyed, the Stationers purchased their rival and continued to hold the field with a but slightly improved style of publication until 1828, when the Society For the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge published the "British Almanac" and demolished their predecessors, with the able assistance of the daily press, which so vigorously assailed the Stationers' publication that that company was constrained to follow the new example in the "Englishman's Almanac."

The uniform price for an English almanac for many years was a penny, but the monopoly increased the price, and the imposition of the stamp taxes after Queen Anne's time raised it still more. In 1781 "Moore's Almanac" was ninepence, two being for the stamp. In 1796 it rose to 1s. 4d. and in 1816 to 2s. 3d.

An almanac was established by Isaiah Thomas in Worcester, Mass., which gained and established an extraordinary repute in 1780 from the happy accident that, as it was being set up, one of the boys asked what should be placed against the 13th of July. Mr. Thomas, in careless haste, answered: "Anything! Anything!" The lad, literally obedient, set up "Rain, hail and snow." The diligent readers were surprised, but when the day came the prediction was fulfilled—it really did rain, hail and snow on the 13th of that July, and the fortune of the almanac was made.

The "Almanac de Gotha" is the best known of the German publications. Whittaker's is the standard English publication of the kind, while in this country several of the large newspapers issue annual almanacs. The stray production, however, with its old astrological and magical symbols of Faust, must ever possess an interest for the curious who are versed in the history of almanacs. — Washington Times.

OVER THE OCEAN.

All attempts at reforesting Sicily fail because of the destructive activity of the goats.

Two hundred and seventeen lions have been born at the Dublin zoo during the last seventy years.

Tattooed on the back of a man who has just been arrested for theft in Paris is a portrait of the Russian Grand Duke Constantine showing all his decorations.

At the present ratio of progress seventy years will elapse before Pompeii is entirely uncovered. It is thought that as much of treasure remains as has been exhumed.

While their pupils are holiday making from May 1 to Sept. 1 many of the Swiss cantonal schoolmasters round Zermatt take situations in the hotels as waiters or porters.

At a recent fur sale in London a Parisian purchased in the open market a black Siberian fox skin, 48 by 8 inches, paying for it the sum of $3,000. When dressed, it will cost its wearer $5,500.

Several of the smaller islands of New Zealand are without telegraphic communication with the mainland. A substitute has been found in carrier pigeons. To send a message by a pigeon costs 25 cents.

Greenline, 2:07¾, is a great green one.

Dan Cahill's Charlie Herr, 2:07, has gone lame.

Dandy Jim, 2:09¾, the famous "gray ghost," is dead.

Country J., 2:10½, is at Cleveland. He nods perceptibly, but is said to be working fast.

Alix, 2:11¼, is a great half mile track performer. He put in three heats at Olean, N. Y., recently in 2:14¼, 2:15½ and 2:14 with ease.

Nelly Gay, 2:18¾, the daughter of Pamlico, 2:10, who raced so well in 1900, but went lame, is out again and winning on the Mohawk valley circuit, in New York.

Scott Hudson gave Audubon Boy, 2:06, some pretty stiff work at Detroit recently. One mile was paced in 2:06½ and another in 2:06, with the last half in 1:02, final quarter in 30 seconds.

One of the most interesting of recent events was the sale of Eleata, 2:08¾, to Mr. James Hanley of Providence, R. I., the owner of Prince Alert, 2:00½, by Hon. Frank Jones. The heroine of 1901 was at once shipped to Hartford.

STAGE NOTES.

Della Fox is to begin her season in October.

Hamlin Garland is said to be at work on a play of Colorado life.

Mrs. Leslie Carter is domiciled at Bar Harbor for the summer.

Lucius Henderson has been engaged for "The Pride of Jennico."

Gertrude Campbell has been engaged for "The Sword of the King."

It is said that Marie Tempest is to be managed by Charles Frohman.

Margaret Drew, a niece of John Drew, makes her debut next season.

Frank Moulan will play the title role in "The Sultan of Sulu" next season.

Rose Eytinge and Max Figman have been engaged for the support of Mrs. Fiske.

E. H. Sothern has engaged Miss Jennie Eustace to play the Queen in "Hamlet," also Huguette in "If I Were King."

An opera based on Anthony Hope's story of "The Heart of the Princess Osra" has been produced in London with success.

An Old Welsh Custom.

The kindling of bonfires on hills is the simplest of celebrations at any time. The Druids made four great fires at their festivals in February, May, August and November. Wales seems to have been a country especially tenacious of this custom. Each family used to make its own fire, and as it was dying out each member would throw a white stone into it, the stones being marked for future identification. Then all said their prayers and went to bed, and in the morning they tried to find all the stones again. If any stone was missing, it betokened that the owner of it would die within a year.

Some superstitions are pretty and picturesque and attractive; this was one of the many which were cruel as well as picturesque. It would take but a slight accident to cause a fright that might be actually dangerous to a superstitious person, and it would not be hard for an enemy of such a person to cause that fright by stealing his stone from the fire.

London's Sewer Hunters.

The London sewer hunter before commencing operations provides himself with a bullseye lantern, a canvas apron and a pole some seven or eight feet in length, having an iron attachment at one end somewhat in the shape of a hoe. For greater convenience the lantern is invariably fixed to the right shoulder, so that when walking the light is thrown ahead and when stooping its rays shine directly to their feet. Thus accoutered they walk slowly along through the mud, feeling with their naked feet for anything unusual, at the same time raking the accumulation from the walls and picking from the crevices any article they see.

Nothing is allowed to escape them, no matter what its value, provided it is not valueless. Old iron, pieces of rope, bones, current coin of the realm and articles of plate and jewelry—all is good fish which comes to the hunter's net.—Chambers' Journal.

The Chinese Way.

In its war with England and France in 1859-60 China was easily conquered and forced to a humiliating peace. The Peking Gazette, the official organ of the government, however, reported the following concerning that treaty of peace:

"As the western barbarians have admitted their wrongs and humbly solicited for peace, the emperor in his infinite goodness has granted their prayer and, moreover, has made them a present of a large sum of money (indemnity of war) to enable them to begin an honest life, so that they may not again be driven to murder and rapine."

A Way of Explaining It.

Wife—Why, John, just see what a stupid blunder the newspaper has made in its account of our silver wedding! Don't you remember I wrote it out for the reporter that we had spent together twenty-five years of married happiness, and the stupid typesetter has gone and made it twenty-five years of marred happiness. Isn't it awful?

Husband—Oh, well, dear; don't be too hard on the poor fellow. Perhaps he's been married twenty-five years himself.—London Tit-Bits.

CHILD AND MATCH

Set a Bed on Fire And the Fire Department Was Called Out.

An alarm of fire yesterday afternoon called the department to the residence of Al Eidemer on Twelfth street, opposite the Patterson foundry. The blaze was extinguished before the firemen arrived. A child lighted a match and carelessly threw it on a mattress, where it started a blaze. The damage was trifling.

To Avoid a Grade.

The county commissioners on Thursday of next week will be in this city and will let the contract for the building of a road from Steubenville street around the hill to the flat school building, avoiding a steep grade. The work will be done under the direction of Engineer Leith this fall.

Stupidity and the Nose.

Children with accidental affections of the nostrils which grow chronic become stupid. An ill working mucous membrane is enough to make a child a dunce. It may be that snuff became the rage in Europe toward the end of the seventeenth century because it stimulated this member in the noses of august and illustrious persons.

MEET OF AMERICANISTS.

Archæology and Ethnology of New World to Be Discussed.

When the international congress of Americanists meets in New York city next October, it will be the first time that body has ever assembled in the United States.

Last fall a commission of organization, of which Morris K. Jesup was made president, issued a call to Americanists, stating that at the twelfth meeting of the congress, held at Paris in 1900, New York city had been chosen for the thirteenth meet. The meetings will begin Oct. 20 at the Museum of Natural History and continue through the week.

The subjects to be discussed at the thirteenth congress are divided into two sections: (1) "The Native Races of America; Their Origin, Distribution, History, Physical Characteristics, Languages, Inventions, Customs and Religions," and (2) "The History of the Early Contact Between America and the Old World."

The second section will be the stamping ground for those who bridge the Atlantic with a continent now obliterated from the maps and find the original home of the forefathers of Egyptians as well as Aztecs on the bottom of the sea. It will also be the section for those who are occupied in finding the origin of the American copper skins and Chinese or Japanese.

The expeditions sent out by the Messrs. Hyde, which have already supplied the Museum of Natural History with large quantities of material concerning prehistoric man in America, will doubtless report, and those also which Mr. Jesup has sent to the northwest coast of America and the northeast coast of Asia.

All persons interested in the study of the archæology, ethnology and early history of the two Americas may become members of the international congress of Americanists by signifying their wish to M. H. Saville, the general secretary of the commission on organization, at the Natural History Museum, New York city.

For those who wish to speak before the congress or merely have an article or essay printed in the proceedings it is required that the titles and an abstract of what they intend to say or publish be forwarded to the general secretary before the congress meets.

The indications are that there will be no lack of interesting matter brought before the thirteenth congress of Americanists.

TREMBLING VENICE.

Other Historic Structures May Follow the Campanile.

Following the fall of the bell tower of the famous St. Mark's church comes the information that other historic structures in Venice show a weakness of foundation that is alarming not only to the citizens of the "Queen of the Adriatic," but to the whole civilized world.

Now that the campanile lies in ruins it is asserted that another famous

building, the Church of Santi Giovanni e Paolo, shows signs of settling and possible destruction.

The Church of St. John and St. Paul, popularly called San Zanipilo, contains the statues of many doges and other illustrious persons, and its destruction would be little short of a calamity.

The campanile, the bell tower of St. Mark's, now a heap of ruins, was where Galilei made his observations. It was 323 feet high and 42 feet square at the base. The heap of ruins which covers the Sansovino terrace is about 100 feet high.

SOUTH SIDE

OVERCOME BY HEAT

Ollie Kirkwood, a pair heater at the tin mill, was overcome by heat yesterday as he was about to go home, after completing his turn on the morning shift. Kirkwood is a resident of Wellsville, and was washing up preparatory to going to his home on Sixth street when he was seized with a severe cramp. His fellow workmen remained with him for several hours and when he had recovered sufficiently he was taken to the Steadman home on Sixth street. He was in great pain, and his suffering was intense during the afternoon and all of the night.

Kirkwood was considerably improved this morning and was able to go to his home in Wellsville, where he expects to remain for some time. He was a member of the Eighth Ohio regiment during the Spanish-American war and is well known in this city and Wellsville.

Still After Rights of Way.

Engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad are now engaged in making another survey, and right of way men of the same road are spending much time in the vicinity of Shippinport purchasing rights of way for the extension of the New Cumberland branch. It is expected that as soon as the entire right of way has been secured the company will commence to build the road.

Material for Oil Field.

Unusual activity is noted in the oil fields north and south of Chester. Several consignments of drilling materials have arrived at Monaca, and the owners are now transporting it in wagons to the field. It is thought that drilling will be commenced within a few days.

Suit Entered.

CHESTER NOTES.

Clyde Bernard, the scarlet fever patient, is somewhat improved today.

Mrs. C. T. McCutcheon left today for West Liberty, W. Va., where she will visit relatives

A dance will be given this evening at the home of A. C. Priest, in the upper part of town.

Carl Evans, of Fairview, went to Wheeling today, where he will remain several days on a visit.

Miss Bessie Nowling, of Beaver Falls, is visiting at the residence of her brother, A. K. Nowling, of Carolina avenue.

Invoicing at the Allison & Hobbs store will be completed today and it is the intention of the firm to increase the stock of goods.

Wm. C. Blackledge, residing near Hookstown, returned from Monaca yesterday, where he visited his son, Dr. T. L. Blackledge.

Miss O. Johnston, Miss Edna Johnston, Pearl Hilliard and Leo Hilliard went to New Castle this morning where they will visit a week

Miss Ida Evans, of Irondale, and Mrs. Ed. Weaver, of McDonald, Pa., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Weaver, Sixth street and Louisiana avenue.

Garret Mercer, an employe of the ware room at the mill, has been off duty for two weeks on account of illness. He is somewhat improved but has not recovered sufficiently to return to work.

STOCK DEALINGS INCREASED.

Rose Over Half Half Million Share Mark Yesterday—Striking Gains In Few Spots.

New York, Aug. 20.—There were more shares of stock sold on the exchange yesterday than on Monday, dealings rising again over the half million share mark. The market took on a fair appearance of average strength, but an analysis will show that the gains in the majority of usually active stocks are fractional while the really striking gains are confined to a few spots in the market. The dealings were largely in professional hands and were supposed to reflect the operations of speculative pools, including some of the prominent capitalists of the country. The situation of affairs was not materially changed from that of Monday and the new demonstration of strength was based largely on the approaching return to New York of J. P. Morgan, which has caused a renewal of many long current rumors of financial projects and railroad deals, which are supposed to await his action to be put into force. A settlement of the coal strike and a decision on the question of the presidency of the United States Steel corporation are also supposed to await Mr. Morgan's action. The upward movement in Southern Pacific was aggressively renewed yesterday for the first time since the announcement of the proposed $100,000,000 mortgage to provide funds for betterments. This movement was also associated with the homeward bound movement of a well-known speculative leader, who has operated largely in it in the past.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Pure water is more essential than clean grass.

Even though turkeys are good foragers it will not pay to let them go without proper feeding.

Everything in the rearing of young poultry depends upon their care and management at least until well feathered.

Fowls inclined to fatten too easily are not good layers. The flesh they carry makes them lazy, and this never promotes laying.

Middlings make a good food for poultry, but if wet up alone it is too sticky. The better plan is to mix with bran or corn and wet with milk or scalding water.

Whitewash is better than paint on the poultry houses, for the reason that it costs less and has a purifying influence. It may be applied as often as once a month to advantage.

The properties of sunflower seed are peculiar, and a small quantity fed at the proper time will essentially aid in imparting to the plumage of adult fowls a gloss that no other grain will produce.

Gainsborough and His Carrier.

One of the earliest members of the Royal academy, it was Gainsborough's custom to have his pictures conveyed to the metropolis by a prosperous London carrier, a Mr. Wiltshire of Shockerwick, near Bath. This man refused to accept payment on the ground that he loved pictures too well. He was not, however, allowed to go unrewarded, for Gainsborough presented him with six of his best works, and some idea of their ultimate value may be gained from the fact that when at length they were sold the National gallery secured two, "The Parish Clerk of Bradford-on-Avon," for 500 guineas, and "The Harvest Wagon," for £2,500, these prices being considered low. Later "The Sisters" from another gallery realized close upon £10,000.

Nature and Poetry.

Environment aids poetry, but does not create it. Nature is the grand agent in making poetry, and poetry is present wherever nature is. It sparkles on the sea, glows in the rainbow, flashes from the lightning and the star, peals in thunder, roars in the cataract and sings on the winds. Poetry is God's image reflected in nature, as in a mirror, and nature is present wherever man is.

BREVITIES

NOTES OF NOTABLES.

John Mahin of Muscatine, Ia., has been editor of the Muscatine Journal for fifty years.

Prince Adelbert, third son of the kaiser, has opened a house of his own, especially built for him at Kiel. The lad is eighteen years old.

Marshall Field of Chicago is heading a movement to colonize the numberless abandoned farms in New England with farmers and mechanics from the old world.

The smallest woman in the world, so far as is known, is Chiquita, who was born at Matanzas, Cuba, in 1869. She is twenty-six inches in height and weighs eighteen pounds.

Captain Freeman, who saved the steamer Roddam from destruction during the recent volcanic eruption at St. Pierre, was recently presented with a silver medal by the Liverpool Shipwreck and Humane society.

John Budna, a citizen of Polish birth living at Marlborough, Ulster county, N. Y., has just become the happy father of his twenty-first child, a bouncing boy weighing sixteen pounds. All of the children are living.

Rudolph Aronson of New York, who recently gave the sultan of Morocco his first lesson on the piano, has been presented by his royal pupil with a magnificent Moorish sword, handsomely jeweled and of great value.

Governor Cummins of Iowa is one of the best authorities in that state upon forestry. He has mastered the subject thoroughly, having originally taken it up some years ago as an amusement and having stuck to it ever since.

James W. Ogden, a New York banker, who lives at Morristown, N. J., will present a new church building to the congregation of the Presbyterian church of Chatham, N. J., as a memorial to his father, who preached in the present church for fifty years.

The Marquis of Bute, who recently came into his title, is, according to the Montreal Star, among other things a baronet of Nova Scotia. There is one feature that all now holding this title have in common—none owns or ever did own an acre in Nova Scotia, and few ever saw the country.

Miss Laura Bigelow, daughter of the late John Bigelow, for many years European financial agent of the United States government, was recently married to ex-Senator Stephen Wallace Dorsey of Arkansas. Ex-Senator Dorsey is about sixty years old and is his bride's senior by more than a score of years.

THE FASHIONS.

Small pockets stitched on the left front of shirt waists are very chic and stylish.

The new idea in dainty dress trimming consists of ribbon fringed and trimmed with narrow lace.

When one must have a monogram on the shirt waist sleeve, the most effective plan is to select a butcher's linen shirt waist with the monogram in all white.

Rosettes and bows of plain satin or peau de soie ribbon are in the lead for ornamenting all sorts of muslin frocks and are of infinite variety of colors and adjustment.

For coolness and a fresh appearance nothing comes quite up to the lawn stock, with ends ready to tie in a smart bow; most of these are tucked and have nice little turnover collars.

An affable disposition, tact and discretion.

Absolute sobriety, persistency, grit and integrity.

The proper advertising of the proper thing at the proper time.

Attention to details, for these are the components of greater things.

Unremitting study of everything that pertains to or influences your business.

Personal supervision of your business. Depend upon no one but yourself.

Willingness to learn. The man who imagines himself a universal genius impairs his receptive capacity.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

August is the month in which to bud peach trees.

In selecting trees give preference to those with smooth, healthy looking bark.

Apples and peaches should not be picked or handled when wet with dew or rain.

Sulphide of potash is death to all kinds of plant mildew. Use one ounce to four gallons of water and apply in the form of a spray.

Before going into fruit culture find out what varieties your land is best adapted to produce and give those varieties the preference.

"PE-RU-NA NECESSARY TO THE HOME,"

PROF. TALFOURD SMITH.

Professor Talfourd Smith, Principal Siloam High School, Siloam, Ga., writes: "With much pleasure I recommend Peruna to all who may be suffering with any trouble of the respiratory organs. I have been using it in my family for the past five or six years and find it to be almost a household necessity. Peruna is truly a grand catarrh remedy and general tonic and will do all that is claimed for it by the manufacturers." ---PROF. TALFOURD SMITH.

Catarrh is inflammation of the mucous membrane. It may be in the mucous membrane lining the eyes or the pelvic organs, throat, stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys.

Catarrh is catarrh wherever located. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is an internal remedy; not a local application.

Catarrh is a systemic disease, not a local disease. If Peruna will cure catarrh in one place it will cure it in any other place, because Peruna is a systemic remedy. It reaches the disease through the circulation in each organ. It eradicates the disease by eradicating it from the system.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

RELIGIOUS REVIVALS

Various Meetings Yesterday Conducted by Men Prominently Identified With This Branch of Church Work. Subjects of Addresses.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 20.—Yesterday was evangelist day at the National Winona Bible conference, the various meetings throughout the day being conducted by men prominently identified with that branch of work. At the opening session yesterday afternoon Fred B. Smith, of New York, spoke on "Evangelistic Work for Men." Rev. H. H. Wharton gave an interesting address on "Soul Winning," and "Doctrines to be Emphasized in Evangelistic Meetings" was the topic handled by Rev. W. E. Biederlwf. Dr. W. L. Munhall spoke on the "Art of Bible Teaching in Evangelistic Services." "Results to be Expected in Evangelistic Meetings" was handled by Rev. E. Stucker, of Chicago. Prof. R. R. Lloyd, of the San Francisco Congregational seminary, conducted the "hillside services." Rev. R. S. McArthur of New York, spoke last night on "The Pre-eminence of Christ." For the first time in the history of the church several hundred evangelists of all denominations are gathered.

Among these men of international reputation are Rev. L. W. Munhall and Rev. H. M. Wharton, of Philadelphia; Rev. S. H Hadley and Fred E. Smith, of New York; George B. Stewart, of Cleveland, Tenn.; Henry Varley, of England, who for 40 years has been doing evangelistic work, and Rev. W. A. Sunday, of Chicago. These men are holding private conferences, and at the first meeting yesterday was considered the preparatory work for a series of revival services throughout the United States. At this meeting some expressed themselves in favor of thorough organization, while others believed little or no organization is necessary.

A STEP TOWARD REUNION.

Methodist Publishing Interests, North and South, Enter Into an Agreement.

New York, Aug. 20.—A joint committee of publishing interests of the Methodist Episcopal church, and of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, recommend a plan for the union of all the publishing interests of the two churches in China and Mexico. It is the policy of the two denominations to avoid in the future all interference of duplication of equipment in the foreign missionary work.

No such harmony of interests between the two denominations of Methodism has been seen since the church was divided in 1844, and may be the first step in a reunion. Bishop Charles H. Fowler is opposed to this, but there are others strongly in favor of it.

He had filled all the leading pulpits in the Pittsburg conference, and was an exceptionally strong preacher. He was in vigorous health until his fatal illness and was on the program to preach the closing sermon at Tarentum camp meeting next Sunday, Aug. 24.

CATHOLIC AUTHORITIES' IDEA.

Use of Free Teachers Might Increase University Attendance.

Rome, Aug. 20.—The church authorities have received information that 4,085 Catholic students are attending secular universities in the United States, 500 of whom are at the University of Pennsylvania, while the Catholic university at Washington has only 100 students.

It is believed here that the discrepancy is due to the fact that the Catholic university at Washington undertook instruction in other branches of education in addition to theological studies without having means, apparatus or professors to compete with the great American colleges. The representative here of the Associated Press is authoritatively informed that the church knows no remedy for this lack of religious teaching of Catholic students attending secular universities in the United States except through the efforts of the bishops to induce the governing bodies of these universities to allow free teachers to lecture upon Christian history, science, religion, etc., as is done in the cases of other sects attending the same colleges.

ROBERT BURNS' BIRTHPLACE, RECENTLY RESTORED BY THE AID OF AMERICAN DOLLARS.

The 40,000 persons who annually visit Ayr, Scotland, for the purpose of seeing the cottage in which the poet Robert Burns was born, will hereafter find the humble dwelling restored to exactly the condition in which it was at the time of the interesting occurrence which was destined to make it famous. American dollars played a large part in bringing about the restoration. The wing in which the relics were formerly kept, and which formed no part of the original building, has been removed and the mementos of the poet are now kept in a separate structure.

A Hasty Conclusion.

A former Princeton man now living in Philadelphia tells of his only unpleasant encounter with Jimmy McCosh as an illustration of the beloved old tutor's innate kindliness. When a student, he was lounging on his bed one afternoon, smoking. In response to a knock on the door he called out:

"Who's there?"

"It is I—Dr. McCosh," came the reply.

"You're a liar!" answered the student, thinking one of his chums was trying to joke with him. "If you were really Dr. McCosh, you'd simply say, 'It is I.'"

After a second's silence the student heard retreating steps, rushed to the door and looked out—to see Dr. McCosh himself scurrying down the corridor and around a corner in an endeavor to avoid recognition.—Philadelphia Times.

Napoleon's English Letter.

Napoleon began the study of English during his imprisonment in St. Helena. His instructor was Count Las Cases, to whom Napoleon wrote the only letter he is known ever to have written in English. It is somewhat of a literary curiosity and not well known, so it may be quoted here:

Count Las Cases—Since sixt week y learn the English and y do not any progress. Sixt week do fourty and two day. If might have learn fivty word, for day, I could know it two thousands and two hundred. It is in the dictionary more of fourty thousand; even he could most twenty; bot much of tems. For know it or hundred and twenty week, which do more two years. After this you will agree that the study one tongue is a great labor who it must do into the young aged.

A Bird That's Hard to Kill.

Penguins have an extraordinary amount of vitality and are harder to kill than any ordinary cat. I once had occasion to kill a large bird aboard our ship, the Southern Cross, and, making use of the weapon next my hand, I drove a large spike squarely through the creature's head and finished the operation by nailing it fast to the deck. That seemed to make the job very complete, and I went below decks for dinner. Coming up an hour later, my astonishment was prodigious on beholding the penguin, head erect, flippers out, waddling about, apparently without thought of the spike, which still remained transfixed in his cranium.—C. E. Borchgrevink in Leslie's.

Just the Thing.

"I don't know what to use to raise my bread," said the young wife petulantly. "I've tried everything."

"Judging by the samples I have seen," suggested her inhuman husband, "I should think a couple of jackscrews or a derrick ought to do it." And he wondered why he got a cold supper that night.—Portland Oregonian.

His Friends.

Jinks—I tell you what it is, there is nothing like having lots of friends.

Winks—I presume not.

Jinks—No, sirree. As quick as I lose a job my friends go all round hunting a new place for me so as to save me the trouble of borrowing money from them.

Longs No Longer.

Once upon a time there was a man who thought he wanted the earth. Then he had a vision and he dreamed he did own the earth. He thought the assessor came around, and he woke up with a groan. He has never wanted the earth since.—Hudson Register.

Meddle once signified "to concern oneself with." It is so used in the Scriptures, where the expression occurs, "Meddle with your own business."

Keeping Friends.

There is nothing so very difficult in making friends; the trouble is to keep them. Pleasing manners and a taking way will always win admirers, but a lasting friendship must be built upon a firmer foundation than a transitory smile, an hour of high spirits or even great physical beauty. Of course it is a pleasure to feel that one is favored by some radically beautiful woman, but unless there be genuine congeniality between the two concerned the time will come when passive loveliness will cease to be attractive. To retain friendship one must be continually on the watch and not let the familiarity that comes from a lengthy knowledge of the other's life breed the contempt that so often follows a close intimacy.

To retain either friendship or love the illusions must not be dispelled. Do not, because you feel sure of your ground, let the commonplace enter in and monopolize the everyday affairs. Let the halo of sentiment hover over even the prosaic affairs of daily life, for, once dispelled, they can never form again, and in the one glimpse of the material side of the intimacy may be utterly destroyed a relation at one time thought to be eternal.

A Snug Fit.

An English tourist in the highlands tells the following amusing story: He was traveling one day last summer by rail in the north of Scotland, and at one of the stations four farmers entered the train. They were all big, burly men and completely filled up the seat on the one side of the compartment.

At the next station the carriage door opened to admit a tall, cadaverous individual with about the girth of a lamp post. He endeavored to wedge himself in between two of the farmers, and finding it a difficult operation he said to one of them: "Excuse me, sir; you must move up a bit. Each seat is intended to accommodate five persons, and according to act of parliament you are only entitled to eighteen inches of space."

"Aye, aye, my friend," replied the farmer; "that's a' very guid for you that's been built that way, but ye canna blame me if I ha'na been constructit according to act of parliament!"

Addenda.

She—Oh, no; I admit you can't believe one-half the things you hear.

He—No, nor one-third even.

She—I guess that's so.

He—But you can usually repeat four-thirds, can't you?—Philadelphia Press.

THE BELT OF FIRE

CHAIN OF VOLCANIC MOUNTAINS SURROUNDING THE PACIFIC OCEAN.

[Special Correspondence.]

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—Recent volcanic eruptions in Oregon, Washington and Alaska show that there is a "sympathetic feeling" in these vents which surround the Pacific ocean as a chain of fire. According to a local geologist, this chain begins in Tierra del Fuego (the land of fire), extends along the west slope of South America and Central America, only twenty or thirty miles wide, and broadens in Mexico to about 800 miles. The belt of fire then touches the gulf coast. From Mexico the belt extends northward to California, Oregon, Washington and follows the coast of British Columbia and Alaska, extending through the Aleutian islands, New Zealand and the Hawaiian Islands. The burning craters in Alaska, one of which recently began work, unites the chain of fire of the new world with the old, including Japan, Korea, Formosa and the Philippines, which latter perhaps may now be considered as of the new world. In Alaska this chain of slumbering fire contracts to about the width at the narrowest point in South America. In California and the northwest the belt of fire vents broaden to nearly 1,000 miles. The southern extremity of this belt line curves eastward, and the northern extremity curves westward, giving this 25,000 mile chain the shape of a huge S.

On the northwest coast of Oregon and Washington the chain widens into what is called the Cascade range, and all of these mountains have craters either at the summit or on the sides. There are seven in Oregon and five in Washington, ranging from 7,000 to 14,000 feet in height, Mount Rainer, in Washington, being the highest. One of these, Mount Mazana, 8,223 feet high, is one of the most remarkable extinct volcanoes on this continent. It is thirty miles north of Klamath lake and contains another lake, known as Crater lake, which is about 2,000 feet deep and is surrounded by nearly vertical walls of about the same height above the surface of the lake, which gives the crater a depth of about 4,000 feet. An eruption blew the mountain's head off, and the theory is that the melting of the glaciers caused the lake.

These mountains are of volcanic origin and are likely at any time to alarm the natives, as their activity is no doubt more or less affected by the others in the endless chain which circles the Pacific ocean.

Mount Hood, which has of late been emitting sulphurous fumes, like other extinct volcanoes, retains only a part of its original walls. In short, it has also blown its head off, like the others. It forms a picturesque background to Portland and no doubt would endanger that city if an eruption should occur.

Mount St. Helens, about 10,000 feet high, has been in eruption only once during the past half century, according to the statements of early settlers. The trappers who witnessed the explosion stated that the light was as bright as day, but they did not remain long enough to gather particulars.

Mount Ranier, the highest mountain, is considered to be the grandest and most picturesque single peak in the United States. Lovers of mountain scenery say that it is not so much because of its height, but from its isolated position and because in rises almost straight from the level of the sea. The crater of Mount Ranier is bowl shaped, of almost exact circular form.

Mount Shasta, in the northern part of California, is a typical volcanic formation. It has a double cone. The second, known as Shastina, or Little Shasta, is 2,000 feet below the summit. One of the immense lava streams extended fifty miles down the Sacramento canyon before cooling and displaced the Sacramento river. The eruption is of a very ancient date, and geologists are divided in opinion whether or not this eruption was so great as to cause the blowing out of the smaller vent, or Shastina.

HERE'S A GOOD THING

Mr. H. Rushton, of No. 287 West Market street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Before I used Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkins' Drug Store, I was bilious, head felt achy and dull. The effect of the medicine was to clear the head—give a feeling of strength, energy and new life. This I think justifies a recommendation."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

Life Plant

Gives You Strength, Drives Away That Tired Feeling and Makes Your Mental Qualities Active.

Many people become tired and get played out so easily in hot weather that they give up and blame it all on the weather, when, in fact, it's nothing more than your blood being out of order. Under such circumstances you should take a good tonic for your blood. LIFE PLANT is the best medicine on the market. Thousands are taking it and just as many are getting well. You don't have to go miles and miles away to find someone who has been cured by LIFE PLANT, they are all near here, in fact, some are your neighbors. If you cannot sleep well, if you are losing flesh, if your stomach is out of order, if you are constipated, if you have headaches, if your health is not satisfactory you should get a bottle of LIFE PLANT and you will be very thankful that such a good medicine is where you can get it.

The following letter from Geo Barnworth, of Cambridge, Ohio, is an assurance as to the merits of LIFE PLANT:

"I have tried all kinds of Headache medicine but could get no relief. I also had Stomach trouble and could not sleep well. LIFE PLANT did me more good than all the rest. LIFE PLANT is truly a medicine of merit."

Also a letter from C. T. Burnworth of Cambridge, Ohio, proves for LIFE PLANT what no other medicine will do:

"I was suffering from extreme prostration; was tired and run down, was nothing but skin and bone, and my trouble was thought to be Consumption. I took two bottles of LIFE PLANT and it cured me sound and well."

Ask for and get LIFE PLANT and you will make no mistake.

Peculiarities of Russian Winters.

There is one curious thing about a Russian winter—in the latter part of October or the beginning of November the weather will be as mild as it is here in September. Not a sign can be seen of an approaching change, when suddenly, without any apparent warning, a light haze will be seen in the northern sky, and in twenty-four hours the thermometer may fall 50 degrees. The change is so sudden and violent that travelers are frequently frozen to death before they can gain shelter.

It has occurred that farmers out looking after their flocks have been caught in one of these blizzards and, missing their way home, have lost their lives, their bodies remaining under the snow until the following spring. The suddenness of a Dakota blizzard is well known in the northwestern part of our country, but it is tardiness personified when compared with the rapidity with which a Russian winter storm comes on.

TWO WORKMEN SHOT.

Wounded by Unknown Person at a Washery, Near Scranton, Pa.

A DYNAMITE OUTRAGE OCCURS.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 20.—At the Edgerton washery of the Temple Iron company, at Edgerton, 16 miles north of this place, at a late hour Monday night, James Connolly, foreman of the washery, and Forest Crossman, a workman, were shot and seriously wounded by some unknown person. Connolly will lose the sight of one eye and Crossman had to have his left leg amputated above the knee.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 20.—Warrants were sworn out yesterday afternoon for the arrest of Charles Thain and John R. Mullery, editor and business manager respectively of the Courier Herald, of this city, the official organ of the striking miners of the Wyoming region. The prosecutors are men employed by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, who allege that the Courier Herald called them unfair workmen and held them up to ridicule. Thain and Mullery had already been under $11,000 bail on the same charge.

Thain and Mulery were taken before Magistrate Pollock yesterday afternoon and held in $12,000 bail for a further hearing on Friday. The bail was furnished by County Commissioner Finn and others.

A Dynamite Outrage.

Unknown parties exploded a stick of dynamite under the front door of John Workis' house, in Pittston township, early yesterday morning. The door was wrecked and the inmates of the house were badly frightened. Six men were lodged in the dwelling, and two of them are working in the mines. It is said that the two men, who continue to work, were warned that if they did not remain at home harm would come to them.

Tamaqua, Pa., Aug. 20.—General Gobin, who is in command of the battalion of the Twelfth regiment, national guard of Pennsylvania, sent from Shenandoah to the Panther Creek valley yesterday morning, opened temporary headquarters in the town last night.

The funeral of Patrick Sharpe, the strike leader who was shot and killed at Nesquehoning Monday night by a deputy, will take place Thursday. All the miners' local unions in the region are making arrangements to march to Lansford and attend the funeral, and General Gobin will probably station troops along the route to be taken by the funeral.

Yesterday afternoon Thomas Duffy, president of district No. 7, and Peter Gallagher, member of the executive board, went to Mauch Chunk to engage counsel and to make arrangements to push the prosecution of the deputy charged with the shooting of Sharpe.

Protests Against Presence of Troops.

Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 20.—President Thomas Duffy, of District No. 7, United Mine Workers, has sent a formal protest against the presence of the Twelfth regiment at Manila park, near Coaldale. The note to Governor Stone declares that the situation does not require the troops and that an investigation by the governor would confirm the truth of the statement.

New York, Aug. 20.—The presidents of the anthracite coal roads had their usual weekly conference here yesterday. Before going to the meeting Mr. Truesdale, president of the Lackawanna Railroad company, said:

"There is no foundation in fact for the rumor that the anthracite coal operators will make concessions in order to end the strike. I think work will be resumed in time to produce plenty of coal for the fall demand. The operators are ready, as they always have been ready, to adjust with their men any grievances that they may have and they have never discriminated against any of their men because they have belonged to the union. What the operators will not do is to discuss their business affairs with outsiders."

AGED WOMEN ASSAULTED.

Received Terrible Injuries From Negro, Who Plead Guilty to Burglary and Felony.

Ashtabula, O., Aug. 20.—John Crooms, a negro, is in the Ashtabula county jail at Jefferson, charged with a serious offense. Shortly after midnight yesterday morning it is alleged that he entered the residence of two aged women, who reside alone in East Ashtabula street, Jefferson, and attacked them in a most brutal manner. One of them the assailant attacked with his teeth, lacerating her arm and nearly severing one ear. The women are the Misses Sabrina and Harriet Hotchkiss. Sabrina is 70 years old and Hariet about 76.

One report is to the effect that the fellow was after money.

At noon yesterday Crooms was arraigned and pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary and felony, and was bound over to appear before the grand jury under bonds of $500.

Sabrina was the one bitten and last night it was feared she was internally injured from a blow on the chest.

SOME TRI-STATE EVENTS.

The smallpox epidemic has been wiped out at Marion, O. In all there were about 30 cases and six deaths.

D. Hoy, of Marion, O., a relative of the late Archbishop Corrigan, is co-heir with Nashville (Ind.) people to the millions left by a relative in Ireland, who operated the largest linen factories there.

At Findlay, O., while in apparent good health, Mrs. Rebecca Carr told her children she was going to die soon. A short time later she lay down on a couch and was soon a corpse.

At Springfield, O. Henry Eisenmenger, a well-known citizen, bled to death. For several months he has been suffering from glandular trouble and the glands burst.

J. F. Bash, aged 48, of Roseville near Zanesville, O., died of lockjaw. A week ago Mr. Bash ran a nail into his foot, which resulted in gangrene and finally lockjaw.

The Ohio Fuel Supply company drilled in a 3,000,000 gas well near Lancaster, O. The company is connecting Zanesville with the Licking county field.

Harley Goss was brought to Circleville, O., with one side of his head crushed in and one of his ears missing. He says he fell from a bridge.

At Columbus, O., Mayor Hinkle appointed Clarence Sutphen, E. L. Pocock and G. J. Marriott to investigate the affairs of the city workhouse.

At Springfield, O., the divorce suit brought by Edith Snyder from Charles Snyder, a wealthy farmer, was dismissed at her request.

The local option election at Raymond, near Marysville, O., under the Beal law, resulted in a victory for the "drys" by 315 to 90.

At Circleville, O., Ollie Richards fell from a train. Her skull was fractured and her condition is serious.

Roy Perrine, aged 24, of Orangeville, near Warren, O., was drowned. He fell from a boat.

At Loudonville, O., local capitalists have formed a stock company to build a new hotel at a cost of $20,000.

At Morgantown, W. Va., Thornton Pickenbaugh, aged 65, died of heart disease. He left an estate valued at $300,000. Two children, Mrs. J. L. Roemer, of Chillicothe, O., and J. C. Pickenbaugh, of Morgantown, with his widow, survive him.

William Douglass, who shot and instantly killed William and Fred Johnsen, brothers, at Anderson, is now in the county jail at Fairmont, W. Va. Douglass says he shot in self-defense.

George Callaway, who, it is charged attempted to kill Ike Johnson near Fayetteville, W. Va., was lodged in jail at Fayetteville.

The strike at the Central Glass works, at Wheeling, W. Va., involving 700 employes, was settled. Work will be resumed.

At Greensburg, Pa., W. S. Byers filed his affidavit of defense in the suit of his uncle, Jacob Byers, in the prothonotary's office. The concluding statement of the affidavit contains a general denial of his indebtedness to his uncle in the several items that were set forth by the latter or for any other sum whatever.

Christopher Ennis, of McKeesport the Pittsburg and Western brakeman whose head was severed last Friday night at New Castle, Pa., junction by a shifting engine, was probably murdered, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury. There was a long clean cut on the top of Enis' head and the jury think he was murdered and his body placed on the track to be mutilated.

LOOKED LIKE A NIGHT ATTACK.

Torpedo Flotilla Engaged In Some Sort of Manoeuvres, Ships Apparently Watchful.

Rockport, Mass., Aug. 20.—The torpedo flotilla which yesterday was attached to the fleet commanded by Rear Admiral Higginson executed manoeuvres last night which somewhat resembled an attack under cover of darkness. The fleet did not put out its anchor lights at dark, and the vessels were scarcely discernable from shore all the evening. It was supposed that the fleet was making ready for sail, for an incoming craft reported that the funnels of all the vessels were belching forth smoke, as if fires were being raked up to quick steaming heat. The torpedo boats which had proceeded southward about four miles during the afternoon and anchored off the Gloucester shore also were lost to view at dark.

Just after 10 o'clock last night observers on shore saw a rocket go up far out to sea. Then another went off to the northward, and quickly others went up, seemingly from vessels sailing on an arc. The instant the first rocket was seen all the searchlights of the fleet were turned on and, as if by magic, the vessels were ablaze with lights, where an instant before they were in darkness. The rocket display lasted 20 minutes, and it could be seen that the incoming craft were converging as they neared shore. At midnight the torpedo flotilla came into the bay and anchored near the flagship Kearsarge. Signalling continued for some time among the vessels of the fleet and the searchlights were used for some minutes. After the torpedo boats anchored the fleet resumed its normal night appearance.

MOROS FIGHT MOROS.

THIRTY-FIVE MEN WERE KILLED.

Many Others Wounded—No Americans Concerned In the Trouble—Believed Chaffee Will Increase Force and Issue an Ultimatum.

Manila, Aug. 20.—There were no developments yesterday in the Moro situation on the island of Mindanao. General Chaffee was expected to reach Cebu on the transport Ingalls yesterday morning, but the vessel's arrival at that port had not been reported. It is possible that General Chaffee has decided to shorten his trip to the southern islands and return to Manila direct. An order received from the war department at Washington leaving action in the Moro situation to General Chaffee's discretion has been transmitted to him in the south, but has probably not yet reached him.

It is believed here that General Chaffee will increase the American forces on Mindanao and issue an ultimatum to the hostile Moros. There are at present 27,000 American troops in the Philippine islands, a goodly portion of which could be spared for active service.

Captain John J. Pershing, of the Fifteenth cavalry, who is in command of the American column at Lanao, Mindanao, has reported a fierce Moro inter-tribal fight near Camp Vickers, Mindanao. The contending factions met at Webding. Thirty-five men were killed outright and many others were wounded. No Americans were concerned in the trouble.

R. R. REMINGTON NOT INSANE.

His Business Associates Declare It Impossible—Body Taken to Williamsport, Pa.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20.—Edward D. Remington, brother of Robert Reading Remington, who killed himself at the Newport reading room Monday, arrived from Pittsburg at 7 o'clock last night and two hours later left for the former home of the family at Williamsport, Pa., where his brother's body will be buried. With Mr. Remington were two clerks from his Pittsburg office, who were prepared to take down any statements which were made concerning the death of Robert Remington.

Mr. Remington said he was extremely surprised at what he had read in the papers ascribing the suicide of his brother to mental derangement. The last time he saw his brother, he said, was in April, just prior to the announcement of his engagement to Miss Van Alen, and there was then no evidence of any mental change whatever. On passing through New York yesterday he said he stopped at his brother's office and closely questioned business associates, who all declared that it was impossible that Robert Remington's mind was unbalanced.

Two Other Persons Badly Injured In New York Tenement Fire.

New York, Aug. 20.—Something exploded in a furniture store on the ground floor of the double tenement at No. 35 Essex street yesterday, and before the tenants could escape the building was a mass of flames.

Before the flames were under control, two women and four children had burned to death, and a man and a woman were carried to Gouveneur hospital, suffering painful injuries. Several others were badly burned.

The dead are: Mrs. Annie Bolochin, 32 years old; Mrs. Joseph Knott, Sallie Leibwitz, 8 years old; Louis Leibwitz, 6; Jules Leibwitz, 5; Morris Leibwitz, 3.

The persons seriously injured were Mrs. Rosa Mieses, who was burned about the body and face, and Jacob Muscovitz, who suffered three broken ribs by jumping to the pavement.

The money loss by the fire was $5,000.

"Itching hemorrhoids" were the plague of my life. Was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley Street.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Baptist Social—The ladies of the Baptist church gave a very pleasant ice cream social last evening. It was quite largely attended and greatly enjoyed.

Entertained Friends—Master Carl E. Berg entertained his Sunday school class of the M. P. church and a number of his friends at his home on Jefferson street yesterday from 4 to 7 o'clock. It was a most enjoyable affair.

Met With a Mishap—Miss Ira Deuce, stenographer for the American Tin Plate company, Chester, met with a very painful accident Monday noon on Washington street, spraining her ankle. She will be unable to walk for at least two weeks.

Papers Were Late—Owing to trouble with the machinery the News Review was late in reaching its subscribers last evening. Arrangements are being effected whereby in a few days all patrons will be able to secure their papers even earlier than usual.

No More Packets—There will be no Pittsburg packets, until there is another rise in the Ohio. Wheeling is now the practical head of navigation upon the Ohio. The Queen City could get up no farther than there yesterday. There are less than three feet of water here.

Child's Arm Broken—Olga Bowman, aged five, residing with her parents on May street, while playing about her home last evening, accidentally fell and broke her left arm an inch above the elbow. The child was assisted to her home where her injury was dressed by a physician.

Sirius Club Foot Ball Team — The Sirius club, of this city, will have a foot ball club in the field this fall, and the first steps toward organization have been taken. A meeting was held Monday evening when it was decided to form a club, and at the next meeting a team will be selected.

Resigned Her Position—Miss Mercedes Gladden, who for the past four years has been employed as toll operator at the Bell Telephone exchange, has resigned her position and will go to Connellsville with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Gladden, who will remove to that town soon. The position made vacant by this resignation has been filled by promotion.

Respected in Steubenville—It appears that Al. Bougher, arrested here on the charge of stealing money from Terry Carman, and later released, is very highly thought of in Steubenville. He was formerly in the employ of the Adams Express Company in that city and while with the company handled thousands of dollars and no complaint was ever made.

CROWDS OF DAWSONS

Two Deaths of Expected Visitors Mar the Pleasure of the Rest.

The Dawson family reunion is being held at Rock Springs today. The usual large crowd is expected, and they began to arrive at an early hour. The family and its connections are scattered through the three states, Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, and the officers began to arrange for the business meeting early this morning. The officers are: President, W. F. Dawson, East Liverpool; Vice-President, J. H. Dawson, East Liverpool; Secretary and Treasurer, Harry Boyde, Beaver. It has been customary in former years to hold the business meeting in the forenoon, and after that the remainder of the day is given over to the various amusements provided by the park management.

A death in the family will affect the attendance to some extent. Mrs. George Dawson of Beaver, died at her home in that city yesterday. She was past 60 years of age, and her death was quite sudden. She is mourned by her husband and four children, three daughters and one son, all residing in Beaver. The funeral will be held there tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Dawson was a cousin of Mrs. Senator M. S. Quay.

Another death, which occured at Chillicothe prevented about ten others from attending the reunion. It was that of Mrs. Stella Carothers. She died suddenly last Saturday, and was buried yesterday. She was one of the Dawson connections, and her death prevented quite a number from this part of the state from attending the reunion. Another person absent from the reunion was R. D. Carothers, aged 84 years, and who resides at Marietta. It was expected that he would be present at the gathering today, but this was prevented.

SMALLER CITIES

JUDGE SHAUCK WOULD HAVE THE DIVIDING LINE 5,000.

His Opinoin of the Nash Code Bill And Needed Legislation.

Columbus, August 20.—(Special)—Justice John A. Shauck, of the supreme court of Ohio, in discussing Governor Nash's code, gave it as his judgment that it should be amended, so as to place all municipalities with a population of 5,000 or more in the city class. He regards the code upon the whole as being satisfactory.

"There is no trouble about registration in cities," said he. "Registration laws do not confer corporate powers and there is nothing to prevent the legislature providing that there shall be registration in all cities of 15,000 or more. Were I governor I would advise the legislature to pass the code bill and then provide for the appointment of three non-partisan commissions—one to draft a complete new election law for the state, another to codify and prepare a draft for a school code and a third to take up the question of county officers' salaries and prepare a complete county law for the state."

Clyde Blazier Promises to Provide for His Minor Child Hereafter.

Clyde Blazier was arrested yesterday by Constable Powell on an information made in the court of Justice Rose by his wife, charging him with the non-support of a minor child. Blazier was arrainged, pleaded guilty, and was bound over to court in the sum of $100.

A compromise was effected later, the provisions of which were that Blazier should pay $5 per week toward the support of his child. He also paid the costs.

Quarantine Raised.

For the first time in many months the city is absolutely without contagious disease. Health Officer Burgess reports the last two cases which he had under his direction, and he has them all recovered sufficiently to warrant the raising the quarantine from the houses where families were afflicted. They were Thomas Jackson's, in Grove alley, and Jefferson Green's, in the East End.

Notice to Teachers.

The city board of school examiners will hold an examination in high school room of Central school building East Liverpool, Ohio, Thursday, August 28, 1902. The examination to begin at 8 o'clock, a. m., city time.

GUADALUPE SHRINE

THE MOST DEARLY BELOVED SPOT IN OLD MEXICO.

Thousands From All Over the Country Make Pilgrimages to the Little Village Each Year—The Story That Is Handed Down by Tradition.

There is no spot in all Mexico as dearly beloved as the little town of Guadalupe, which is two and a half miles north of the City of Mexico.

The little village has only 3,000 souls, but many more thousands visit the place on certain days in the year when pilgrimages are made to the holy shrine of Guadalupe.

The 1st of January and the 12th of each month the faithful visit this place and toil up the hill on which it is said that the virgin Guadalupe appeared to Juan Diego, an Indian boy.

According to tradition, Juan was trudging over the hill of Tepeyac on his way to the city on the morning of Dec. 9, 1531, and as he reached the eastern slope of the hill he heard sounds like music. He stopped to listen, and at that moment a cloud appeared and in the midst of it a beautiful lady. She told him to go to the bishop in her name and to tell him that it was her wish that a church should be built on that spot, where she would always be found to give aid to all in trouble. Juan Diego hurried to the bishop with the story of the virgin, but no attention was paid to it. Upon his return home the lady appeared again in the same spot and urged Juan to go again to the bishop.

The following day was the Sabbath, and after mass Juan found the bishop and repeated the message once more. The bishop told him to bring a sign from the virgin. Juan saw the virgin again upon his return home, and she promised to give him a sign, which she did on Dec. 12 as he was going to confession. He passed this time near the foot of the hill, where she appeared once more, and while in conversation with Juan she stamped her foot by way of emphasis, and water flowed at once from the dry, barren hillside, and two holy wells mark that spot today.

The virgin then told Juan to climb to the summit of that barren rocky hill and he would find roses growing there, which he was to gather and carry in his "tilma" to the bishop. Juan did as he was told and found the loveliest roses growing just where she had told him to search for them. He gathered them all and placed them in his "tilma," a sort of blanket.

When he arrived at the house of the bishop and opened the blanket, the roses fell to the floor, and a picture in colors appeared on the blanket representing the virgin as she had appeared to Juan. The bishop fell on his knees in prayer and arose with a promise to build a chapel on the spot the virgin had designated.

That little chapel has since been replaced by the magnificent church to be seen today. There are also two other churches to mark the spot on which the roses were gathered on the summit and at the holy well where the virgin last appeared to Juan. This miracle was recognized in 1663, and in 1754 it was fully sanctioned and confirmed by a papal bull. Later, in 1824, congress decreed Dec. 12 to be a national holiday.

Hidalgo took a picture of Guadalupe for his standard, around which rallied the first army of the revolutionists, and the happy issue that her assistance gave to that war endeared her still more to the people. This picture on the "tilma" is a wonderful piece of work. Artists from all over the world have examined it and have testified that it is of no known style of painting. The Indian garment of ixtli fiber is of a coarse weave. The picture appears on both sides of the cloth and is as bright as new, although said to be over 300 years old. The Church of Nuestra Senora de Guadalupe, in which this marvelous picture hangs, is said by experts to be one of the richest and handsomest on earth today. Its treasures can be counted by millions. It was dedicated May 1, 1709, and is 184 feet long by 122 feet wide. It has a vaulted roof, supported by Corinthian columns. The whole is surmounted by a dome, the lantern of which is 125 feet above the floor. The building cost $1,181,000. The jewels, gold and silver plate and other rich belongings nearly all belong to the government and are estimated at $2,000,000 more.

The church possesses a very costly crown for the virgin. It is of solid gold and weighs many pounds. There are six shields on the crown for the six archbishops of Mexico, and they are all surrounded by diamonds. There are a number of angels, each having an immense ruby on the breast, while the rest of the surface of the crown is covered with sapphires and emeralds. This crown is surmounted by the Mexican eagle, holding aloft a large diamond cross.

The poor pilgrims are not able, many of them, to form an idea of the richness of this church, with its communion rail and balustrades from the sanctuary to the choir of solid silver. They are three feet high, with a top molding a foot wide and a still more massive base. The sacred vessels are all of pure gold embedded with precious stones. The choir has some fine carvings done in ebony and mahogany. The finest is a basso relievo above the stalls, illustrating the litany of the virgin.

Artists were brought from France to paint the frescoes on the walls, and the paintings and statues were the work of the best European artists and sculptors. The organ in itself represents a small fortune.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A HARD HEADED FARMER.

The Way He Held Up a Prince With a Pitchfork.

When Edward VII. of England was an undergraduate at Oxford university, he had an adventure which led a newspaper of that time to describe the prince as a prisoner. It said that "not very far from Oxford, at a place called Steeple Barton, there was a farmer named Hedges, a man of much independence of character, commonly known as 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges.'

"On one occasion the prince and his friends were out with the South Oxfordshire hounds, but, meeting with indifferent sport, they resolved on riding home across country. This they did, galloping over the lands of Farmer Hedges and presently riding into his farmyard. There they were confronted by the farmer himself, armed with a fork. He closed the gates and informed the party bluntly that they had been trespassing on his ground and trampling on his young wheat and that he would not allow one of them to leave his farmyard until he had paid a fine of a sovereign for the damage done.

"They whispered that the prince himself was of the party. 'Prince or no prince,' he replied shortly, 'I'll have my money.' There was little glory to be had by fighting a resolute farmer armed with a fork. They therefore made up their minds to pay, prince and all. When he had the money in his pocket, and not till then, 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges' opened the gates and let them go."—Philadelphia Times.

He Was Dead.

The English papers tell this story of an incident in a revision court:

A certain person who figured on the register was objected to by one of the agents on the ground that he was dead. The revising barrister declined to accept the assurance, however, and demanded conclusive testimony on the point.

Thereupon the agent of the other side rose and gave corroborative evidence as to the decease of the gentleman in question.

"And pray, sir, how do you know the man's dead?" demanded the barrister.

"Well," was the reply, "I don't know. It's very difficult to prove."

"As I suspected," returned the irate barrister. "You don't know whether he's dead or not."

The barrister glanced triumphantly around the court. His expression gradually underwent a change as the witness coolly continued:

"I was saying, sir, that I don't know whether he is dead or not, but I do know this—they buried him about a month ago on suspicion."

Donkeys In Mexico.

There are two classes of donkeys in Mexico—one with four feet and the other with two. Each is a kind of competitor of the other. Sometimes they are partners. They are both bearers of burdens and the subjects of brutality. Everywhere you see the donkey loaded down with sacks of ore, baskets of dirt, cans of milk, sacks of water, and you find his driver very often loaded in the same way. These combinations sometimes go two by two, and sometimes there will be a band of ten to fifty thus loaded, coming down the mountains with ore, charcoal or wood, corn or whatever may be needed in the villages or cities. It is indeed a mediaval life in middle and southern Mexico.

Attention to the Children.

It is pleasant to note that there is one store in town where the children receive proper attention. The Leader store endeavors to give children the same courteous treatment that grown people receive. 196-h

THE WHISTLE WAS SILENT.

Why His New Set of Teeth Didn't Help the Blower.

A small town in Posen, near the Silesian frontier, still keeps that relic of other centuries, the night watchman who calls the hours. One night—the London Telegraph tells this remarkable story—one of these watchmen, an old worthy long in service, failed to blow his whistle when the clock struck the hour.

The burgomaster summoned the delinquent to account for his negligence. After some hesitation he declared that his last tooth had dropped out and that he could not hold in his mouth the official flat tin whistle.

A council was called, and the subject was gravely discussed. Finally one of the members said that he had heard of a dentist at Breslau who supplied artificial teeth. After long debate the council appropriated money to send the aged watchman to Breslau to get a set of new teeth.

In due time the watchman reported that his teeth had arrived. That night the burgomaster sat up to hear the result. To his astonishment there was no whistle at 10, at 11 or at midnight. The next morning he summoned the watchman.

"You have got your teeth," he said indignantly. "Why do you not whistle as before?"

"Yes, I've got a new set of teeth," replied the old man, "but the doctor told me to put them in water at night."
